

RECTIFICATION

In our notice of Histoire et sociologie du travail féminin on p. 273 of the previous issue we wrote that the author, Mrs Evelyne Sullerot, had not used the work Les fonctions des femmes dans l'industrie by Madeleine Guilbert. As a matter of fact she did use that work, although it is not mentioned in her bibliography but on p. 279 only. Hence our oversight, for which we apologize.

---

 NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Herman D. Bloch is Professor of Economics in St. John's University, Jamaica (N.Y.).

John Salt is Principal Lecturer at Thornbridge Hall College of Education, Ashford-in-the-Water, Bakewell, Derbyshire, and Tutor in the Faculty of the Social Sciences in the University of Sheffield.

Norman McCord, Ph. D., is Lecturer in Modern History in the University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle.

David E. Brewster is currently a research student at Yale University.

Rolf Engelsing, Privatdozent Dr. phil., is wissenschaftlicher Rat at the Institut für Wirtschafts- und Sozialgeschichte der Freien Universität Berlin; Berlin 45, Carstenstrasse 25 d.

D. K. Buse is Teaching Assistant in the Department of History, University of Oregon, Eugene. Cocym 97403