The Editor, Journal of Asian Studies:

The Doshisha, one of the oldest private institutions of higher learning in Japan, is engaged in editing and publishing all the extant writings of its founder, Joseph Hardy Neesima (1843–1890). This includes all letters, personal and official in both English and Japanese, reports, articles, etc. In as much as he spent the decade from 1864 to 1874 abroad, as well as more than a year in 1884/85, there will be materials in English of which we are not yet aware. Manuscripts and materials will be handled with care and returned promptly. Anyone knowing of such materials, we would greatly appreciate your contacting the undersigned at the address below.

Note from the Editor

Recently, it has come to our attention that a book review by Peter R. Goethals of “The Dusun: A North Borneo Society” by Thomas Rhys Williams in the Journal of Asian Studies, XXVI, 2 (February 1967) pp. 353–354 is identical to the review by Peter R. Goethals of the same book which was published in The Sarawak Museum Journal, Vol. 14 (December 1966) pp. 393–395.

We regret that, at the time, the Editors were not informed that the JAS review, received unsolicited from Dr. Goethals, had already appeared almost verbatim in another journal; in our opinion, this raises the question of whether the merits of the review should not be reassessed by those interested in the subject.
