

MOUNTIFORT LONGFIELD: IRELAND'S FIRST PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL ECONOMY

by

Laurence S. Moss

". . . Moss has detailed Longfield's theory of income distribution, which is based on a 'market period' supply-demand analysis and a rudimentary marginal productivity theory. Furthermore, it is now clear that Longfield developed a non-Ricardian (perhaps anti-Ricardian?) distribution theory, which is fairly optimistic in outlook. Capitalism works, in Longfield's scheme to the benefit of all classes" (Frank Spreng, Journal of Economic Literature (June 1978).

"This is altogether a most interesting and scholarly book" (Erskine McKinley, History of Political Economy 1977)

"On balance, I would now accept one of Moss's more guarded assertions: 'Longfield's Lectures on Political Economy does contain something approximating a complete non-Ricardian theory of income distribution and not simply a series of modifications of the Ricardian analysis'" Mark Blaug, Economica (1977).

"There is much in this book which will be found of profound interest to historians of economics. In particular there are most fruitful discussions of Longfield's pioneer contributions to the theory of international trade and money, his academic status, the general ideological climate and the consequences flowing therefrom for his work, the relationship between analysis and policy, and (most impressive) the reception of his theory. Students of nineteenth century economic thought are fortunate to have an addition to the literature of this calibre." Samuel Hollander, Canadian Journal of Economics (May 1978).

"Certainly with the publication of Professor Moss' book there is no longer any excuse for Longfield to be a neglected British economist." (Karen Vaughn, Atlantic Economic Journal 1977).

Available $14.95

Green Hill Publishers, Inc.
P.O. Box 738
Ottawa, Illinois 61350
(815)-434-7905

ROBERT H. RUBIN - BOOKS

P.O. Box 558
Stoughton, Massachusetts
02072 USA

CABLE: RUBOOKS TEL.: (617) 344-0740

We specialize in economic literature including both the history of economics and economic history. We deal in books of all periods to about 1950, including rare books, first editions and fine scholarship in original or out of print editions.

We issue a variety of catalogues which are free upon request. It is important that you specify the type of book, periods, etc., that interest you.

We are regular and eager buyers of quality material, whether it be a single item of importance or an entire library - your offers will receive careful and prompt attention.

ROBERT H. RUBIN - BOOKS

Specialist in antiquarian books in the social sciences, especially economics, political and social theory, philosophy, and law.

Catalogues issued - Libraries purchased.