

Anthropology and Archaeology journals from Cambridge

The African Archaeological Review

This annually produced journal provides an authoritative survey of archaeological research and fieldwork in Africa and its neighbouring islands. The emphasis is on new data from the field and studies of wider than regional significance. Beautifully presented and extensively illustrated, the journal makes a unique contribution to its field.

Volume 9, October, 1991: £34 for institutions; £22 for individuals; airmail £5 per year extra ISSN 0263-0338

Ancient Mesoamerica

This important new journal intends to become the international forum for the method, theory, substance and interpretation of Mesoamerican archaeology, art history and ethnohistory. The journal publishes original research, as well as reports on important finds and excavations.

Volume 2, April and October, 1991: £49 for institutions; £24 for individuals; £15 for students; airmail £9.50 per year extra ISSN 0956-5361

RES: Anthropology & Aesthetics

RES is a journal of anthropology and comparative aesthetics dedicated to the study of the object, in particular, cult and belief objects and objects of art. The journal brings together, in an anthropological perspective, contributions by philosophers, art historians and critics, linguists, architects, artists and others. Its field of enquiry is open to all cultures, regions and historical periods.

Volumes 21 & 22, Spring and Autumn, 1991: £34 for UK institutions; £36 for institutions elsewhere; £19 for individuals; airmail £12 per year extra ISSN 0277-1322

The Journal of African History

The leading journal in its field...

The Journal of African History, established in 1960, publishes articles and reviews which range over the African past from the beginnings of food production to the 1960s. In recent years there has been much emphasis on economic history and on African politics in the later colonial period, while the journal has also explored several themes of growing interest to historians of other regions:

- demography · famine · health and hygiene · propaganda · legal ideology · hunting
- the construction of ethnicity · ideas of time · photographs as historical sources
- gender roles · slavery and the slave trade · the interpretation of oral tradition

Subscription Information

The Journal of African History is published three times a year in March, July and November. Volume 32 (1991), UK institutional price is £49.00 per annum; £51 for institutions elsewhere. Airmail is £11.50 extra. ISSN 0021-8537

Contributors should submit two copies of articles, typed double-spaced on one side only of A4 or equivalent paper with good margins. Articles should normally be no more than 10,000 words, but longer articles will be considered. There is also provision for shorter notes of up to 5000 words. In the case of articles (though not shorter notes) an abstract of 100 words should also be supplied.

Submission on disk is encouraged. When submitting a disk please specify file name(s), software and type of computer.

Contributors are urged to aim for clarity of expression with a minimum of jargon.

For matters of style, prospective contributors should use the current issue of the journal as a guide to preferred practice. Detailed guidelines are available from the Editor.

Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to the McDonald Institute for Archaeological Research.

Offprints. Twenty-five free offprints are supplied to authors of published articles, these to be shared between joint authors. Further offprints may be purchased if ordered at proof stage.
