
NEWS

CALENDAR OF MEETINGS

Special Meetings on Latin America

Lateinamerika-Symposium
St. Gallen, September 11–14, 1968

Sponsoring organization was the Lateinamerikanisches Institut an der Hochschule St. Gallen für

Wirtschafts- und Sozialwissenschaften. Information may be requested from the directors of the institute, J. A. Doerig or R. Moser, 9000 St. Gallen, Varnbühlstrasse 14, West Germany.

Venezuelan Meeting on Agrarian
Law—Mérida
September 13–15, 1968

This meeting was held in preparation for the first World Congress on Agrarian Law, scheduled for August 4–10, 1969 in Mérida. Papers were delivered by Victor M. Giménez Landínez on Derecho agrario y reforma agraria, J. R. Acosta Cazaubon on La dotación de tierras en el derecho agrario venezolano, José Ma. Franco García on La titulación jurídica de la propiedad y la reforma agraria, M. A. Palma Labastida on Contratos agrícolas, aparcería y contratos afines, Griselda Quintero on Contratos agrícolas de estructura laboral en el derecho agrario venezolano, Aura Carmona de Díaz on El financiamiento de los créditos pecuarios y la reforma agraria, R. J. Duque Corredor on La función social en el derecho agrario venezolano, Arturo Parra Manrique on Modalidades del crédito agropecuario en nuestra ley de reforma agraria y su reglamento, Luis González Vale on Historia de la ganadería en Venezuela y Banco de Desarrollo Agropecuario, Luis González Berti on El proceso agrario en Venezuela, Luis Gómez Cermeño on Bases legales de la política nacional de riego, Miguel Angel Hernández on Invasión campesina: implicaciones legales, Alí José Venturini on El derecho de permanencia en el ordenamiento agrario venezolano, and Blancanieva Portocarrero de Guzmán on Síntesis del derecho agrario venezolano. Information is available from José M. Franco, Universidad de los Andes, Mérida, Venezuela.

Seminario de Estudios Afro-Americanos
Havana, October 21–27, 1968

Sponsored by the Instituto de Etnología y Folklore of the Cuban Academy of Sciences, the meeting was organized by Argeliers León. The presence of the African in America and particularly in Cuba was considered in four papers: Algunos aspectos nuevos acerca de la consolidación histórica y la vida económica de los negros de la selva de la Guayana Holandesa by Peter Neumann; La metamorfosis de la negritud en América by René Depestre; Influencia de algunos factores culturales afro-cubanos en nuestros cuadros psiquiátricos by José A. Bustamante; and El Negro, héroe, bufón y persona en la literatura cubana colonial (1608–1896) by José A. Portuondo. Information is available from the organizer, Instituto de Etnología y Folklore, Academia de Ciencias de la República de Cuba, Capitolio Nacional, La Habana, Cuba.

1st International Meeting on Nautical History
Coimbra, October 23–28, 1968

Emphasis was on the navigation of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Papers included: Science in the Iberian Peninsula at the End of the Middle Ages by Guy Beaujouan; The Conditions of Astronomical Navigation at the End of the Fifteenth Century by Emmanuel Poule; Medieval Scientific Instruments and Their Development for Use in Navigation in the XVI Century by Francis Maddison; How Did the Navigator Determine the Speed of his Ship and the Distance Run? by Ernest Crone; The Evolution of the Portuguese Charting Books in the Sixteenth Century by A. Teixeira da Mota; Spanish Navigation Routes in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries by Julio Guillén; The Iberian Bases of the Art of Navigation in England in the XVth Century by David Waters; Portuguese Sailing Vessels and Galleys of the Fifteenth Century by Pimentel Barata; Pizzigano's Chart of 1424 by Armando Cortesão; Nautical Science and the Printer by R. A. Skelton; Contribution of Fifteenth Century Navigation to the Knowledge of Terrestrial Magnetism by Luis de Albuquerque; and The Impact of the Voyages of Discovery on Portuguese Humanist Literature by Reijer Hooykaas. Information may be requested from the conference secretary, Luís de Albuquerque, Edifício de S. Bento, Universidade de Coimbra, Coimbra, Portugal.

Conference on African and African-American Studies
Atlanta, December 5–7, 1968

Special workshops were held on the subjects Afro-Cultures of the Caribbean and Circum-Caribbean, Afro-Cultures of Central and

South America, Afro-Spanish Literature, and African and Caribbean Literature. The conference was co-sponsored by the institutions of the Atlanta University Center: Atlanta University, Clark College, Interdenominational Theological Center, Morehouse College, Morris Brown College, and Spelman College. For details, write Richard A. Long, Council for Afro-American Study, Atlanta University, Atlanta, Georgia 30314.

Conference on Economic History of Latin America—Caracas
January 21–24, 1969

Sponsoring the meeting were the Consejo Latinoamericano de Ciencias Sociales and the Joint Committee on Latin American Studies of the American Council of Learned Societies and the Social Science Research Council. The meeting grew out of the formation of a joint subcommittee of SSRC and CLACSO which is conducting research on obstacles to Latin American economic development in the light of history, directed by Roberto Cortés Conde and Joseph Grunwald. Sessions at the meeting considered the current state of the discipline of economic history in Latin America, the availability of quantitative and related materials, and strategies for future research. It was concluded by the participants that critical bibliographical studies are needed as a first step toward further substantive research; such studies are being planned by Stanley J. Stein and Cortés Conde. In attendance at the meeting were 33 representatives of research centers on Latin America in the United States, Great Britain, Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Mexico, Peru, and Venezuela. Further information is available from Santiago Lebedinsky, Special Assistant to the Executive Secretary, Consejo Latinoamericano de Ciencias Sociales, Florida 142, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Colloquium on Urban Planning and Transportation in Venezuela
Los Angeles, January 22–23, 1969

The UCLA Latin American Center and the School of Architecture and Urban Planning co-sponsored the colloquium, which was organized by the respective directors, Johannes Wilbert and Harvey Perloff. Session topics and presentations included: Technical Problems and the Role of the Technician, with an exposition by Anthony Penfold, Urbanism Division of the Caracas Subway; and Political Problems and the Role of Government, with an exposition by Alfredo Torres-Uribe, Venezuelan Ministry of Public Works. An important resource for the colloquium was the Caracas Comprehensive Urbanism and Transportation Study, presented to UCLA by the Venezuelan Ministry of Public Works. The study, completed in order to locate the lines of the Caracas subway, comprises seven individual projects of research on such topics as land use, zone boundary criteria, public transit external cordon, and building permits. This urban data bank is available at the Latin American Center, University of California, Los Angeles 90024.

Latin American Research Review

Latin American Directors'
Meeting—Lincoln
April 14–15, 1969

Held at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education, the conference was sponsored by the Language and Area Center for Latin America, University of Wisconsin—Milwaukee, the Center of Latin American Studies, University of Kansas, and the Institute for Latin American and International Studies, University of Nebraska; Roberto Esquenazi-Mayo, representing the latter institution, organized the program. Major considerations of the meeting were research facilities in Latin American studies in the Midwestern United States, international exchange programs, and teaching of Latin American subjects in the Midwest. Participants from approximately 30 universities discussed mutual cooperation and the possibilities of sharing resources among the institutes represented. Information may be requested from the program chairman.

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
Conference on Latin America
Milwaukee, April 18–20, 1969

Having as its theme The Relative Applicability of Class and Sectoral Frameworks to the Analysis of Social, Economic and Political Change in Latin America, the conference was attended by 28 Latin Americanists. At the first session, chaired by Richard P. Schaedel, Markos Mamalakis delivered a paper on The Theory of Sectoral Clashes, and comments on the paper and the general theme were presented by Gilbert Merx and Charles Anderson. Chairman of the second session was Charles Anderson; a paper was read by Clark Reynolds on The Mexican Case: A Model of Development, and comments furnished by Miguel Wionczek and John J. Johnson. At the session chaired by Markos Mamalakis, the paper by Gilbert Merx focused on The Argentine Experience and comments were by Bo Anderson, George Dominguez, and James Malloy. Miguel Wionczek chaired the final session featuring a paper by Sidney Greenfield on Careers, Patronage and the Theory of Sectoral Clashes: A Sociological Critique; comments were by Gino Germani, Luciano Barraza, and Manuel Gottlieb. Information may be requested from Mamalakis, Department of Economics, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53211.

Recurring Meetings

14th Annual Conference on Linguistics—New York
March 8–9, 1969

The International Linguistic Association sponsored this meeting which had one paper on Latin America: An Alternative to Dialect Zones in Latin American Spanish by Melvyn C. Resnick, Florida Atlantic University. Information may be requested from the program chairman, Eugenio Chang-Rodríguez, Department of Romance Languages, Queens College, Flushing, New York 11367.

10th Annual Convention of the International Studies Association San Francisco, March 27–29, 1969

Program chairman was Urban Whitaker, Department of International Relations, San Francisco State College, San Francisco, California 94132.

One panel discussion focused on Latin America; the topic was World Views of Latin American Students. Chairman was Julio A. Fernandez, University of Colorado, and panelists were Paul R. Hoopes, Brigham Young University, presenting a paper on Argentina's University Reformist Movement: Contemporary Domestic Impact and International Implications, and Robert O. Myhr, University of Washington, speaking on Political World Views of Brazilian Students. Information is available from the program chairman.

47th Annual Conference of the Teachers of History and Social Studies Iowa City, March 28, 1969

Meeting in conjunction with the Iowa College Teachers of History, the conference was sponsored by the University of Iowa history department, College of Education, Division of Extension and University Services, Graduate College, and Iowa Council for the Social Studies.

At the luncheon session, Richard M. Morse, Yale University, delivered a paper on The Urban Disinherited: The Lesson of Latin America. Information is available from Charles A. Hale, Department of History, University of Iowa, Iowa City 52240.

Meeting of Southwestern Political Science Association Houston, April 3–5, 1969

At the meeting, which was organized by Ronald F. Bunn, certain panel sessions were held in conjunction with the Southwestern Sociological Association and the International Studies Association—Southwest Region.

One panel focused on Local Politics in Latin America and was chaired by Lawrence S. Graham, University of Texas; papers were delivered by Marvin Alisky, Arizona State University, on Power Structure and Decision Making in Nogales, Sonora, Leonard Cardenas, Louisiana State University, on Characteristic Elements of Mexican Local Government, and Roland F. Ebel, Tulane University, on The Decision Making Process in San Salvador. Details are available from Professor Bunn, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, Houston, Texas 77004.

Latin American Research Review

3rd U.S.-Brazil Workshop on the Contribution of Science and Technology to Brazilian Development—Rio de Janeiro
April 7–11, 1969

Cooperating sponsors of the meeting were the U. S. National Academy of Sciences and the Brazilian Conselho Nacional de Pesquisas.

Invited participants were U. S. and Brazilian specialists in a variety of fields. Information is available from Victor Rabinowitch, National Academy of Sciences, 2101 Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C. 20418.

28th Meeting of Society for Applied Anthropology
Mexico City, April 9–15, 1969

Integration in the Americas was the general theme of the meeting. Latin American content sessions were: Medicine and Health (folk and scientific concepts and practices), chaired by Thomas Weaver, University of Pittsburgh, and Hector Garcia Manzanedo, Dirección de Educación Higiénica, Mexico; Minorities and the Larger Society (definitions and process), chaired by Guillermo Bonfil, UNAM, and Edward Dozier, University of Arizona; Community Change and Development, with three sessions, chaired respectively by Angel Palerm, Universidad Iberoamericana, and A. S. Kerr, Canadian Department of Indian Affairs, Alfonso Villa Rojas, Instituto Indigenista Interamericano, and Henry Dobyns, University of Kentucky, and Edward Spicer, University of Arizona, and Agustín Romano, Instituto Nacional Indigenista, Mexico; The Uses of Demography in Medicine and Health, chaired by Otto Van Mering, University of Pittsburgh, and Felipe Montemayor, Instituto Nacional de Antropología e Historia, Mexico; Antillian, Mexican and North American Minorities, chaired by Conrad Arensberg, Columbia University, and Remy Bastien, CINVA, Colombia; Medical Education, chaired by Gonzalo Aguirre Beltrán, III, and Charles G. Oakes, Converse College; Latin American Educational Issues, chaired by Ivan Illich, director of CIDOC, and Hector Sanchez Calderón, INI, Mexico; Regional and National Development (socio-cultural issues), chaired by Fernando Cámara, Museo Nacional de Antropología, Mexico, and Clifford Barnett, Stanford University; Minorities and the Larger Society (theoretical issues), chaired by Lambros Comitas, Columbia University, and Enrique Gonzalez Pedrero, UNAM; Regional and National Development (socio-economic issues), chaired by Victor Urquidi, Colegio de México, and James Silverberg, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee; Promoters of Change, chaired by George Foster, University of California, Berkeley, and Mario C. Vasquez, Peru; Government Policies and Indigenous People, chaired by Alfonso Caso, INI, Mexico, and Derek G. Smith, Canadian Department of Indian Affairs; The Urban Scene, chaired by H. W. Hutchinson, University of Miami, and Luis Leñero Otero, Instituto Mexicano de Estudios Sociales; Regional and National Development (programs and ideology), chaired by Richard P. Schaedel, University of Texas, and Jean Casimir, UNAM; and Integration and Social Change in Peru, chaired by José Matos Mar, Instituto de Estudios Peruanos and Universidad de San Marcos, and William F. Whyte, Cornell University. Special sessions considered the political complexities of overseas research, new technology for applied anthropology, and Ciudad Industrial: A Factory City in Rural Mexico. Information regarding specific paper topics and authors is available from the various session chairmen, or the meeting's organizers, Fernando Cámara B., Museo Nacional de Antropología, Calzada de la Milla, México 5, D. F., Mexico, or Lambros Comitas, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York, N. Y. 10027.

13th Period of Sessions of the Economic Commission for Latin America
Lima, April 14–23, 1969

Major considerations at the organizational meeting were: the development of Latin America and the second United Nations development decade, with discussion focused on the economic and social situation in Latin America and strategy for economic and social development; Latin American trade policy; the Latin American Institute for Economic and Social Planning, with a report on 1967–68 activities and election of new members of the Governing Council; the Latin American Demographic Centre (CELADE); and a report on the activities and programs of work of ECLA. Information and documentation is available from Frances W. de Jackson, head of Documents Section, Comisión Económica para América Latina, Edificio Naciones Unidas, Avenida Dag Hammarskjöld, Casilla 179 D, Santiago, Chile.

Ist Central American Regional Conference of the Society for International Development
Guatemala City, April 17–19, 1969

Social and Political Aspects of Central American Integration was the theme of the meeting. Fifteen working sessions were held on such topics as population growth and its effect on Central American integration, the free movement of peoples in the region, the middle class, rural development, public opinion regarding Central American integration, the role of the church in the formation of the new Central American society, considerations of constitutional and international antecedents to Central American integration, and integration of labor and social security legislation in Central America. Coordinator of the conference, which was sponsored by the Central American affiliates of SID, the Inter-American Development Bank, the Central American Bank of Economic Integration (BCIE), the Bank of Guatemala, and the Guatemalan affiliate of SID, was José Antonio Pérez Calderón, vice president, SID-Guatemala, Apdo. 1336, Guatemala, Guatemala, C. A.

Latin American Research Review

University of Houston 4th Annual Conference on Latin America
Houston, April 17–19, 1969

Contemporary Latin America was the theme of the conference, which was sponsored by the Committee on Latin American Studies.

The following papers were delivered: A Study of the Similarities between the Catholic and Aztec Religions as a Basis for Understanding the Indian Reaction by Sister Miriam Eileen Perricone, Tulane University; Economic Handicap—A Necessary Concomitant of a Physical Handicap? by Gloria E. Shatto, University of Houston (U of H); Land and Power in Latin America: the Strangulation of Rural Development by Luis Ramiro Beltrán, Michigan State University; The Green Revolution in Mexico by Vernon Engberg, U of H; Some Characteristics of the Cultural Elite of Quito Ecuador by Emily M. Nett, Texas Southern University; The Emerging Middle Class in Guatemala by Carlos Monsanto, Sam Houston State College; Latin America's Brain Drain: Suggestions for Policy by Julius Rivera, U of H; The Intellectual and the Peasant: The Gulf in Between by Sam Schulman, U of H; Twentieth Century Exploration of South America by Edward J. Goodman, Xavier University; The Regime of Federico Ponce: The Guatemalan Oligarchy's Attempt to Stem the Tide of Social Reform by Kenneth J. Grieb, Wisconsin State University; Uruguay, the Interrupted Nation by Philip B. Taylor, Jr., Johns Hopkins University; Chaves and El Túnel, Contrasts in Anguish by Raymond D. Souza, University of Kansas; Magical Realism and The Winners of Julio Cortázar by Angel Valbuena Briones, University of Delaware; Malice and Metaphor: Youth's New Slang in Lima by James W. Brown, Ball State University; Rio Grande Spanish—Barrier or Bridge in Inter-American Relations by Francis Kercheville, Texas A & I University; and Las tres adivinanzas (The Three Guesses) by Wesley Childers, Southern State College, Arkansas. Volume III of Contemporary Latin America is to be published, including texts of the papers read at the conference. Information may be requested from the Committee on Latin American Studies, University of Houston, Houston, Texas 77004.

12th Inter-American Congress of Psychology—Montevideo
April 30–May 6, 1969

Program chairman of the congress was Washington L. Risso, Executive Secretary for South America of the Inter-American Society of Psychology. The Sociedad de Psicología del Uruguay cooperated in sponsoring the meeting, which had as its general theme Education, Training and Research in Psychology. Four symposia were held on the topics Nine Years of Development of the Personality of the Mexican Student, New Focuses in Student and Professional Orientations in Latin America, Characteristics and Aspirations of Today's Youth in Uruguay, and The Status of Projective Techniques Used in South America. A full day of papers and meetings were held on subjects in social psychology, and a special round table discussion focused on Interchange of Professors and Students in the Americas: Problems and Solutions. For information write Luiz F. S. Natalicio, Secretary General, Inter-American Society of Psychology, 1801 Lavaca St., Suite 11-E, Austin, Texas 78701.

4th Inter-American Conference of National Association of Partners of the Alliance Salt Lake City, May 10–14, 1969

Cultural entertainment and activities highlighted the meeting, which also featured work sessions for the committees of the Association. Members of the regional federations of Partners met in special sessions. Speaker at the conference banquet was Galo Plaza, Secretary General of the OAS, and keynote address was delivered by Martin Rosen, World Bank. Information may be requested from Royden Derrick, National Association of the Partners of the Alliance, Inc., 1518 K Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20005.

6th Annual Meeting of Inter-American Economic and Social Council Port of Spain, May 14–23, 1969

The Trinidad meeting was at both the ministerial and expert levels; representatives from the 22 member nations of OAS, observers, and special guests were in attendance. Papers and agenda topics, which were published by the Pan American Union prior to the meeting, focused on the general areas of trade, financing, special problems, and IA-ECOSOC institutional matters. Detailed information and publications are available from the Undersecretary for Economic and Social Affairs, Pan American Union, Washington, D. C. 20006.

9th General Assembly of PAIGH Washington, D. C. May 29–June 19, 1969

Held as part of the PAIGH conference were the 11th Pan American Consultation Meeting on Cartography, the 8th on Geography, the 7th on History, and the 2nd Meeting of the Pan American Committee on Geophysical Sciences. Meetings were held by the various committees of PAIGH, on such topics as geodesic surveys, hydrography, aeronautical mapping, urban geography, folklore, conservation of monuments, archives, history of ideas, bibliography, history of the emancipation movement, basic natural resources, geomorphology, anthropology, rural and urban area improvements, and teaching and texts. Information is available from Carlos A. Forray Rojas, Secretario General, Instituto Panamericano de Geografía e Historia, Ex-Arzobispado 29, México 18, D. F., Mexico, or from the U. S. representative to PAIGH, Arthur L. Burt, U. S. Department of State, INR/MP, Washington, D. C.

Latin American Research Review

14th Seminar on the Acquisition of Latin American Library Materials
San Juan, June 17–20, 1969

Co-sponsoring the Seminar were the Caribbean Regional Library of the Caribbean Economic Development Corporation, the University of Puerto Rico—Rio Piedras Campus, and the Pan American Union. Special topic of discussion was acquisition of Latin American scientific and technological materials; other sessions dealt with progress made in the preceding year on booktrade and acquisitions, bibliography, exchange of publications, official publications, photoduplication of Latin American materials, and archives. Information on content of the program and working papers is available from James Andrews, Argonne National Laboratory, 9700 South Cass Avenue, Argonne, Illinois 60439.

Meetings of Regional Associations of Latin American Studies

14th Annual Meeting of Pacific Coast Council on Latin American Studies
Stockton, October 24–26, 1968

Theme of the conference, organized by Larry L. Pippin, was New Bicultural Dimensions on Latin America. Papers included

The Future of Latin American Studies in the United States: Comments of a Veteran on Old Christians, New Christians, Infidels, and Pagans by Lewis Hanke, La Conferencia de UNCTAD en Nueva Delhi by Raúl Prebisch, The Demographic Explosion in Latin America by Paul Ehrlich, Can Latin America Finance Its Own Way? by William K. Wittausch, Problems of Metropolitan Growth in San Salvador and São Paulo by Francis Violich, The Services of the International Housing Institute to Latin America by Harold E. Walker, The Cultures of Mexico's Pacific Coast by Fred Schmid, and Private Enterprise vs. Governments as Recipients of International Public Loans by Arthur R. Beckwith. Participants also considered pre-Columbian Mexico, trends in Cuba, bilingual education, and acculturation of the Mexican-American in the Southwest and California. The May 1969 issue of The Pacific Historian, a special "Hispanic American Issue," was to contain papers and commentary from the meeting. Information is available from Pippin, Elbert Covell College, University of the Pacific, Stockton, California 95204.

16th Annual Meeting of Southeastern Conference on Latin American Studies Gainesville, April 10–12, 1969

The meeting, which had as its general theme Aspects of Latin American Development, featured three major sessions. They were:

1) The U. S. Presence in Latin America, chaired by Andrés Suárez, University of Florida, with papers by Harold A. Bierck, University of North Carolina, on The Impact of Inter-American Trade on the U. S. Economic System to 1815; Harold Isaacs, Georgia Southwestern College, on U. S. Economic Penetration of Mexico, 1880–1884; Wesley P. Newton, Auburn University, on The Desired Blue: The Conflict between the U. S. and Panama over Control of Panama's Sky, 1923–1931; and Eric N. Baklanoff, University of Alabama, on U. S. Investments in an Export Economy: Cuba, 1929–1959; 2) New Lands and Migration, chaired by Martha Hardman de Bautista, University of Florida, featuring papers by Roland E. Chardon, Louisiana State University, on New Lands and Migration: The Examples of Brazil and Mexico; Craig L. Dozier, University of North Carolina, Greensboro, on Peru's Chimbote Project: A Government Effort in Desert Development and Colonization; and Raymond E. Crist, University of Florida, on Aspects of Latin American Migration; and 3) Political Modernization, chaired by John W. Freels, Jr., University of Florida, with papers by David Bushnell, University of Florida, on Tradition and Innovation—The Colombian National Front; James D. Cochrane, Tulane University, on Political Leadership and Modernization: A Portrait of the Frei Cabinet; Roland H. Ebel, Tulane University, on Political Modernization and the Community Decision-Making Process in Guatemala; and John D. Martz, University of North Carolina, on Guerilla Warfare and Violence in Contemporary Latin America. Banquet addresses were delivered by Victor Alba, Kent State University, on Revolutionaries without Revolution, and Charles W. Wagley, Columbia University, on Whatever Hapened to Ariel? Information is available from the program chairman, William E. Carter, Center for Latin American Studies, University of Florida, Gainesville 32601.

Fall Meeting of Wisconsin Council of Latin Americanists
Dubuque, October 10, 1969

Loras College will host this meeting. Write Edward Schuster, Department of Modern Foreign Languages, Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa 52001.

15th Annual Meeting of Pacific Coast Council on Latin American Studies
Fullerton, October 23–25, 1969

Write Dr. David Feldman, Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, California State College at Fullerton, Fullerton, California 92631.

Latin American Research Review

Annual Meeting of Midwest Association of Latin American Studies
Muncie, October 30–31, 1969

Ball State University will host the meeting, which is to have the theme Cultural Change in Brazil. Write Tom L. Martinson, coordinator, International Studies, Ball State University, International House, Muncie, Indiana 47306.

Future Meetings

Argentine-U. S. Science Workshop

Location: Córdoba

Date: July 7–11, 1969

Write Theresa Tellez, head, Latin American Affairs, U. S. National Academy of Sciences, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20418.

16th Conference of the Inter-American Bar Association

Location: Rio de Janeiro

Date: July 7–12, 1969

Write John O. Dahlgren, Acting Secretary General, IABA, 704 Federal Bar Building, 1815 H Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20006.

6th Meeting on Public Health of Argentina

Location: Resistencia

Date: August 1969

Write Jorge Alberto Mera, Secretario General, Asociación Argentina de la Salud Pública, Paraguay 2155, 10º piso, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

1st World Congress on Agrarian Law

Location: Mérida, Venezuela

Date: August 4–10, 1969

Write José M. Franco, Facultad de Derecho, Universidad de los Andes, Mérida, Venezuela.

14th Conference of International Institute of Ibero-American Literature

Location: Toronto

Date: August 24–28, 1969

Official theme of the conference is The Essay and Literary Criticism in Latin America. Write Kurt Levy, president, Instituto Internacional de Literatura Iberoamericana, University of Toronto, Toronto, Canada.

2nd Inter-American Seminar on the Definition of Regions for Development Planning

Location: Santiago

Date: September 8–12, 1969

Write Harold A. Wood, Department of Geography, McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.

7th International Conference on Health and Health Education

Location: Buenos Aires

Date: September 13–20, 1969

Write L. P. Aujoulat, International Union for Health Education, 20 rue Greuze, Paris 16^e, France.

9th Annual Conference of Western History Association

Location: Omaha

Date: October 9–11, 1969

Write John Porter Bloom, Secretary-Treasurer, Western History Association, P. O. Box 6187, Washington, D. C. 20004.

54th Annual Meeting of Association for the Study of Negro Life and History

Location: Birmingham

Date: October 9–12, 1969

Write the program chairman, Walter Fisher, Department of History, Morgan State College, Baltimore, Maryland 21212.

10th Congress of the International Union of Architects

Location: Buenos Aires

Date: October 19–25, 1969

Write the organizing secretariat, Federación Argentina de Sociedades de Arquitectos, Montevideo 942, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

25th General Assembly of Inter-American Press Association

Location: Washington, D. C.

Date: October 24–31, 1969

Write Carlos A. Jimenez, IAPA, 667 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10021.

Annual Meeting of Southern Historical Association

Location: Washington, D. C.

Date: October 30–November 2, 1969

Write Bennett H. Wall, Secretary-Treasurer of SHA, Department of History, Tulane University, New Orleans, Louisiana 70118.

3rd Meeting of Mexican–United States Historians

Location: Oaxtepec, Mexico

Date: November 4–7, 1969

Write the chairmen of the binational organizing committee, Daniel Cosío Villegas, Colegio de México, Guanajuato 125, México, D. F., Mexico, or Stanley Ross, Institute of Latin American Studies, 214 Archway, Austin, Texas 78705.

1969 Annual Meetings of Geological Society of America and Associated Societies

Location: Atlantic City

Date: November 10–12, 1969

Write Geological Society of America, P. O. Box 1719, Colorado Building, Boulder, Colorado 80302.

Newberry Conference on Colonial Brazil

Location: Chicago

Date: November 20–22, 1969

Write Dauril Alden, Department of History, University of Washington, Seattle 98105.

68th Annual Meeting of American Anthropological Association

Location: New Orleans

Date: November 20–23, 1969

Write Ann Fischer, Newcomb College, Tulane University, New Orleans, Louisiana 70118.

Conference on African and African-American Studies

Location: Atlanta

Date: December 4–6, 1969

Write Richard A. Long, director, Conference on African and African-American Studies, Atlanta University, Atlanta, Georgia 30314.

10th Congress of Inter-American Confederation of Catholic Education

Location: Mexico City

Date: December 27, 1969

Write Inter-American Confederation of Catholic Education, Madero 39, México, D. F., Mexico.

INSTITUTIONAL NEWS

Adlai Stevenson Institute of International Affairs Reports

The Adlai Stevenson Institute, founded in 1967, has as its purpose the study of and active participation in the modernization process in developed and undeveloped countries. Special emphasis is given to the human aspects of the process: population growth and food production, transmission of knowledge, acceleration of urbanization and violence, and mobilization of development resources. Each year, Institute fellowships are awarded, generally for a one-year period beginning in September, to persons with substantial experience in major public policy areas, so that they might undertake pilot projects and do research and writing in their specializations. Whatever support is necessary for a Fellow's project implementation, research work, or publication of the research findings, is provided by the Institute. Financial support from the U. S. government agencies is neither solicited nor accepted for Institute activities; rather, support for programs is derived from annual contributions made by the fourteen members of a university consortium. Information may be requested from the Director of Latin American Programs, Daniel A. Sharp, The Adlai Stevenson Institute of International Affairs, Robie House, 5757 South Woodlawn Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60637.