

Synoptic Concordance

A Greek Concordance to the First Three Gospels in Synoptic Arrangement, Statistically Evaluated, Including Occurrences in Acts

Edited by Paul Hoffmann, Thomas Hieke, and Ulrich Bauer

In four volumes

VOL.1: Introduction, A - Δ. 1999 • lxxiii + 1,032 pages • Cloth $174.95 • ISBN 3-11-016296-2

VOL.2: E - I and VOL.3: K - O are scheduled for publication in 2000

The Synoptic Concordance is a major new research tool for the analysis of the first three Gospels, providing an extensive mass of data that greatly facilitates literary and linguistic examination.

The advantages of a concordance are combined with those of a synopsis: each occurrence of a word in the synoptic Gospels, along with a section of text that provides its context, is displayed in three columns. The result is that one sees not only the occurrences of a certain word in one Gospel, but also the parallels in the other two Gospels.

Prior to the availability of this new scholarly tool, it was necessary first to check the concordance for the occurrences of a certain word, then to look up each reference individually in a synopsis, and finally to take notes, before moving on to the next entry in the concordance. The Synoptic Concordance presents the whole synoptic situation at one time: all of the differences and similarities are obvious at a glance, so that the first three Gospels can easily be compared according to their divergent terminology and syntax. In terms of the Two Document Hypothesis, one can see, for example, how Matthew or Luke takes over and changes his Markan Source, or how they differ in the redaction of their Q text.

The Synoptic Concordance will be published in four volumes, with a total size of about 5,000 pages. The entire project will be completed by the year 2001. Further information can be found at:
