

---

The Reformation in the Cities

The Appeal of Protestantism to Sixteenth-Century Germany and Switzerland

Steven E. Ozment

By studying both Catholic and Protestant popular religious literature of the time and tracing the institutional consequences of Protestant ideas, Mr. Ozment demonstrates that the startling success of the Reformation was due largely to the promise it held of psychological and social freedom. $12.50

The Jansenists and the Expulsion of the Jesuits from France, 1757-1765

Dale Van Kley

The expulsion of the Jesuits from France between 1761 and 1765 was brought about by the determined efforts of a small group of Jansenists. How they achieved this objective, exploiting Gallican rhetoric and anti-Jesuit feeling aroused by the La Valette scandal, is the main subject of this book. $15.00

Wordsworth's "Natural Methodism"

Richard E. Brantley

"A full-scale, complete, thoroughly researched, clearly written account of Wordsworth's relation to the major Protestant tradition in British history."—Harold Bloom $10.95

Yale Yale University Press New Haven and London

---

---

The Evangelicals: What They Believe,
Who They Are,
Where They Are Changing
Edited by David F. Wells and John D. Woodbridge

Evangelicals is a word that inspires many reactions. Who are they? How do they relate to today's issues, and how seriously should we take them? Here is a collection of essays that answer these and many more questions on the controversial subject of the gospel. A superb study of their beliefs! Contributors include Sydney E. Ahlstrom, Martin E. Marty, Rodney L. Petersen, and eleven others. $8.95

Leslie Weatherhead: A Personal Portrait
by A. Kingsley Weatherhead

The inspiring biography of one of the outstanding preachers of the twentieth century—the beloved British clergyman and writer, Leslie Weatherhead. A man who lived his convictions, spoke his mind on national matters and yet had great compassion for others. Written by his son who matches devotion with humor and objectivity. $7.95

New from abingdon
at your local bookstore

---

Luther and the False Brethren

Mark U. Edwards, Jr. From 1522 to his death, Luther clashed with a number of major evangelical opponents over relatively minor matters of doctrine and ritual. This study describes and explains his harsh response to what he saw as a series of Satan-inspired challenges to his authority. It traces his contest with Karlstadt, his involvement in the Peasants' War, his disputes with Zwingli and others over the Lord's Supper, his reconciliation with the Upper Germans in the Wittenberg Concord, his falling out with Agricola over the proper use of the law, and finally his struggle with the Sacramentarians in his last years. $10.00

The Matrimonial Trials of Henry VIII

Henry Ansgar Kelly. What were the King's grounds for attempting to put aside his marriage to Catherine of Aragon? Were they simply flimsy excuses to gratify his passion for Anne Boleyn? Or had he substantial reason to believe that he had been living in sin for two decades? Making use of hitherto unknown or unexploited documentary evidence, this work forces substantial alterations in the traditional accounts not only of his first marriage and annulment, but also of the later ones, for the religious and legal principles involved were anything but flimsy and remained for Henry matters of lasting concern. October. About $12.50

STANFORD

1925-1975—Fifty years of scholarly publishing