

Brand new and centuries old.

In 1674, Oxford published its first almanack, beginning a series of elegant calendars illustrated by the leading artists of their day. This year, in celebration of its 500th anniversary, the Press is issuing a special calendar boasting 13 of the finest Almanack illustrations: four in full color, including a Turner, eight engravings and a reproduction of the original Almanack.

THE JOURNAL OF BRITISH STUDIES

TRINITY COLLEGE

HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

The Journal of British Studies, founded in 1961, is published at Trinity College under the auspices of the Conference on British Studies. It was the result of the imaginative generosity of a Trinity alumnus, Frederick E. Hasler (Hon. LL.D. 1957) who contributed funds to the College for the specific purpose of establishing a learned periodical in the field of British history. Several Trinity alumni subsequently contributed to the fund and Trinity College now supports the publication of the Journal.

The Conference on British Studies is the official organization in the United States and Canada of scholars working in the field of British history and culture; its status as such is recognized by the American Historical Association of which it is an affiliate. Its nearly eight hundred members are drawn from fifty states and five provinces. It convenes twice each year, usually at New York University. The Conference awards a prize every five years for the best first book by an American or Canadian scholar.

The Conference sponsors a considerable publications program. It publishes the Journal of British Studies at Trinity College; the British Studies Intelligencer, a newsletter, at Western Washington State College, Bellingham, Washington; and Archives in British History and Culture, a series devoted to the publication of documents, at West Virginia University, Morgantown; and Current Research in British Studies, a quadrennial survey of research in progress in the United States and Canada, published at Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas and edited at Western Washington State College. The Conference also sponsors a series of short monographs, Studies in British History and Culture, edited at Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio and published by the Shoe-String Press, Hamden, Connecticut. Under the aegis of the Conference, Cambridge University Press publishes a bibliographical and biographical series. Albion, including the proceedings of the Conference in its regional and national meetings, is published four times a year at Appalachian State University, Boone, North Carolina, and is sent to all members of the Conference.

In addition to the Conference on British Studies, there are several affiliates: the Pacific Coast Conference on British Studies, the Pacific Northwest Conference on British Studies, the Midwest Conference on British Studies, the Southern Conference on British Studies, and the New England Conference on British Studies. Each of these vital autonomous groups has its own officers, programs, and other activities. There are also local groups centered in Los Angeles, Detroit, Pittsburgh, and San Francisco.

The Journal of British Studies appears twice in the academic year, in the autumn and in the spring. The annual subscription is $8.00. Checks for subscriptions and enquiries concerning advertising rates should be directed to the Business Manager, British Studies, Box 1315, Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, 06106.

Manuscripts should be sent, with self-addressed return stamped envelope, to the Editor, L. P. Curtis, Jr., Department of History, Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island, 02912. Articles should not exceed 8,000 words of text.

Volume XVII, No. 2 will be published in the spring of 1978.
