Christ for us Today

Edited by NORMAN PITTENGER

This volume is a collection of papers given at the 1967 Modern Churchmen Conference. The opening sermon, also printed here, was delivered by the Archbishop of Canterbury; the papers which followed were given by the Rev. E. G. Parrinder, the Rev. Eric W. Heaton, Professor Dennis Nineham, the Rev. G. B. Caird, the Rev. M. F. Wiles, Canon F. W. Dillistone, Canon H. W. Montefiore, Professor L. A. Reid, Canon G. W. H. Lampe, the Rev. P. N. Hamilton and Canon Edward Carpenter.

Prayer and Providence

PETER BAE LZ

One way of approaching the theological questions connected with the doctrine of divine providence is to see them in the context of prayers of petition and intercession. What does the believer really expect when he prays for his fellow men?

The questions which arise are all faced by the author, who in answering them is brought to the heart of religious belief, man's dependence upon God and its proper interpretation. And because no account of Christian prayer can be adequate which does not take seriously the Christian hope, he also indicates the way in which Christian life must move to the point of final reconciliation.

Spirituality for Today

Edited by ERIC JAMES

The 1967 Parish and People Conference was held at Bede College, Durham at the end of August. This volume collects together the main papers given at the Conference, whose chairman was the Very Rev. John B. Coburn, Dean of the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass. Miss Mollie Batten writes on 'Spirituality and Living in this World'; the Bishop of Durham on 'Theology Today and Spirituality Today'; Dr Harry Guntrip on 'Psychology and Spirituality'; Dr Charles Boxer, O.P. on 'The Contribution of Monasticism'; Canon Eric James on 'Liturgy and Spirituality for Today'; Colin Alves on 'Spirituality and Personal Growth'; and the Archbishop of Canterbury on 'The Idea of the Holy and the World Today'.

Relations between the Church of England and the Presbyterian Church of England

5s

Two years ago, the Anglican and Presbyterian Churches in England and Scotland were asked to receive a report entitled The Anglican-Presbyterian Conversations. The English panel has now made further progress and presents its report to the Convocations of Canterbury and York and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of England for their consideration.

Anglican-Methodist Unity: 1. The Ordinal

Published jointly with the Epworth Press

4s

A revised form of the Service in Towards Reconciliation, with a commentary.

Anglican-Methodist Unity: 2. The Scheme

Published jointly with the Epworth Press

10s 6d

The final report of the Anglican-Methodist Unity Commission, which the Convocations, Church Assembly, and the Methodist Conference will discuss in 1968 and on which they are to be asked to pronounce in 1969.

A History of the Franciscan Order

from its origins to the year 1517

JOHN MOORMAN

Nobody impressed the Middle Ages as powerfully as St Francis and yet no example was more difficult to follow than his. With the ideal of renunciation and discipline as their guide, the Franciscans found their worldly organisation increasingly a strain on their faith. This account describes the growth of the Order and the work of the friars as preachers, evangelists, poets, missionaries, scholars and mystics. The author is the present Bishop of Ripon. £5 net

Saint Patrick: His Origins and Career

R. P. C. HANSON

The first full-scale study of Patrick against his background to be published in this country for over sixty years. It outlines the history of the Church in fifth-century Britain, analyses the sources for Patrick's life, and argues that his background and training were in Britain and not in Gaul. 30s net

Marcus LOANE

The Hope of Glory

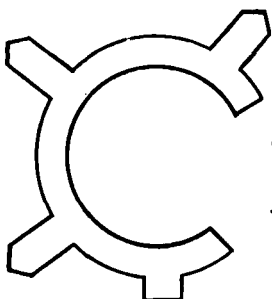

This exposition of the eighth chapter of the Epistle to the Romans, the crowning chapter in the Pauline thesis on the guilt of man and the grace of God is an example of Biblical exegesis and scholarship at its best.

NEW DIRECTIONS IN THEOLOGY TODAY

This challenging new series interprets the new directions in contemporary Christian thought. It looks at the changes which have occurred in theology during the last twenty five years, describes the new trends and indicates their relationship with older movements in theology. The seven volumes are planned to help twentieth century Christians to focus their faith intelligently.

First titles now published

1. Introduction to Theology by William Hordern

An overall presentation of the current theological situation. The book summarizes schools of thought, themes, and specific questions and answers that are now being debated. 28s.

2. History and Hermeneutics by Carl Braaten

Interprets the last decade of theological research and reflection on the relation of Christian faith to history—a struggle to go beyond Barth and Bultmann in stressing the centrality of history for revelation and faith. 28s.

BLACK'S NEW TESTAMENT COMMENTARIES

A Commentary on
The First Epistle to the Corinthians

C. K. BARRETT

Professor Barrett's brilliant discussion of the Epistle and its problems appears in the commentary on his own translation, while his long Introduction describes the situation in Corinth, the authenticity of the Epistle, and its contribution to the development of theology and to knowledge of the primitive church. 45s

A LIBRARY OF MODERN RELIGIOUS THOUGHT

Liberal Protestantism

B. M. G. REARDON

A wide range of extracts from the works of Liberal Protestant theologians of the 19th and early 20th centuries, prefaced by a long introduction in which the author indicates what he believes to be the main characteristics of Liberal Protestantism. 27 June 35s

THE PELICAN GOSPEL COMMENTARIES

The Gospel of St Mark

D. E. NINEHAM

The Gospel of St Luke

G. B. CAIRD

Now made available in hard-cover, enlarged, library editions. 'Each commentary is of a very high standard by itself. Together they are complementary to each other, since they represent so well the two main schools of thought in understanding the Gospels.' EXPOSITORY TIMES St Mark 42s; St Luke 32s

Theological Ethics

VOL I FOUNDATIONS

HELMUT THIELICKE

An abridgement of the first two volumes of Thielicke's massive work which has been called one of the great theological achievements of this century and, by Paul Tillich, a standard work in ethical theology. A feature of the book is the deep and brilliant discussion of specific situations of extreme conflict, model cases presenting problems which are far from hypothetical. 84s
