

Classics in Education Series

RECENT TITLES

JOHN STUART MILL ON EDUCATION

Francis W. Garforth, Editor
1971 236 pp. C $6.95 P $2.95

HENRY BARNARD'S SCHOOL ARCHITECTURE

Jean and Robert McClintock, Editors
1970 338 pp. C $12.95 P $4.95

JEWISH EDUCATION IN THE UNITED STATES

Lloyd P. Gartner, Editor
1970 240 pp. C $6.95 P $2.75

SIR THOMAS ELYOT'S THE BOOK NAMED THE GOVERNOR

John M. Major, Editor
1970 189 pp. C $6.95 P $2.75

TEACHERS COLLEGE PRESS
Teachers College, Columbia University
1234 Amsterdam Avenue New York, N.Y. 10027

THE BURGESS
HISTORY OF WESTERN EDUCATION SERIES

NOBILITY, TRAGEDY, AND NATURALISM
Education in Ancient Greece

edited by J.J. Chambliss, Rutgers University

The initial volume in the series, this book considers the educational contribution of Greek civilization from Homer to Aristotle. Included are selected articles by Werner Jaeger, Giambattista Vico, and H. I. Marrou, in combination with sensitive translations of Pindar, Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, Thucydides, Aristophanes, Plato, Isocrates and Aristotle.

1971; 6 x 9"; ix, 213 pp.; paper bound; $2.95

ENLIGHTENMENT AND SOCIAL PROGRESS
Education in the Nineteenth Century

edited by J.J. Chambliss, Rutgers University

Beginning with Condorcet's final chapter of Sketch for a Historical Picture of the Progress of the Human Mind, this volume organizes around the theme that nineteenth century educational thought can be viewed as both a reaction against and an extension of certain Enlightenment ideas. It is not an effort to "survey" educational thought of the era. Readings are by authors such as Nietzsche, Horace Mann, W.E.B. DuBois, Friedrich Froebel, Francis W. Parker, and others.

1971; 6 x 9"; viii, 198 pp.; paper bound; $2.95

FOR COURT, MANOR, AND CHURCH Education in Medieval Europe

edited by Donna R. Barnes, Hofstra University

This collection of readings, "educational moments," is based on the concept that education is a social process involving adaption to the demands of society and the physical environment. Selections chosen portray instruction institutionalized in convents, monasteries, cathedral schools and universities; instruction provided under contracted tutelage either for knighthood or membership in a craft guild; and informal agricultural instruction provided by peasant families.

1971; 6 x 9"; viii, 210 pp.; paper bound; $2.95

In Preparation

THE REVOLUTION OF REASON AND NATURE
Education in the Eighteenth Century

edited by John Hardin Best, Georgia State University

OTHER HISTORICAL PERIODS TO BE COVERED BY THE SERIES

Ancient Rome	The Seventeenth Century
The Renaissance	The Twentieth Century

For courses dealing with History of Western Education, Philosophy of Education, and Social Foundations of Education.

Order from Department HE or write on your letterhead for a complimentary copy for adoption consideration.

BURGESS PUBLISHING COMPANY
426 South Sixth Street, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55415.

ST. MARTIN'S PRESS

announces

a distinguished contribution to the history of education

A History of Western Education

In 3 Volumes

By JAMES BOWEN

Volume I

THE ANCIENT WORLD
ORIENT AND MEDITERRANEAN

In preparing this landmark study of Western education, Professor Bowen has done extensive field research, seeking out original sources and exploring the original educational sites. Volume I covers the period from 2000 B.C. to A.D. 1054, Volume II the period from the fall of the Roman Empire to the Enlightenment, and Volume III the modern period.

Volume I $15.00 416 pages March, 1972

Tentative Schedule:

Volume II $15.00 January, 1973

Volume III $15.00 January, 1974

For further information or to place orders for Volume I and advance orders for Volumes II and III please write—

ST. MARTIN'S PRESS

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT

175 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10010

AMERICAN EDUCATION

The Colonial Experience,
1607-1783

by
Lawrence A.
Cremin

Harper & Row
49 E. 33rd St., New York 10016
1817

"The first of three volumes of what will, without question, quickly become the standard work on the history of education in this country... remarkable for resourceful and prodigious research, breadth of view, balanced judgment, effective organization, and a richly rewarding synthesis. It is, moreover, clearly and pleasingly written."

—Carl Bridenbaugh, Brown University

"Massive in research, monumental in range, and penetrating in its assessments."

—*Robert Middlekauff,
Journal of American History*

"Unquestionably one of the most important projects of our time, certain to influence American historical scholarship for decades to come."

—Choice (American Library Assn.)

$15.00 at bookstores

HISTORY OF EDUCATION

History of Education is a new half-yearly journal sponsored by the History of Education Society, which was founded in 1967 to promote the study of this subject in all its aspects. It contains original articles on the development of education both in Britain and abroad — schools and colleges, teaching methods, personalities, the politics of education and its philosophy. Some papers are illustrated with plates and drawings, and the journal is concluded with a section of book reviews.

It is edited by Malcolm Seaborne, Principal of Chester College, in conjunction with an editorial board of distinguished scholars, including several corresponding members overseas.

Volume 1 Number 1

January 1972

Contents: The Study of the History of Education, Asa Briggs; 1870: The Rating Option, Norman Morris; Some Forerunners of R H Tawney's Longton Tutorial Class, R A Lowe; The Open Air School Movement in Sheffield, David A Turner; The Rights of Ignorance: Dutch Educational Policy in Belgium 1815-30, Simon Schama. Book reviews. 104 pages plus 4 pages of plates.

Annual subscription $5.00 post free, single copies $2.50

David & Charles . Newton Abbot . Devon . England

AMERICAN EDUCATION

The Colonial Experience,
1607-1783

by
Lawrence A.
Cremin

Harper & Row
49 E. 33rd St., New York 10016

1817

"The first of three volumes of what will, without question, quickly become the standard work on the history of education in this country... remarkable for resourceful and prodigious research, breadth of view, balanced judgment, effective organization, and a richly rewarding synthesis. It is, moreover, clearly and pleasingly written."

—Carl Bridenbaugh, Brown University

"Massive in research, monumental in range, and penetrating in its assessments."

—*Robert Middlekauff,
Journal of American History*

"Unquestionably one of the most important projects of our time, certain to influence American historical scholarship for decades to come."

—Choice (American Library Assn.)

$15.00 at bookstores

HISTORY OF EDUCATION

History of Education is a new half-yearly journal sponsored by the History of Education Society, which was founded in 1967 to promote the study of this subject in all its aspects. It contains original articles on the development of education both in Britain and abroad — schools and colleges, teaching methods, personalities, the politics of education and its philosophy. Some papers are illustrated with plates and drawings, and the journal is concluded with a section of book reviews.

It is edited by Malcolm Seaborne, Principal of Chester College, in conjunction with an editorial board of distinguished scholars, including several corresponding members overseas.

Volume 1 Number 1

January 1972

Contents: The Study of the History of Education, Asa Briggs; 1870: The Rating Option, Norman Morris; Some Forerunners of R H Tawney's Longton Tutorial Class, R A Lowe; The Open Air School Movement in Sheffield, David A Turner; The Rights of Ignorance: Dutch Educational Policy in Belgium 1815-30, Simon Schama. Book reviews. 104 pages plus 4 pages of plates.

Annual subscription $5.00 post free, single copies $2.50

David & Charles . Newton Abbot . Devon . England

SERIES I
AMERICAN EDUCATION:
Its Men, Ideas, and Institutions

"Collectively, these books demand undivided attention to important facets of American education from colonial times to the early twentieth century. Any set that does so renders a distinct service to those whose lot or inclination it is to struggle with America's current educational problems. What we have in American Education is an American bookshelf, 1970, of paramount importance. Thanks to Arno Press's initiative and Lawrence A. Cremin's wide knowledge of the field, a nuclear literature has been placed within reach of readers . . ."

— John Calam, Saturday Review

AMERICAN EDUCATION: Its Men, Ideas, and Institutions

Series I: 115 books

Advisory Editor: Lawrence A. Cremin,
Frederick A. P. Barnard Professor of Education,
Teachers College, Columbia University.

Books in this collection may be purchased individually.
A descriptive brochure is available.

ARNO PRESS
A NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY
330 Madison Avenue
New York, New York 10017

Announcing Series II of
AMERICAN EDUCATION:
Its Men, Ideas, and Institutions
46-Books

Advisory Editor: Lawrence A. Cremin, Frederick A. P. Barnard
Professor of Education, Teachers College, Columbia University.
Sounding many of the themes of Series I, this second series emphasizes a number of new problems and areas within the American educational tradition. Education is viewed broadly, as comprising a host of institutions that deliberately try to shape the destinies of individuals and communities. The education — and miseducation — of minorities is considered, as well as educational theory and private, public, higher, elementary, secondary, professional and liberal education. Virtually the entire span of American educational history is treated in this outstanding series.

Special Supplement to American Education II

THE SOCIAL FRONTIER (FRONTIERS OF DEMOCRACY)

1934-1943 (all published) Volumes 1-10 in 5 vols. An educational journal which even today remains a rich repository of comment on the inextricable tie between any education system and the society that sustains it.

Reprinted as follows:

Arno Volume I — Volumes 1 & 2, Oct. 1934 - June 1936

Arno Volume II — Volumes 3 & 4, Oct. 1936 - July 1938

Arno Volume III — Volumes 5 & 6, Oct. 1938 - May 1940

Arno Volume IV — Volumes 7 & 8, Oct. 1940 - May 1942

Arno Volume V — Volumes 9 & 10, Oct. 1942 - Dec. 1943

ARNO PRESS

A NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY

330 Madison Avenue

New York, New York 10017

BACK ISSUES
HISTORY OF EDUCATION QUARTERLY

The editors of the HISTORY OF EDUCATION QUARTERLY are pleased to announce the availability of all previous issues of the QUARTERLY. As much of the information contained in the QUARTERLY cannot be found elsewhere, these issues will be of great value to all persons interested in the study of the history of education. They may be ordered as either single copies or complete volumes.

Vol. I-IX	$10.00 per volume
	3.00 single copy
Vol. X-XI	$12.50 per volume
	3.50 single copy
Vol. I-XI complete	$114.50

Forthcoming

Murray S. Shereshevsky
History of Education Quarterly Ten Year Index:
Vols. I-IX, 1961-1970

A major research tool that provides the first comprehensive key and guide to the historical material published in this distinguished journal. A must for all those interested in seeking direction to studies, research, and publications bearing upon the history of education.

COMING IN THE SUMMER ISSUE

ARTICLES

Education for the Neglected: Ragged Schools in Nineteenth-Century England, by H. W. Schupf

BIBLIOGRAPHY

Annotated List of Chicago Tribune Editorials on Elementary and Secondary Education in the United States, 1852-1900—Part I, 1852-1880, by Peter P. DeBoer and Robert L. McCaul

ESSAY REVIEWS

Towards a History of Childhood by Philip Stewart

British Influences on Eighteenth Century American Education by David C. Humphrey

Liberal Arts in Republican China by Philip West