Contributors are encouraged to take a global perspective and consider the international interaction of European countries from both a Western and non-Western viewpoint, analysing the impact of this interaction on World History in general. Central European History

Published for the Central European History Society

Editor

Andrew I. Port, Wayne State University, USA

Associate Editor (Book Reviews)

Julia Torrie, St. Thomas University, Canada

Central European History offers articles, review essays, and book reviews that range widely through the history of Germany, Austria, and other German-speaking regions of Central Europe from the medieval era to the present. All topics and approaches to history are welcome, whether cultural, social, political, diplomatic, intellectual, economic, and military history, as well as historiography and methodology. Contributions that treat new fields, such as post-1945 and post-1989 history, maturing fields such as gender history, and less-represented fields such as medieval history and the history of the Habsburg lands are especially desired.

Contemporary European History

Editors

Matthew Frank, University of Leeds, UK

N. Piers Ludlow, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK

Jessica Reinisch, Birkbeck, University of London, UK

Dominique Reill, University of Miami, USA

Contemporary European History covers the history of Eastern and Western Europe, including the United Kingdom, from 1918 to the present. By combining a wide geographical compass with a relatively short time span, the journal achieves both range and depth in its coverage. It is open to all forms of historical inquiry - including cultural, economic, international, political and social approaches - and welcomes comparative and transnational analysis. One issue per year explores a broad theme under the guidance of a guest editor. The journal regularly features contributions from scholars outside the Anglophone community and acts as a channel of communication between European historians throughout the continent and beyond it.

GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Authors are also asked to provide brief details of any book they are publishing which includes all or part of a submitted article. Articles should be submitted in two paginated versions as soft copy (preferably by e-mail), one version containing the author's details, the other anonymized as far as possible, in order to facilitate "blind" refereeing. Authors should also include an abstract not exceeding 150 words, specifying the principal conclusion and methods in the context of currently accepted views on the subject. The files should be saved either in a recent version of MSWord for Windows, or in an MSWord compatible format, or as a PDF file. In case of doubt, please contact the editorial staff at: irsh@iisg.nl. Footnote commands should be used to create footnotes. Notes should be confined, as far as possible, to necessary references.

Manuscripts should be in British English (or American English for American authors). In cases where no English text can be provided, authors should always contact the executive editor before submitting an article.
