3rd Summer Academy on Global Food Law & Policy

25–29 July 2011

Villa La Collina/Accademia Konrad Adenauer
Cadenabbia, Lake Como (Lago di Como), Italy

Following the success of its previous editions, Lexxion, publisher of the European Food and Feed Law Review (EFFL) as well as the European Journal of Risk Regulation (EJRR), organises the Summer Academy for the third time. The academy will offer scientific reflection and discourse on key legal and policy issues in European and world food law as well as information and updates on the latest developments. This will be achieved through a dynamic, informal and highly interactive five-day programme, which includes

- lectures,
- presentations,
- discussion groups and
- social activities (in the evenings) to encourage as much exchange as possible.

The faculty of the academy consists of food experts coming from relevant authorities and institutions, academia, industry and legal practice. The academic director of the summer academy is Alberto Alemanno, Associate Professor of Law at HEC Paris and Editor of EJRR.

The academy will be held from 25 till 29 July 2011 at the historical Villa La Collina offering a most impressive mountain panorama and overlooking beautiful Lake Como.

For further information and the application procedure please visit www.lexxion.eu/conferences.

EUROPEAN
RISK
REGULATION

A JOURNAL AT THE INTERFACE OF SCIENCE AND LAW

As the European Union is increasingly emerging as de facto global regulator of all kinds of rules concerning the environment, human health and safety, risk regulation is becoming a new lens through which to analyse the European integration process. Indeed, today the most important and widespread form of EU regulation in the internal market is concerned with the government of risk to individuals' health and safety.

The European Journal of Risk Regulation (EJRR) provides an innovative forum for informed and scholarly discussion on how these risks are regulated across policy domains in Europe and beyond. While the central focus of the journal is the European law regulating inter alia Chemicals, Nanomaterials, Pharmaceuticals, Food, Cosmetics, Medical Devices, Pollution, Climate Change, and Public Health, discussion extends to other social sciences, such as sociology, political science, risk analysis, economics, cognitive psychology as well as to the physical and life sciences.

EJRR strikes a balance between the interests of the practitioners, notably those increasingly engaged in advice to the industry and in regulatory drafting, and a more theoretical focus, combining normative articles with timely contributions on legislative and judicial developments, new literature and relevant events.
