International & Comparative Law Quarterly

Published for the British Institute of International and Comparative Law (BIICL)

Editors

Malcolm Evans, University of Bristol, UK

Robert McCorquodale, British Institute of International and Comparative Law, UK

International & Comparative Law Quarterly (ICLQ) publishes papers on public and private international law and also comparative law. It has maintained its pre-eminence as one of the earliest and most important journals of its kind, encompassing human rights and European law. The journal encourages innovative and original articles that explore the interconnectedness between the legal subject areas, moving across the boundaries that divide the law in a way that provides vital analysis at a time when formal distinctions, in scholarship and between jurisdictions, are becoming less relevant. The ICLQ attracts scholarship of the highest standard from around the world, which contributes to the maintenance of its truly international frame of reference. The 'Shorter Articles, Comments, and Notes' and 'Current Developments' sections particularly enable the discussion of highly topical legal issues.

Legal Theory

Editors

Matthew D. Adler, University of Pennsylvania Law School, USA

Larry Alexander, University of San Diego Law School, USA

David O. Brink, University of California, San Diego, USA

Scott J. Shapiro, Yale Law School, USA

Legal Theory draws contributions not only from academic law, but from a wide range of related disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, including philosophy, political science, economics, history and sociology. Topics covered fall mainly into the broad categories of analytical and normative jurisprudence, doctrinal theory, policy analyses of legal doctrines and critical theories of law.

The Cambridge Law Journal

Editor

John Bell University of Cambridge, UK

The Cambridge Law Journal publishes articles on all aspects of law. Special emphasis is placed on contemporary developments, but the journal's range includes jurisprudence and legal history. An important feature of the journal is the Case and Comment section, in which members of the Cambridge Law Faculty and other distinguished contributors analyse recent judicial decisions, new legislation and current law reform proposals. The articles and case notes are designed to have the widest appeal to those interested in the law – whether as practitioners, students, teachers, judges or administrators – and to provide an opportunity for them to keep abreast of new ideas and the progress of legal reform. Each issue also contains an extensive section of book reviews.

Yearbook of International Humanitarian Law

Marketed and distributed for T.M.C Asser Press

Managing Editor

Louise Arimatsu, University College London, UK

General Editor

Michael N. Schmitt, Durham University, UK

The Yearbook of International Humanitarian Law provides a truly international forum for high-quality, peer-reviewed articles, commentaries on current developments, reports on state practice, and documentation that have international humanitarian law as their focal point. All aspects of international law applicable during international and non-international armed conflicts are covered, in addition to interesting and significant developments in related fields, such as international peace and security, international criminal law, human rights law, disarmament law and refugee law, inter alia. Distinguished by its topicality and contemporary relevance, the Yearbook bridges the gap between theory and practice and serves as a useful reference tool for scholars, practitioners, military personnel, civil servants, diplomats, human rights workers and students.

World Trade Review

Editor

L. Alan Winters, University of Sussex, UK

The World Trade Review was established at the initiative of the Secretariat of the World Trade Organization (WTO) in close cooperation with Cambridge University Press. It is an independent journal - the Editor and all but one member of the Editorial Board are drawn from university faculties - that includes articles written from economic, legal, political and inter-disciplinary perspectives on issues of relevance to the multilateral trading system. Priority is given to papers that, along with being academically rigorous, are also accessible to government policy officials and the wider public. The journal also includes shorter articles seeking to rebut or challenge published papers.

Leiden Journal of International Law

Instructions for contributors

EDITORIAL POLICY

Leiden Journal of International Law is firmly established as one of Europe's leading journals in the field. It provides a forum for two vital areas, namely international legal theory and international dispute settlement. It is unique in providing the most comprehensive coverage of the world's most important international tribunals in The Hague and elsewhere (such as the ICJ, ICTY, ICC and others), as well as examining new trends in international legal thinking. LJIL is essential reading for academics and practitioners who need to stay abreast of recent developments.

Only articles which fall within the scope of the journal will be considered for publication.

SUBMISSIONS

Articles in good English to be considered for publication should be submitted online at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ljil>. More information can be found at the editors' website www.grotiuscentre.org (under LJIL)

Submission of a paper will be taken to imply that neither the article as a whole, nor any substantial part of it, has been published previously nor is it being considered for publication elsewhere. Upon acceptance of a paper, the authors will be asked to assign copyright to the Foundation of the Leiden Journal of International Law.

Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any materials, including photographs and illustrations for which they do not hold copyright, and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in the manuscript.

All contributions to LJIL are peer-reviewed.

MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

The Editors recommend the following word counts for the journal's sections: Articles up to 10,000 words; Hague International Tribunals and Current Legal Developments up to 8,000 words; Book Review Essays up to 5,000; and Book Reviews up to 1,500 words.

PROCEDURES

After receipt, the contribution will be sent for peer review. If the article is considered eligible for publication, any revisions deemed necessary will be sent to the author. The author will be given three weeks to make the necessary changes.

TEXT CONVENTIONS

Copy-editing can be a lengthy and complex business, so it is essential that contributors observe the LJIL's text conventions closely. Typescripts which do not may be returned for amendment.

Contributions should refer to the LJIL's rules of citation and points of style, which can be found at http://assets.cambridge.org/LJL/ljl_ifc.pdf

PROOFS

Proofs may be expected about three months before publication. Only essential typographical or factual errors may be changed at proof stage. Resist the temptation to revise or add to the text. The publisher reserves the right to charge authors for correction of non-typographical errors.

OFFPRINTS

Authors of articles, review essays and book reviews will receive a pdf file of their contribution and a complimentary issue upon publication. Offprints can be purchased if the form is completed and returned to the publisher on receipt of the first proofs.
