University College Dar es Salaam: The Hans Cory Collection

THE papers of the late Hans Cory, formerly Ethnographer to the Government of Tanganyika, are deposited in the library of University College Dar es Salaam. Dr. Norman H. Miller of Michigan State University, who has been sorting and classifying the papers, has now published an inventory in the African Studies Bulletin of the A.S.A., Boston (vol. ix, no. 2, September 1968, pp. 195–213). The material falls into seven general categories: (1) local government, including native administration, constitution, and reform; (2) agricultural economics and land tenure; (3) magic, religion, secret societies, and related medical practices; (4) arts and crafts; (5) ethnography and tribal history; (6) customary law; (7) language. There are also files of plant samples, drawings, paintings, and song texts. The regional foci of much of the work are on the ethnic groups around Lake Victoria, particularly the Sukuma, Haya, Zinza, Kerewe, and Kuria. The peoples of central and western Tanzania, the Nyamwezi, Gogo, Nyaturu-Rimi, Ha, and Fipa are represented in the collection, and there are some data on the eastern and coastal ethnic groups, particularly the Pare, Luguru, Zaramo, and Sambia. Apart from a few monographs dealing with the Ngoni and Hehe, most ethnic groups of the southern regions of the country are not treated. From the mid 1950s Cory was in charge of a major government project to record and codify the customary law of several ethnic groups, and at the time of his death in 1962 studies of the Sukuma, Nyamwezi, Zinza, Sambia, Haya, Gogo, Nyaturu, and Hangaza had been completed.

'Bollettino della Associazione degli Africanisti Italiani'

THE Association of Italian Africanists was founded in 1967. The President is Carlo Giglio, Professor of the History and Institutions of the Afro-Asian Countries in the University of Pavia. The first number of its bulletin (January–March 1968) sets out the constitution of the association and includes an account of past and future Italian historical studies in Africa and a list of sources for the history of Africa south of the Sahara.

'Études Congolaises'

LA revue Études Congolaises fut éditée de 1961 à 1967 par l'Institut National d'Études Politiques (INEP) de Kinshasa, mais depuis 1968 elle est devenue la revue des sciences humaines de l'Office National de la Recherche et du Développement (B.P. 3119, Kinshasa-Kalina), créée par l'ordonnance du Président de la République en 1967. Actuellement la revue publie, par an, quatre numéros de 150 pages chacun.

Bibliographies from Louvain

Two cyclostyled bibliographies (61 pp. each) have recently been produced by the Institut d'Étude des Pays en Développement of Louvain: 'Problèmes politiques de l'Afrique', by Professor Guy Malengreau, assisted by M. P. Demunter; and 'Théorie générale des Institutions politiques des Pays en Développement', by Professor Guy Malengreau, assisted by MM. A. Lecointre and J. Agreda.

The first lists bibliographies under such headings as Ouvrages généraux sur l'Afrique; l'Afrique politique traditionnelle; l'Afrique coloniale; l'Afrique coloniale en marche vers l'Indépendance; Institutions et Régimes politiques — Administration de l'Afrique indépendante; Vie politique; Relations internationales. The second bibliography deals with Latin America, Asia, and the Middle East as well as Africa. A section is devoted to 'Institutions politiques de l'Afrique', and entries concerning Africa appear under the specific headings of Nationalisme, Systèmes électifs, Partis politiques, Forces politiques et groupes de pression, and Administration.

'Research on Agricultural Development in East Africa', by Peter F. M. McLoughlin

THIS is the third in a series of monographs sponsored by the American Universities Research Program of the Agricultural Development Council. Its purpose is to classify and evaluate research on rural development in East Africa (Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania) and to indicate areas and priorities of future research. While the major focus is on the economics of agricultural development, research in associated fields has also been included. A classified list of the more significant items is in Appendix I, and a list of basic bibliographical sources in Appendix II.

Recent Reprints of Books on Africa

WE have received the following recent reprints from Frank Cass:

The Rise of our East African Empire, by Frederick D. Lugard (two volumes, £15. 15s.). This was first published in 1893; the first volume deals with Nyasaland and Eastern Africa, with chapters on commerce, slave trade, and sport; the second with Uganda, with chapters on administration, past and future, and suggestions for dealing with that country. Both volumes are illustrated with photographs, drawings, and maps.

The Lower Niger and its Tribes, by Major Arthur Glyn Leonard (£5. 5s.). This was first published in 1906 and has a Preface by A. C. Haddon. It is an account of religious beliefs and witchcraft among the Ibibio, Ibo, Ijaw, and Edo peoples, with references to other groups living in the area.

Native Races and their Rulers, by C. L. Temple (75s.). First published in 1918. Reviewed in Africa, October 1968, pp. 480-1, by A. H. M. Kirk-Greene.

The Sultanate of Bornu, by Dr. A. Schultze (84s.). First published in 1913. Reviewed in this issue of Africa, p. 81, by A. H. M. Kirk-Greene.
