

Shu-Shin Wang, visiting assistant professor, West Virginia University, Fall, 1982-83.

Eugene Wittkopf, of the University of Florida-Gainesville, will be visiting professor, University of North Carolina, July 1, 1982-June 30, 1983.

Award Recipients

---

APSA Annual Meeting Travel Grant Awards

---

The following foreign graduate students studying political science in the U.S. were awarded travel grants to attend the 1982 Annual Meeting of the APSA. The source of the funds are the United States Information Agency (via the Institute for International Education) and the Asia Foundation.

Institute for International Education Grantees

Idowu Akinyemi, Nigeria, University of Pittsburgh

Abbas M. Baghbadorani, Iran, University of Missouri-Columbia

Kip Cheluget, Kenya, Northern Arizona University

Catherine Durlez, France, University of Oregon

Ghassan E. El-Eid, Lebanon, University of Nebraska

Abdelkader Haireche, Algeria, New York University

Wilberforce Hinjari, Nigeria, University of Pittsburgh

Tahir Iqbal, United Kingdom, University of Pittsburgh

Azzedine Layachi, Algeria, New York University

Folke Lindahl, Sweden, University of Hawaii at Manoa

Sizostris H. Makar, Egypt, New York University

Athanassios Platias, Greece, Cornell University

Alfredo Rehren, Chile, University of Texas at Austin

Eulay Turhan, Turkey, University of Tennessee

Asia Foundation Grantees

Young Sop Ahn, Korea, MIT

Henry T. K. Au, Hong Kong, University of Hawaii at Manoa

Chia-hsiung Chiang, Republic of China, Michigan State University

Ehsan Habib Feroz, Bangladesh, University of Chicago

David Go, Philippines, New York University

Kyoung-Soo Kim, Korea, State University of New York at Albany

Chi-Keung Ko, Hong Kong, University of Chicago

Seo-Hang Lee, Korea, Kent State University

Wai-ming Winnie Luk, Hong Kong, Stanford University

Minoru Tayama, Japan, University of California at Santa Barbara

Tai-Shuenn Yang, Republic of China, Indiana University

---

British Politics Group's

Samuel H. Beer Dissertation Prize and Dissertation Fellowship Award

---

Warren Fishbein has been awarded the Samuel H. Beer Dissertation Prize for his dissertation, "Wage Restraint by Consensus: British Attempts to Mobilize Trade Union Support for Income Policy, 1965-79," written at Massachusetts Institute of Technology under the direction of Suzanne Berger. This prize is awarded by the British Politics Group and is intended to stimulate interest in the study of British politics among graduate students, thereby helping to develop a new generation of scholars in the British field. The prize is awarded each year to the dissertation making the most outstanding contribution to the understanding of British politics, whether that understanding derives from exclusively British research or from a comparative study. The monetary value of the award is L125. Bingham Powell chaired the prize committee. The other members of the prize committee were James Christoph and Kenneth Wald.

Nominations for the 1983 award are now being received. Any dissertation dealing in whole or in part with British politics which was completed during the calendar years 1980, 1981, or 1982 is eligible. Only a supervising professor may nominate a dissertation and each professor is limited to a single nomination. A copy of the nominated dissertation, along with a brief letter of nomination, should be sent to the Executive Secretary of the British Politics Group, 503 Ross Hall, Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa 50011.

Fishbein was the fifth recipient of the Beer Dissertation Prize. The other prize, the Dissertation Fellowship Award, was presented for the first time this year. This award was intended to enable a doctoral candidate who otherwise would be unable to go to Britain for field research to do so.

The winner of the Dissertation Fellowship Award, selected by the committee of Gerald Dorfman, chair, Philip Norton, and Hugh Stephens was William Beatrice Smith. Smith's dissertation, which deals with the attempts to devise a workable governmental structure for Northern Ireland, is being written under the supervision of John Chubb of Stanford University. In keeping with the purpose of enabling a student to travel to Britain, the monetary value of this award was L1000.

---

Council on Foreign Relations International Affairs Fellows

---

The Council on Foreign Relations has announced the appointment of 16 International Affairs Fellows for 1982-83. Now in its seventeenth year, the program offers young foreign policy professionals from the private sector experience in a policy oriented environment within a federal or international agency while government officials, on leave, are placed in a scholarly setting to conduct policy research. The Council, founded in 1921 and headquartered in New York with a Washington, D.C. office, is a private, non-profit, non-partisan research and educational organization and publisher of the journal Foreign Affairs. Four Fellows in the field of political science, their institutional affiliation and base during the fellowship year (where confirmed) are:

Stephen L. Burg, Brandeis University

William M. LeoGrande, American University, United States Senate

John S. Odell, Harvard University and University of Southern California

Arthur A. Stein, University of California at Los Angeles, Department of State

---

National Research Council Minority Group Fellowships

---

Paul B. Akridge of the University of Missouri at St. Louis and Hanes Walton, Jr. of Savannah State College have each been awarded a National Research Council Minority Group Fellowship funded by the Ford Foundation.

---

Russell Sage Foundation Visiting Fellows

---

Four political scientists have been named Russell Sage Visiting Fellows for 1982-83. The Fellows, listed below, are postdoctoral researchers nominated by senior scholars in university or research institutes and selected in a national competition. Nominations for the 1983-84 round must be submitted before December 15, 1982. The 1982-83 Fellows are:

Richard Boyd (government), Wesleyan University. Major changes in the American political and economic system.

Martha Crenshaw (government), Wesleyan University. The causes and effects of political terrorism.

Barbara Farah (political science), University of Michigan. American political convention delegates.

Barbara Nelson (public and international affairs), Princeton University. The role of women as voters and as clients of welfare programs.

---

Other Awards and Honors

---

Robert H. Birkby of the Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University was presented the Madison Sarratt Prize for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching at the spring, 1982, meeting of the Vanderbilt Board of Trust.

Karl W. Deutsch, Stanfield Professor of International Peace, Harvard University, and Director of the International Institute for Comparative Social Research at the Science Center Berlin, was awarded by an international academic jury the Prix de Talloires, jointly with Dr. Ralf Dahrendorf, President of the London School of Economics.

Delmer D. Dunn has been appointed Regent's Chair Professor of Political Science. He returns to full-time teaching and research after resigning as Director of the Institute of Government.

Werner J. Feld has been named Distinguished Professor, University of New Orleans.

John I. Gilderbloom of the University of Wisconsin at Green Bay and Richard P. Appelbaum of the University of California at Santa Barbara have won the 1982 Douglas McGregor Memorial Award of The Journal of Applied Behavioral Science for their paper, "Housing Supply and Regulation: A Study of the Rental Housing Market." The McGregor Memorial Award was established in 1966 to recognize excellence in the application of behavioral science. Articles considered for the award may encompass efforts to effect change in persons, groups, organizations or larger systems and may focus on any of a wide range of change strategies.

Samuel H. Kernell of the University of California, San Diego, was awarded a National Fellowship at the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford for 1982-83. Kernell was also awarded a fellowship at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Stanford.

Helen K. Kerschner and Robert C. Myrtle of the University of Southern California have won the Hubert H. Humphrey Award for the outstanding article in Volume 3 of the Journal of Health and Human Resources Administration. Their article is titled, "The Implementation of Health Systems Plans."

Serving on the Humphrey Award Committee were: James J. Glass, North Texas State University, Chair; Mark Daniels, University of Connecticut; Miriam Erskowitz, Temple University; David Swain, Edward Waters College; and Thomas C. Webster, C.W. Post Center, Long Island University.

(Ed. Note: This award is unrelated to APSA's Hubert H. Humphrey Award, just activated this year.)

David D. Laitin of the University of California, San Diego was awarded a fellowship at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Stanford University.

Paul Akridge has been awarded a National Research Council Minority Group Fellowship.

People in Political Science

David R. Mayhew of Yale University was appointed the Alfred Cowles Professor of Government.

Lars Schoultz of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has been granted a Social Science Research Council Award.

Ian Shapiro was awarded a Charlotte W. Newcombe Fellowship for 1982-83 to work on his doctoral dissertation entitled, "Individual Rights in Modern Political Thought: A Realist Account."

Tinsley E. Yarbrough, professor and chairman of the Department of Political Science at East Carolina University, and the University of Alabama Press are recipients of a Silver Gavel Award in the American Bar Association's twenty-fifth annual competition. The award was presented for publication of Yarbrough's book, Judge Frank Johnson and Human Rights in Alabama. Gavel Awards are presented for outstanding media contributions to public understanding of American law and justice. The 1982 competition attracted 458 entries. Fifteen Silver Gavels, including four for books, were awarded to various media entries.

In Memoriam

Orville Alexander

Orville Alexander, chairman of the Department of Political Science at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale from 1950 to 1969, died on September 18, 1982, in Carbondale at the age of 73. He was with the Department for 38 years before his retirement in 1976.

Combining the teaching profession with public service, Alexander was recognized as an outstanding authority on all aspects of state government. During his career, he served as associate director and then

Robert Birkby has received Vanderbilt University's Madison Sarratt Prize for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching.