

WIND BANDS AND BRASS BANDS

IN SCHOOL AND MUSIC CENTRE

KEVIN THOMPSON

This practical book — the first of its kind — gives helpful advice on how to start a school, college or community band, the choice of instruments, basic organisation, useful seating plans, rehearsal tips, composing and scoring for bands of different sizes.

Additionally, there are innovative approaches to instrumental teaching, new ideas for bringing together classroom and group instrumental activities, and exciting repertoire suggestions.

228 x 152 mm 128 pp. 35 pp. music 4 line diagrams

0 521 25892 8

0 521 27750 7

Hard covers £8.95 net

Paperback £4.50 net

Teachers: if you would like to see an inspection copy of Wind Bands and Brass Bands in School and Music Centre (0 521 27750 7) please complete this form and send it to: Home Sales Department, Cambridge University Press, The Edinburgh Building, Shaftesbury Rd, Cambridge CB2 2RU

Name _____

School _____

Address _____

Post Code _____

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Notes for Contributors

1a. All contributions (3 copies) and correspondence should be sent to either Editor: Professor John Paynter, Department of Music, University of York, Heslington, York YO1 5DD, or Professor Keith Swanwick, Department of Music, University of London Institute of Education, 20 Bedford Way, London WC1H 0AL.

1b. All material for review, and text of reviews, should be sent to the Review Editor, Andrew Pegg, 11B Tregothnan Road, Stockwell, London SW9 1JU. Only one copy of the review need be sent.

2a. Articles should be normally within the range 3,000–10,000 words, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangements with the Editors.

2b. Reviews and surveys will have their lengths prescribed by the Review Editor, at the time of commissioning.

3. Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only (preferably A4 size). All material should be typed double spaced with generous margins. In addition to the three copies submitted (one, in the case of reviews), contributors should keep a further copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.

4. Articles should be accompanied by a summary of approximately 100 words, together with information about the position/s held by the author/s and giving full details of any acknowledgements. In long articles, subheadings are encouraged.

5. All quotations and references should be identified in the text by author and date to link with the full references listed alphabetically at the end of the article. E.g. in the text, bracketed thus: (Self, 1976); in the alphabetical reference list thus: Self, G. 1976. Make a New Sound. London, Universal Edition.

6. The full list of references should be typed, double spaced, on a separate sheet of paper at the end of the article. They must include the names and initials of all the authors cited (arranged in alphabetical order of the authors' surnames) and followed by (in the case of books) the date of publication, the title (underscored), the place of publication and the name of the publisher, or (in the case of articles cited) the date of publication, the full title of the article (not underscored), the name of the journal in which the article appeared (underscored), the volume number, issue number, and page number/s. Reference to an article which appears in a book should be made thus: the author's name, date of publication (in brackets), title of the article (in inverted commas), 'In' followed by author/s name(s) and title of the book (underscored), place of publication and name of publisher. E.g. Pollard, M. (1978). 'Folk Music in junior and middle schools'. In Leach, R. and Palmer, R.,

Folk Music in School. Cambridge, Cambridge University Press.

7. Notes other than bibliographical references should be given only when absolutely essential. These should be referred to in numerical order throughout the text and the number shown as superscript. The notes should then appear on a separate sheet of paper at the end of the article.

8. All necessary illustrations should accompany the typescript but should not be inserted in the text. All photographs, drawings and diagrams should be referred to as "figures" and should be numbered consecutively in the order in which they are referred to in the text. A list of captions should be provided on a separate sheet. Photographs should be well-contrasted prints with glossy finish (preferably 10" x 8"), if possible mounted on thin card. Each should have, lightly written on the back with felt-tipped pen, the author's name and the figure number. Authors to whom first-class photographic facilities are not available are encouraged to send both marked contact prints and the negatives under registered cover. Drawings and diagrams should be done in indian ink on strong paper, white card, or good-quality tracing paper.

9. A cassette tape of 40 minutes maximum duration will be available once a year, normally accompanying every third issue of the British Journal of Music Education. Contributors may wish to avail themselves of this opportunity to present musical examples, even if these refer to articles which have appeared in either of the two previous issues. Recorded material must be submitted in its final edited form (on cassette or open-reel). To facilitate transfer to the published tape, it will be helpful if contributors could ensure that the master tapes are of the highest possible quality. Individual items on the tape should be identified by aural cues which will correspond with a typewritten list. The author's name should be clearly written on each tape and tape box.

10. Proofs of all articles accepted will be sent to authors for correction of typographical errors only. Failure to return proofs within the specified deadline may lead to the Editors sending their own corrected proofs to the printer without further reference to the author.

11. Twenty-five offprints will be supplied free of charge to authors on publication of a paper. These must be shared in case of joint authorship. Additional offprints may be purchased if ordered at proof stage.

12. Authors will be requested to assign their copyright to Cambridge University Press to protect their rights and those of the Journal. Authors are responsible for obtaining any necessary permissions to quote copyright material in their article.

BRITISH JOURNAL OF MUSIC EDUCATION

Volume 2 Number 2, July 1985

CONTENTS

Biographical Notes on Contributors	117
George Pratt: Traditional Harmony Reassessed	119
Bruno Raikin: Towards a Better Understanding of Piano Technique	133
J. Neville: Pop music, Preference and Personality	145
Mercédès Pavlicevic: Music as Therapy: Towards an Integrated Experience	153
Grant Bocking: Opting into Music – A Philosophy for the Upper School	159
Andrew Peggie: The Place of Improvisation in Music Education	167
Malcolm Barry: Improvisation: the State of the Art	171
Eddie Prévoist: Improvisation: Music for an Occasion	177
Lionel Grigson: Harmony + Improvisation = Jazz	187
Anne Dunn: Music Appreciation Students and their Commitment to Music	195

BOOK REVIEWS

© Cambridge University Press 1985

Cambridge University Press

The Pitt Building, Trumpington Street, Cambridge CB2 1RP

32 East 57th Street, New York, NY 10022, USA

10 Stamford Road, Oakleigh, Melbourne 3166, Australia

Printed in Great Britain by the University Press, Cambridge