Following the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991, the Editors took the decision to change the title of the long-established Soviet Studies (published since 1949) to Europe-Asia Studies. It reflected the belief that the countries of the former Soviet and East European area would gradually become more closely linked with both Europe and Asia, whilst continuing to present distinctive topics for research as a result of their specific experience.

Europe-Asia Studies has maintained its reputation as the principal academic journal in the world devoted to the political, economic and social affairs of the former Soviet bloc countries and their history during the Soviet period. At the same time the focus of the journal has diversified to reflect the way in which the transformation of the former Soviet countries' political and economic systems is affecting their relationship with the rest of Europe, and the growing links between what was Soviet Central Asia and other countries in both Europe and Asia. The comparison with the similar transformation taking place in China is a further addition to the general broadening of the field once known as Soviet Studies.

NATIONALITIES PAPERS is the only journal in the world which deals exclusively with all nationalities of the former USSR, and also with national minorities in Eastern and Central European countries. The problems and importance of over 140 million people are treated with the disciplinary and methodological contexts of Post-Soviet and Europe-Asia studies. Of central concern is the fate of the Balts, Ukrainians, Jews and the peoples of Central Asia and the Caucasus. Nationalities Papers is an international and multidisciplinary journal with contributors and readers throughout North America, Western and Eastern Europe, the Far East, Japan and the People's Republic of China. Included in each general issue are in-depth analyses from the historical view, updates on latest developments, some original documents, and book reviews; some issues concentrate on a region or nationality as a special topic, which exclusive focus allows for more extensive and detailed information.

Submission of manuscripts. Authors should send the final, revised version of their articles in both hard copy paper and electronic disk forms. It is essential that the hard copy (paper) version exactly matches the material on disk. Please print out the hard copy from the disk you are sending. Submit three printed copies of the final version with the disk to Dr Nancy M. Wingfield, Nationalities Papers, Department of History, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, IL 60115, USA. Save all files on a standard 3.5 inch high-density disk. We prefer to receive disks in Microsoft Word in a Mac format, but can translate from most other common word-processing programs. Please specify which program you have used. Do not save your files as "text only" or "read only". For further details on Electronic Submission, please visit the Carfax Home Page at: <http://www.carfax.co.uk/nap-ad.htm>
