GETTING STARTED

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN

Books closed. Write films and TV, music and sport on the board and ask students, in pairs, to write down as many famous people as they can for the different categories. Allow two minutes and then stop the class and find out which students have written down the most names. Take feedback as a class and check the names and find out which five names were the most common.

In pairs, students tell their partners about any famous people they have met, giving details about where, when, why and what happened. Take feedback as a class.

- a  Ask students to look at the picture and answer the questions as a class. They will need to speculate, so help with phrases such as: I think they are ... It's possible that they are ... A more advanced group might use: They could be/might be etc. After completing the activity, you may give students the information from the Culture Notes below.

VOCABULARY SUPPORT

selfie – a photograph that you take of yourself, usually with a smartphone

CULTURE NOTES

David Alaba

David Olatkunbo Alaba is an Austrian football player. He is considered to be a very versatile player and has played numerous positions on the pitch over the years. He was voted Austrian Footballer of the Year for six consecutive years from 2011 to 2016. Alaba has spent the majority of his career playing for Bayern Munich. In 2021, he signed for Spanish side Real Madrid.

- b  Read the questions with the class and explain any unfamiliar vocabulary, e.g., role model (someone for young people to admire and copy). Ask students to discuss the questions in pairs or small groups. Circulate and contribute to conversations to encourage discussion. Note any interesting comments to discuss later. Take feedback as a class and ask for answers, ideas and comments from the conversations, and extend the discussions if appropriate.

EXTRA ACTIVITY

Ask students in pairs to role play a meeting with a famous person. Students should each choose a famous person they know a lot about and tell their partners who it is. Then, each student writes down some questions to ask their partner (as the famous person). Students role play the meeting and take turns to be the famous person. Monitor and encourage where necessary. If appropriate, ask some pairs to repeat the role play for the rest of the class.

1A

SHE IS AN INSPIRING WOMAN

At the end of this lesson, students will be able to:

- read and understand texts about inspiring people
- understand the differences between the present simple, present continuous, present perfect and past perfect
- understand a conversation about an influential scientist
- use a lexical set of character adjectives correctly
- talk about an inspirational or influential person

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN

Books closed. Write this gapped adjective on the board: i _ _ _ i _ i _ _. Tell students that this is an adjective that describes someone who makes you feel you want to and can do something good. Make students guess the word, one letter at a time. Ask them to take turns to call out letters and add correct guesses to the word until the full adjective is guessed (inspiring). Ask students for an example using the word, e.g., My uncle is an inspiring person. He does a lot to raise money for charity.

1 READING

- a  Ask students for the names of some people who have been in the news recently, e.g., politicians, celebrities, criminals. Write them on the board and ask the class if they admire these people and why / why not. Discuss what kinds of people the students admire.
- b Ask students to look at pictures a and b of the people in the texts, Swietenia Puspa Lestari and Joan Ganz Cooney. Put students into pairs and ask them to guess what the people might have done to make other people admire them, but don't confirm answers at this point. Take feedback as a class.
- c Ask students to read the texts quickly to check their answers. Tell them not to spend too long reading the texts in detail because they need to find out only what the people have done. Check answers as a class. You may give students the information from the Culture Notes below.

Answers

Swietenia Lestari founded DCA, an organisation with 1,500 volunteers devoted to marine conservation.
Joan Ganz Cooney created the popular children's television programme Sesame Street.

CULTURE NOTES

- Sesame Street is a very popular children's educational TV programme that has been running for over 50 series. It is important because it was the first educational programme for a very young age group. Many young people all round the world from the 1970s onwards watched Sesame Street at some point in their childhoods. The programme helps young children learn letters of the alphabet and numbers.
- Divers Clean Action is a non-governmental organisation that organises programmes to help clear up marine rubbish. Swietenia Puspa Lestari was one of its founders in 2015 and has represented DCA at many international conferences. In 2019, Swietenia was listed in the BBC's Top 100 Women of the year.

- d Tell students to read the texts more carefully this time to decide which person (Swietenia Lestari or Joan Ganz Cooney) the questions are about. Read the questions with the class and check that they understand initially (at the beginning). Individually, students answer the questions. Check answers as a class.

FAST FINISHERS

Ask fast finishers to underline and think about or discuss the meanings of new words they found in the texts. Check these during feedback.

- e  In pairs, students discuss the question. Encourage students to give reasons for their answers. Take feedback as a class.

EXTRA ACTIVITY

In pairs, students discuss the following questions:

– Why do you think the programme Sesame Street was and is so popular?

– Do you think the work that DCA does is important? Why / Why not?

Students share their ideas as a class.

2 GRAMMAR Review of tenses

- a In pairs, students match the verbs in bold with the tenses. Take feedback as a class.

Answers

- 6 present simple
5 past simple
1 present continuous
4 past continuous
2 present perfect
3 past perfect

- b In pairs, students complete the sentences with the correct tenses from 2a. Take feedback as a class.

Answers

- 1 past simple 3 present perfect 5 past continuous
2 present continuous 4 present simple 6 past perfect

- c Students underline examples in the second text individually. Take feedback as a class. You may wish to point out that texts of this kind usually feature a lot of past simple verbs. If students mention was (largely) controlled, were brought or was founded, remind them that these are forms of the passive voice. The verb could is the conditional form.

Possible answers

present simple:	consider, combine, is, they're, think, admire, she isn't past simple:	grew up, brought, realised, could, researched, wrote, presented, rejected, thought, didn't have, questioned, was, didn't want, encouraged, knew, meant, became, went, didn't stop, continued, had present continuous:	it's still going past continuous:	was working
present perfect:	I've always felt, she's won past perfect:	had managed

CAREFUL!

Students often use a simple form instead of the continuous when using the present and past continuous, e.g., Dear Mr Smith, I write this letter to ... (Correct form = Dear Mr Smith, I am writing this letter to ...) or I left the shop when the shop assistant suddenly started shouting. (Correct form = I was leaving the shop when the shop assistant suddenly started shouting.)

Students also tend to use the past simple instead of the present perfect, e.g., I decided to come in the first week of July. (Correct form = I have decided to come in the first week of July.)

LOA TIP CONCEPT CHECKING

Check students have understood the concepts of the different tenses by writing these sentences on the board and asking the questions:

– Sesame Street comes on TV four times a week.

Ask: Is it on TV now? (we don't know)

Is it on TV regularly? (yes)

– Sesame Street's producers are working on a new episode.

Ask: Do they do this every day? (we don't know)

Are they doing it right now? (yes)

– In 1967, Joan spent the summer doing research.

Ask: Is she still doing research? (no)

Do we know when she did the research? (yes)

Has the summer of 1967 finished? (yes)

– At 10:30 yesterday morning, the children were watching Sesame Street.

Ask: Do we know when they watched Sesame Street? (yes)

Did they finish watching it? (we don't know)

– I've bought a new TV.

Ask: Do we know when you bought the TV? (no)

Do you have a new TV now? (yes)

– When I saw the children, I asked them about the TV programme they'd watched.

Ask: Did the children watch the programme before you saw them? (yes)

What do you think she's doing?* Tell students they are going to hear a conversation between two colleagues, Amelia and Chloe. Students need to choose the correct sentences in 1–4. Remind students that it is not important to understand every word in the recording to do the task. Play the recording all the way through. Check answers as a class.

- CHLOE What's that book you're reading?
- AMELIA It's about astronomy – black holes, planets, the big bang ...
- C Hmm, not exactly a light read, but I suppose you like that sort of thing. Me, I like to relax when I read.
- A It's just I read this article online the other day.
- C Uh-huh?
- A It was about this physicist. She discovered these things called pulsars, which are like ... well, they're an incredible kind of star.
- C Uh-huh ... She?
- A Yeah, yeah, her name's Jocelyn Bell-Burnell. She's a respected physicist. Well, that's the thing, that's what got me interested. There aren't many women working in that area.
- C But hang on, she discovered these stars?
- A Yeah, she was a postgraduate student at the time, but the guy who was her supervisor got all the credit.
- C You're kidding?
- A No, he won the Nobel Prize.
- C So who did you say this woman was?
- A Jocelyn Bell-Burnell.
- C But I've never even heard of her.
- A Well, no. That's the point. On this website it talks about ... well, it's got a whole lot of information on people like her ... you know, people who work behind the scenes and don't get the credit or don't become famous. It was really interesting.
- C Yeah, I bet there are a lot of people like that.
- A I mean, she really is an inspiring woman. Even when she was at high school, they weren't going to let her join the science class ...
- C When was this?
- A Back in the fifties.
- C Really? Even in the fifties?
- A Yeah. And then at the end of the year, she came top of her class! And when she was doing her PhD and made her amazing discovery, she had a young child and was having to manage a whole lot of things in her private life, too. I mean, she was really determined, but in a quiet way. And then, when the newspapers wanted to interview her, they didn't want to know about her research, they just asked a lot of stupid questions about her height, her clothes, that sort of thing.
- C That's terrible, isn't it? So, is that a biography of her that you're reading?
- A Well, no, it's just a book about astrophysics.
- C Astrophysics? Just? So, you're going to become ... what? A rocket scientist or something?
- A Well, no ... I don't know. The thing is ... after I read the article, I found an interview with Jocelyn Bell-Burnell online. And she was talking about how even today there still aren't many women who go into science and become scientists.
- C So now you want to go back to university and do a physics degree?
- A Maybe. But, you know, why not? I've always been good at science and I used to really enjoy physics.
- C But are you really prepared to study and put in all that effort?
- A Yeah, I think I am.
- C Well, you've always been motivated, that's for sure. And stubborn ...
- A But I'm still thinking about it ... doing some reading, that kind of thing.
- C Well, actually ... good on you. Why not make a change – take a risk? I admire that.
- A Yeah. Actually that's what she says in the interview: 'Be prepared to take a risk – you'll probably surprise yourself.' And she said something else very simple about women wanting to be scientists: 'Go for it!' And I thought, yeah, why shouldn't I?

VOCABULARY SUPPORT

astronomy (C2) – scientific study of stars and planets

astrophysics – the study of physics and the behaviour of the stars and other objects in space

- b ▶ 01.03 Read the sentences with the class and pre-teach nonfiction (writing that is about real events and facts, rather than stories that have been invented) and the press (newspapers, magazines and those parts of television, radio and the Internet that broadcast news). Character adjectives

- a Ask a student to describe the scientist from the listening task in their own words. Write on the board any character adjectives they use. - 4 Well, you've always been motivated, that's for sure. And stubborn.

The adjectives determined and stubborn have similar meanings, although determined has a positive meaning and stubborn a negative meaning. Determined and motivated are also similar, but determined is usually about staying with something until it is accomplished, and motivated is about having the drive to start something and is often used when someone or something motivates someone. Inspiring and respected are both used as positive qualities for someone who has accomplished a lot and is someone to look up to.

At the end of this lesson, students will be able to:

- read and understand interviews about challenges
- use different question forms correctly
- understand a podcast about a challenge
- use a lexical set of verbs and phrases related to trying and succeeding
- discuss personal challenges

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN

Books closed. Write A CHALLENGE on the board. Put students into pairs, and ask them to come up with a good definition and an example of the word. Give pairs two minutes to complete the task. Check their ideas as a class. Ask students to think of the challenges they find most difficult. Write their ideas on the board. Then ask students if they can think of any ways to deal with the difficulties. Encourage them to think of different ways to deal with the same challenge.

1 SPEAKING AND LISTENING

Answer

Audioscript

INTERVIEWER So Alison, you went to find out about the 30-day challenge. What is it and how does it work?

ALISON Yes, I went to a one-day seminar about it. The basic idea is that, according to psychologists, 30 days is about the time it takes to really develop a new habit because that's how long it takes for our brains to shift to a new direction. So often if we try something new, we give up after about a week or two because our brain hasn't adapted. So, the idea of the 30-day challenge is, you choose something you want to do, like drink less coffee, for example, and you keep going for exactly 30 days.

I So, if you manage to do it for 30 days and you feel good about it, you'll probably keep to it, is that the idea?

A That's right, yes. But the other thing about it is that 30 days isn't a very long time. Thirty days goes past quite quickly anyway. So if you decide to do something completely new – let's say you decide to get up at dawn every day and see the sun rise – maybe you wouldn't want to keep it up for your whole life, but it might be fun to do it for just 30 days. So it's also a chance to try something different, and if you're successful it's great, but if it doesn't work out, it doesn't matter too much.

I I see, so it's not just about giving up bad habits. The idea is really that you try out something new.

A Yes, very much so. There were people at the seminar, for example, who'd written a short poem every day for 30 days, and someone else had tried to eat something new every day for 30 days. So it's a chance to do something you've always wanted to do or maybe something new that you'd never thought of doing.

I It sounds a lot of fun, if you've got time for it.

A Yes, well you can either do something that doesn't really get in the way of your life, like writing a poem, you can do that in your lunch break, it's easy. Or you can take time out and have a go at something you've always wanted to do, like paint a picture or climb mountains or something. Obviously to do something like that you need to make an effort and, of course, you have to give yourself a time limit of 30 days.

- I So, it sounds like you think it's a good idea.
- A I think it's a great idea, yes. I came away convinced!
- I So, are you planning to try the 30-day challenge yourself?
- A Yes, in fact I already am. I decided to put my car keys in a drawer and I'm going to cycle everywhere for 30 days, even if it rains.
- I And how's it going so far?
- A Really well. I'm finding it much easier than I expected.
- I And when did you start?
- A Erm ... this morning.
- I Well, good luck with that, Alison. Now, Alison's only just started, but next up on the Life and Style podcast we're going to talk to a few more people who've been doing the 30-day challenge. They're all about half-way through, and they've done it successfully so far ...

- c  01.09 Ask students how Alison found out about the challenge (at a seminar). Students complete the notes for the 30-day challenge and compare with a partner. Play the recording for students to check answers.

The basic idea is ...

The other thing about it is ...

It's also a chance to ...

So, it's not just about ...

It sounds like ...

I'm finding it ...

Ask students to try to complete the sentences with words from the interview. They can do this in pairs, small groups or as a class. Play the recording again to check, pausing after each answer is given.

- d Ask for an example of one of the challenges mentioned in the recording. Put students into pairs to use words from both boxes to describe the other challenges mentioned. Check answers as a class.

- 3 have a go at learning a new language. / try out a new sport.

- d  Put students into small groups to talk about the points. I kept going and passed my driving test after six months. I'm really glad I carried on now.* Students share their stories with their groups. Monitor and support students with any vocabulary they may need. If students make mistakes using the new vocabulary, encourage self-correction by echo-correcting or rephrasing. Take feedback as a class.

3 READING

- a As a class, read the challenges the three people decided to do and discuss the question. Ask students if they think they would find the challenges easy or difficult and if they've ever tried challenges like these.

- b Students read the interviews to check their answers. Check answers as a class.

Answers

Sofia: She finds it to be really easy.
Carla: She found some things difficult, but it was mostly a lot of fun.
Steve: He thinks it's difficult, but he may try a different language every month.

- c In pairs, students complete the interviews with the missing questions. With a more advanced group, you could elicit ideas for the questions before they look at them in the task. Elicit students' ideas, but don't check answers at this point.

- INTERVIEWER What made you decide to become a vegan Sofia?
- SOFIA Well, for a long time now, I've been trying to eat less meat, partly for health reasons. I think a plant-based diet is better for you.
- I Didn't you ever think of going vegan before?
- S Yes, but I always thought I'd miss meat too much. The idea of going vegan for 30 days was really good, because I could give it a try and then see how I feel.
- I And how do you feel? Are you finding it difficult?
- S No, I feel really good. Actually, I don't miss meat or dairy at all, so I think I'll easily manage the 30 days, and I might try to keep going longer.
- I Carla, why did you decide to draw something every day?
- CARLA Well, I've never been very good at drawing, but I've always thought I'd like to start drawing things around me. It's one of those things that you think about doing, but you never get round to.
- I What have you drawn pictures of so far?
- C All kinds of things. At the beginning, I drew objects around me at home. Then I went out on my lunch break and started drawing things outdoors, like yesterday I drew a duck in the park – that was really difficult!
- I So do you feel like it's been worthwhile?
- C Oh yes, definitely. I'm still not very good at drawing, but it's been a lot of fun, and it's very relaxing.
- I Steve, what language did you decide to learn?
- STEVE Well, I thought I'd choose a language that isn't too different from English, so I decided to try Italian.
- I Isn't it difficult to keep it up?
- S Yes, it is. I've had to be very strict with myself. I'm using a book with online support, so I usually try to cover one lesson a night.
- I And who do you practise with? Or are you just studying alone?
- S Well, there's an Italian restaurant nearby and I'm friends with the owner, so I go there and chat to him. That's another reason I chose Italian.
- I And do you think you'll keep going after the 30 days?
- S Maybe, or I might try a different language every month. I'm thinking of trying Japanese next.

- a Write some general sentences about yourself on the board. Ask students what the question for each of these statements would be. Write the first word of the question on the board. Invite students to the board to complete the questions. Some examples of general statements and opening question words are below.

I haven't had a cup of coffee today. (Have ...)

I ate a chocolate bar for breakfast. (What ...)

My friend in New York emailed me this morning. (Who ...)

I went to a new exhibition with my sister. (Who ...)

Read the rules about questions with the class. In pairs, students find examples for each rule in 3b and 3c. Check answers as a class.

 - 8 When do you think it will be ready?

CAREFUL!

Students often have problems with word order in indirect questions, especially when a wh- question word is used. They often try to use the auxiliary verb as they would in a direct question, e.g., Could you tell me what do you want? (Correct form = Could you tell me what you want?). Remind students that in indirect questions, the second part of the question uses statement word order.

A similar problem is with subject questions. Students often try to include an auxiliary, e.g., Who did write the book? (Correct form = Who wrote the book?)

- e  Put students into pairs. Read the instructions with the class. Students do the role play. Monitor to check the use of questions. Note any common errors to look at during feedback. Encourage self-correction of any slips. Take feedback and ask for examples from the conversations and review any common problems with question forms.

5 SPEAKING

- a  Elicit students' ideas for some different challenges they might do in the next three months. Give an example of your own, e.g., I want to run a half-marathon in two months. Give students a few minutes to write down three challenges each. Elicit which questions students can use when asking their partners about their challenges. Read the examples in the speech bubbles to give additional ideas of how to ask the questions.
- b  In pairs, students interview each other about their challenges. Monitor and note down any interesting points and common mistakes/errors to address afterwards. Take feedback as a class and ask how successful the students think their partners will be. Encourage them to give reasons.

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN

Books closed. Put students into pairs. Ask them to think of part-time jobs that are popular with university or college students. Students then take turns to mime actions from the jobs for their partner to guess. Take feedback as a class, and ask students to name the jobs their partners mimed. Write a list of the jobs mentioned on the board. Ask students if they have ever done any of these jobs and if so, what their experiences were like.

1 LISTENING

- a Ask the class why life can be difficult financially for students today. Put students into pairs to discuss questions 1, 2 and 3. Monitor and help as necessary. Take feedback as a class.
- b Explain that in each unit students will hear/watch part of a video story. Students look at the photo and say what they can see. Ask students to choose who they think the people are. Don't confirm the answer at this point.
- c 01.14 Play Part 1 of the video or the audio recording for students to check the answer.

B Sorry, I can't. I've got to go to work. It's my first day!

T Oh, of course, at your cousin's café. Well, good luck! Oh, by the way, when is that assignment due?

- use appropriate phrases to break off a conversation
- use rapid speech, omitting different sounds

- explain a process they are familiar with

Video/Audioscript (Part 2)

TOM Oh OK ... T OK. Never mind. Well, good luck with your first day at work.

B I'll try not to. Oh, must run. Here comes my bus. No time to talk now. See you tomorrow. Bye.

2 CONVERSATION SKILLS

Breaking off a conversation

- a 01.16 Ask students why people might need to finish a conversation quickly, (for example, they're in a hurry, they notice the time, don't want to talk to the person or they see someone else they need to talk to). Then, ask students how they normally finish a conversation quickly. Take feedback as a class. Play the recording for students to say which word(s) the speaker doesn't use.

Answers

1 I really 2 I 3 I've got 4 I'll

LANGUAGE NOTE

To be polite and not offend anyone, most people put I'm sorry or Sorry in front of the first three expressions.

- b Read through the additional phrases we can use to break off a conversation and elicit the missing words.

Answers

1 I 2 I'll 3 I 4 It was

3 PRONUNCIATION Rapid speech

- a 01.17 Tell students that when we speak quickly, we often join words together. This means not every sound is pronounced. Play the recording for students to identify the missing sounds. Check answers as a class.

Answers

1 mus(t) go
2 mus(t) run
3 go(t) to go
4 can'(t) talk
The consonant sound /t/ is left out.

- b Students work individually to put B's replies in the short conversation in the correct order. Check answers as a class.

Answers

- B It was great. Sorry. Can't talk now. Got to go. (These could be reordered.)
 B Yeah, thanks. Must be off now. See you tomorrow. Bye. (These could be reordered.)

LOA TIP DRILLING

Give students some practice in saying the exchanges in 3b by making them repeat B's phrases rapidly, leaving out the /t/. You read A's part and the class replies as B. Ask them to go a bit faster each time you repeat the conversation. Then put students into pairs. Assign A and B roles. Tell them to practise the exchanges. Then they swap roles. You may wish to change the conversation by giving them new prompts to use:

- How was your lesson / the party / the concert?*
Have a nice afternoon/morning/day.
See you next week / at the weekend / this evening.

- c Students have short conversations in pairs. Read through the task with the class and then ask students to do the role plays. Students then change roles and repeat the conversations. Monitor and check that students are linking words.

FAST FINISHERS

Ask fast finishers to do an additional role play where someone is phoning them and trying to sell something and they need to finish the conversation with an excuse (for example, Caller: I'm phoning to tell you about our new offer ...) (Student: I'm sorry - got to go because ...).

4 LISTENING

- a 01.18 Ask students what they think might be difficult about working in a café and what you might need to learn on your first day. Play Part 3 of the video or audio recording for them to find out if any of their ideas are mentioned and to answer the questions. Check the answer as a class.

Answer

Video/Audioscript (Part 3)

- SAM OK, so what was I showing you? The food. The sandwiches are all here. The most important thing is, don't touch the food. Remember to always use these tongs to pick food up. And what else? Oh, the espresso machine. Uh, the coffee goes in here, the cup there, and you press this button. Is that clear?
BECKY OK, I'll remember that.
S Another thing to remember is the tables - they're all numbered. So it starts with 1 over there and goes round to 15. OK, have you got that?
B Yes, sure. I think I can count to 15!
S Hah - I still get them mixed up myself. Oh, say hello to Phil. He's our most regular customer.
S This is my cousin Becky. She's just started here.

B Me too. I'm going to enjoy it, I'm sure.
E Is my husband looking after you and explaining everything?
B Oh yes, I'm getting the hang of it - slowly.
P She's doing really well.
E And I see you've met Phil. He's going to make the café famous one day, you'll see.

- b 01.18 Read through the questions with the class and play the video or audio recording again for students to answer the questions. Play the recording again to check their answers.

SAM Yeah.
B I'll make a coffee for both of us.
T Sure that's OK?
B Yeah, it's fine. You came at a quiet time.
B So, what was it you wanted to talk to me about tonight?
T Er, the wedding?
B The wedding?
T Yes, our wedding!
B Of course. We need to start thinking about it.

- c Students choose one of the reasons.

Answer

Answers

- 1 Is that clear? 2 Do you understand what I mean?
- 3 Have you got that? 4 Do you get the idea?

- e  01.21 Pronunciation Say the expression Do you understand? in a friendly way and then in an unfriendly way. Elicit that the second way sounds more unfriendly. Play the recording for students to identify the different ways the questions are said. Check answers as a class. Then ask if the voices go up or down at the end to sound friendly.

Answers

 - 4 Do you get the idea? (unfriendly and not so polite)
Do you get the idea? (friendly and polite)
- To sound friendly, the speaker's voice goes up at the end.

- f Model the questions for students to repeat in order to practise sounding polite and friendly.
- g Read through items 1–3 with the class and ask students to work in pairs and imagine what Sam could say about these things. Monitor and give help where necessary. Check ideas as a class. Ask students what Becky could say to show she's understood.

Possible answers

- 1 Always remember to collect the dirty plates and always leave a menu on the table after you've cleaned it. Is that clear?
 - 2 The most important thing is to switch off the coffee machine before you leave. Have you got that?
 - 3 Another thing to remember is to keep any forgotten items in our Lost and Found box, because the customer may come back to look for something they lost. Do you get the idea?
- Becky could respond with, 'OK, I'll remember that. / Sure, I can do that.'

- h  Students practise the conversation in 5g using their own ideas. They take turns to be Sam and Becky. Monitor for correct usage of the pronunciation from this lesson.

6 SPEAKING

- a Tell students they are going to practise the language they have looked at in the lesson. Read through the task and the prompts with the class. Give students some time to think individually about what they are going to talk about. With a weaker class, ask students to suggest some ideas to help.
- b Read through the task with the class. Put students into pairs. Remind them to use language to explain and emphasise important points and check understanding. If necessary, briefly review the phrases and points you have looked at.
- c  Students take turns to explain their process to their partners. Monitor and note any interesting points or common errors. Take feedback as a class. Students report back on their conversations. Go through any common errors related to the language they have learned in this lesson.

FAST FINISHERS

Ask fast finishers to explain another process to their partners. They can then perform the conversation in front of the class with miming gestures.

EXTRA ACTIVITY

Put students into pairs. Ask them to role play the different parts of the video that they have watched or listened to. They should only play the main two characters in each scene. They don't have to remember what happened word for word as long as they get the gist right. This is to summarise the story and indirectly practise new phrases. Monitor, prompt and give encouragement. Nominate a few pairs to perform their conversations for the class.

EXTRA ACTIVITY

Ask students to write Becky's blog entry for her day. They can do this in class or for homework.

SKILLS FOR WRITING

I really missed my phone all day

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN

Books closed. Ask students to write down their favourite gadgets or electronic devices. Ask them to note as many reasons as they can for choosing one as their favourite. They then compare their ideas in pairs. Take feedback as a class and find out which gadget is the most popular and why. Then ask if there are any disadvantages to the gadgets that they chose.

1 SPEAKING AND LISTENING

a Discuss the questions as a class.

EXTRA ACTIVITY

Conduct a mini survey with the class. Read out these questions to the class:

How many times a day do you check your phone?

How many emails do you write a day?

How many calls do you make a day?

How many texts do you send a day?

How often do you check social media sites?

Students write down their answers and compare them with a partner. Take feedback and collate the results to show how often the class as a whole does each activity and who does each activity the most.

b Read the research results, checking any unknown words. Put students into pairs to discuss the questions. Take feedback as a class.

c 01.22 Tell students they are going to hear two people talking about technology. Play the recording for them to answer the questions. Tell students that they are not listening for specific details at this point. Take feedback as a class.

Answers

Gina talks about a mobile phone and has a negative experience.
Derek talks about joining social media and it's a positive experience.

Audioscript

GINA Most people at work think my boss, Michaela, is an inspiring woman who's had an amazing career – we work for a public relations company. She always looks very busy and people find that impressive, but I find her to be a little arrogant, to tell you the truth. The other day, we were having a performance review meeting – she was reviewing me – and in the middle of the meeting her phone rang. She answered the call and just ignored me! When she finished the call, she then spent a long time writing a text message on her phone while I was just sitting there – waiting. When she'd finished, she didn't apologise or anything and just said, 'OK, what were we talking about?' Maybe I'm being too sensitive, but she didn't seem to care about our meeting – or me – and was far more interested in her phone call and message. I really think people should turn off their phones during meetings. I was quite upset, to be honest.

At the end of this lesson, students will be able to:

- talk about attitudes to modern technology
- understand people talking about attitudes to mobile phone use
- understand a text about dependency on technology
- organise an article and use comment adverbs
- write an article about living without technology

DEREK For years, I resisted joining any kind of social media. Don't get me wrong – I'm no technophobe – I use IT all the time. I shop online, I read news online, I do most of my banking online. But social media? It just seemed like a waste of time. You know, people putting all this information about themselves online. I mean, I didn't feel like I needed to see a lot of photos of people I've never met and probably never will meet having a good time. However, my niece Emma really wanted me to join Facebook. She said I was the only one in the family not on it and it's a great way for us to keep in touch. So, she came to my house and showed me how it works and how you can restrict the kind of contact you have. I own a small firm of accountants and she pointed out that joining LinkedIn was a good way for me to network and get more clients. I could see her point. So, in the end I joined both. And she was right. Social media is great for keeping in touch and finding out what's happening. I'm fairly careful about the way I manage it, so my Facebook friends are real friends – people I know in real life – and I don't post much stuff. But we got a really cute puppy and ... well ... I just had to share.

VOCABULARY SUPPORT

ignore (B2) – to pay no attention to someone or something performance review – assessment of an employee's work performance public relations company – a company that helps other companies or organisations with their communication to the public technophobe – someone who dislikes new technology

d 01.22 Play the recording again for students to answer the questions. This time, they will need to listen for details. Take feedback as a class.

Answers

Gina: Michaela is her boss; the experience was negative because Michaela answered her phone and wrote a text message during a performance review meeting and Gina was upset.

Derek: Emma is his niece; the experience was positive because he found that restricted use of social media was useful for business and a good way to stay in touch with family and friends.

EXTRA ACTIVITY

In pairs, students think of some questions they would like to ask Gina and Derek. Then they take turns role playing the conversations. Monitor and note down any points to bring up during group feedback.

e Discuss the questions as a class.

f Read the questions with the class and ask students to note down their answers.

g In pairs, students talk about their experiences. Ask for examples as a class. Encourage students to give details of their experiences.

2 READING

- a Look at the title of the article with the class and ask students what they think it might be about. Students read the article to check their ideas to find out what kind of day Sam had.

Answer

He had some nice surprises.

- b Students read the complete text in detail to decide whether the sentences are true or false.

Answers

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 True | 5 False (He really missed his phone.) |
| 2 False (He had an interesting conversation with a woman about the local park.) | 6 False (He couldn't stop reading and went to bed late.) |
| 3 True | 7 True |
| 4 True | |

- c  Put students in pairs to discuss the questions. Take feedback as a class.

3 WRITING SKILLS Organising an article

- a Tell students that the way we plan and structure an article is very important. Ask students to work in pairs to read and choose the correct summary for the structure of the article. If necessary, elicit the meaning of the word evaluation (the process of deciding what is good or bad about something).

Answer

- b Discuss the question as a class. Ask students whether this is a good way to start an article and why / why not.

Answer

He asks the reader a direct question: Have you ever wondered what it would be like to give up technology?

- c Read the tasks with the class. Individually, students complete the tasks. Check answers as a class. You may wish to point out that afterwards cannot be followed by an object (e.g., Afterwards, I'll show you some museums), but after can (e.g., after breakfast).

Answers

- 1 Paragraph 3: After breakfast,
Paragraph 4: Afterwards,
by this stage
Paragraph 5: Then
2 All in all

- d Remind students that it is important to use a range of language in an article. One way they can do this is by using adverbs. Read the example and explain that inevitably is used by the writer to comment that something was always certain to happen. Ask students to find five more comment adverbs in the article. Point out that these go at the beginning of a clause.

Answers

(Not) surprisingly, Interestingly, Naturally, Predictably, Undoubtedly

- e Students work in pairs to add the adverbs in the box to the sentences. Check answers as a class.

Answers

- 1 Why do some websites ask you to change passwords so often? Surprisingly, after changing the password for my bank, I was asked to change it again just a week later.
2 I usually hate anything to do with technology. Surprisingly / Amazingly, I like using the self-service check-out at my local supermarket.
3 I always expect digital devices to be expensive. Surprisingly / Amazingly, the tablet I bought last week cost very little.
4 I find it very difficult to install new software. Inevitably / Not surprisingly, I've downloaded the new version of a program and now my computer is frozen.

- f Ask students to read the advice and choose which piece is not correct for writing an article. Check the answer as a class.

Answer

- 5 Most articles benefit from personal opinions and examples.

4 WRITING

- a Tell students that they are going to write an article. Read the task as a class and give students a couple of minutes to choose a device and make notes about it. Monitor and help as necessary.

- b  Students discuss their ideas in pairs. Take feedback as a class.

- c Tell students to write their articles. First, students make a plan using the structure given in 3a. Then they write the article using appropriate linking phrases and adverbs to show their opinions. Monitor to give help where necessary.

LOA TIP MONITORING

When monitoring, you may notice students making errors. Rather than giving the correct answer yourself, you should encourage self-correction so that the students remember the point better. Do this by echoing the mistake for the student to correct (repeating the mistake with question intonation) or repeating the sentence and describing the error, e.g., form / word order / preposition.

- d Students work in new pairs and swap articles. Ask students to read and comment on positive aspects of the articles and suggest improvements. Take feedback as a class.

FAST FINISHERS

Fast finishers can write a comment (as on a website article) below their partner's article to give their opinion on the topic.

LOA TIP REVIEW YOUR PROGRESS

Students look back through the unit, think about what they've studied and decide how well they did. Students work on weak areas by using the appropriate sections of the Workbook and the Photocopiable activities.
