

Law & Society Review
BASIC STYLE SHEET

All manuscripts should be typed double spaced on one side only. Rejected manuscripts cannot ordinarily be returned. While manuscripts need not conform to this style sheet at the time of submission, all manuscripts must include footnotes and a list of references, and all accepted manuscripts must be revised by the author to conform to the style of the Review. The rules listed below supplement the manuscript information on the inside front cover of the Review. Authors are urged to consult recent issues of this journal for further illustrations. A more detailed style sheet is available from the editorial office.

1. CITATIONS: All notes that consist merely of supporting citations should be placed in parentheses in the text. They should follow the statement they support and be in the following style:

(last name of author, year: page number or numbers to which you refer, if any)

EXAMPLE: . . . the opposition in Paris (Rudé, 1967: 167).

2. FOOTNOTES: All footnotes should be numbered sequentially and placed immediately after the text. They should contain only substantive comments and additional references not immediately relevant to the text.

3. REFERENCES: References are to be placed at the end of the manuscript and double spaced. For more than one publication by the same author, list them in chronological order beginning with the oldest. For more than one publication in one year by the same author, use small letters to distinguish them (e.g., 1970a; 1970b).

a. BOOKS: LAST NAME, First name (year) Title of book.
City: Publisher.

EXAMPLE: ARNOLD, Thurman W. (1935) The Symbols of Government. New York: Harcourt, Brace and World.

b. ARTICLES: LAST NAME, First name (year) "Title of article," volume number Journal initial page of article (month and day only if each issue is separately paginated).

EXAMPLE: STERN, Curt (1970) "The Continuity of Genetics," 99 Daedalus 882.

4. TABLES AND FIGURES: Tables should approximate the appearance of printed tables. Figures should be camera ready. Tables and/or figures should be placed at the end of the text, after footnotes and references. Their location within the text should be indicated as follows:

Table 1 about here

5. ABSTRACTS: All articles should include an abstract of between 50 and 100 words.

Challenging Perspectives on Law

Feminism Unmodified

Discourses on Life and Law

Catharine A. MacKinnon

“Catharine MacKinnon’s discourses in Feminism Unmodified are final evidence, if any were needed, that hers is the most powerful mind and forceful voice now at work in this critical area of law.”

Law and Social Change in Postwar Japan

Frank K. Upham

“In this book, Frank Upham pushes forward the frontiers of knowledge of legal processes in Japan . . . He pierces the myth that Japan is a simple, nonlitigious, consensual society.”

Inside the Jury

*Reid Hastie,
Steven D. Penrod, and Nancy Pennington*

“Offers an incredibly rich and varied collection of findings . . . I know of no other work that has shed as much light on as many different aspects of jury behavior.”

—Contemporary Psychology
$9.95 paper

Real Rape

Susan Estrich

“No one will ever again be able to address the legal problems of rape without taking Susan Estrich’s landmark work into account. It is a model of how to think about a perplexing legal issue without losing track either of logic or of human experience.”

—Laurence Tribe

The Economic Structure of Tort Law

William M. Landes and Richard A. Posner

Written by a lawyer and an economist, this is the first full-length economic study of tort law, and proposes that its rules and doctrines encourage the optimal investment in safety by potential injurers and potential victims.

Arbor, MI 48106, USA

The Journal of Criminal Justice is an international journal intended to fill the present need for the dissemination of new information, ideas and methods, to both practitioners and academicians in the criminal justice area. The journal is concerned with all aspects of the criminal justice system in terms of their relationships to each other. Although materials are presented relating to crime and the individual elements of the criminal justice system, the emphasis of the journal is to tie together the functioning of these elements and to illustrate the effects of their interactions. The journal emphasizes innovation and creative thought of the highest quality.

A TRILOGY OF RICHES IN LAW AND SOCIETY RESEARCH

Quorum Books takes pleasure in announcing the publication of the following three books by Stuart Nagel dealing with the application of social science to understanding and prescribing numerous aspects of law and the legal process:

VOLUME 1: CAUSATION, PREDICTION, AND LEGAL ANALYSIS

The development of methods and substance relevant to explaining what causes variation in the legal process. That includes variation across judges and cases as to sentences, damages, guilt, liability, and other case outcomes. The book covers both causal and predictive analysis. Within each of those two parts, the book covers empirical-statistical and deductive-rational methods. The book also provides many applications of the general principles.

300 Pages. $39.95.

VOLUME 2: LAW, POLICY, AND OPTIMIZING ANALYSIS

The five parts of this book relate to (1) optimum choice analysis whereby one finds the best alternative or combination among legal policy options, (2) optimum risk analysis or decision-making under conditions of risk and uncertainty, (3) optimum level analysis where doing too much or too little is undesirable, (4) optimum mix analysis where one seeks to allocate scarce resources within the legal system, and (5) optimum timing analysis whereby one seeks to save time through more systematic legal processing.

347 Pages. $45.00.

VOLUME 3: MICROCOMPUTERS AS DECISION AIDS IN LAW PRACTICE

How microcomputers can be used to aid in such activities as (1) predicting outcomes of future cases, (2) deciding whether to go to court or accept a settlement, (3) allocating scarce attorney resources especially time, and (4) mediating disputes to arrive at mutually acceptable solutions.

360 Pages. $45.00.

Q To obtain copies of the three-volume set or any of the separate volumes, write to Quorum Books, A Division of Greenwood Press, 88 Post Road West, P.O. Box 5007, Westport, CT. 06881, or have your library do so.
