

Project, Northwestern University, Evanston Illinois.

The department of political science at the University of California at Los Angeles, in cooperation with the American Institute of Planners, sponsored a Planning Institute June 8 and 9 on the subject: Transportation and Metropolitan Planning. Professor Ernest A. Engelbert served as director of the Institute, and the research papers presented will be published.

The Public Administration Service of the department of government, University of New Hampshire, conducted a Public Affairs Institute on the revision of the New Hampshire Constitution on April 7, 1956.

The American University's department of government and public administration during the Summer Session sponsored again its regularly scheduled Public Affairs Laboratory. The Laboratory was under the direction of Catheryn Seckler-Hudson, chairman of the department of government and public administration, Charles M. Hersh, associate professor of government and public administration, and Royce Hanson, lecturer in government and public administration.

The District of Columbia Political Science Association (DCPSA) held its fourth meeting of the current year in the Lounge of the Brookings Institution, May 31, 1956. Sidney Hyman, author of The American President, delivered an address on "The Presidency and the Party System."

OTHER ACTIVITIES

The Ford Foundation has given $1,275,000 to Columbia University to further its work in international affairs. The grant will be used for three main purposes: to expand the Columbia staff in various fields of foreign policy; to develop and strengthen the work of the Near and Middle East Institute, and to produce a greater degree of integration in the teaching of law, business, economics and foreign problems.

The Fund for the Advancement of Education has granted $13,950 to Fordham University's department of political philosophy and the social sciences for research and experimentation on the relationship of class size to the effective teaching of politics, economics and sociology.

The Claremont Graduate School has recently established the Story Program in Public Affairs leading to the Master of Arts degree. This program honors the late Russell McCulloch Story, former President of Claremont College and Professor of government. Concentrations are offered in business economics, government administration and international relations. The Story Program is designed to help prepare young men and women for responsible positions in business and government, at home and abroad.

A new program in natural resources administration is being offered on the graduate level by the Institute of Public Administration and the School of Natural Resources at the University of Michigan. The program combines the fields of public administration and conservation and leads to the degree of Master of Science in the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies.

The Social Science Research Council has recently announced three new programs of grants for research in fields of special interest to political scientists, as well as to other social scientists. The Committee on Comparative Politics will administer a program of grants for field studies of political groups in areas outside the United States. The Committee on National Security Policy Research will administer a program of grants for research on problems of national defense in the period 1939-1955; this program complements that for research on the history of American military policy, which will again be offered in 1956-57. The Committee on Political Behavior will administer a program of grants to individuals for research on American governmental processes; the program of grants for research on state politics in the United States will again be administered by this Committee in 1956-57. Awards are made under these programs on a competitive basis to individuals possessing the Ph.D. or its equivalent. Application forms and information about these programs may be obtained by writing to the Social Science Research Council, 726 Jackson Place N. W., Washington 6, D. C.

The Institute of Public Administration of the University of Michigan completed on June 15, 1956 a four year pioneering project to establish an Institute of Public Administration at the University of the Philippines in Manila. The project was financed with U. S. government and Philippine counterpart funds under the Point IV program. Originally the project was staffed entirely by Americans, with John W. Lederle as director and chief advisor. During the course of the project, a number of Filipinos were trained in the United States, and Filipinos have gradually assumed full responsibility for the new organization.

A program of Fulbright Predoctoral Fellowships providing internships at the International Institute of Administrative Sciences, Brussels and the International Union of Local Authorities, The Hague is available for the year 1957-58. Application forms and further information can be obtained from the Institute of International Education at 1 East 67 St., New York 21, New York.

A new publication, the Journal of Administrative Affairs appeared this year under the sponsorship of the Institute of Administrative Affairs, University of Tehran. Published in Persian, several hundred copies are mimeographed in English. Inquiries should be directed to the Institute for Administrative Affairs, USOM/Iran, APO 205, New York, New York.

The Brookings Institution has announced the appointment of six Research Fellows, three in economics and three in government for the academic year 1956-57. Those in government are Frank B. Cliffe, Jr., Staff Assistant, Public Administration Clearing House; Lester W. Milbrath, instructor in political science, University of North Carolina; and Merton L. Reichler, instructor in government, Columbia University. Laurin L. Henry, formerly of the Washington office of the Public Administration Clearing House, has been appointed a research associate, and Stanley Kelley, Jr., one of the 1955-56 research fellows, has been appointed to the staff for the year 1956-57. Roy B. Eastin, executive officer and formerly superintendent of documents of the Government Printing Office has contracted to prepare a third edition of Schmeckebier's Government Publications and Their Use, first published in 1936.

Charles Adrian has resumed his teaching duties at Michigan State University this fall after acting as administrative assistant to Governor G. Mennen Williams from January to September 1956.

Charles S. Ascher, of Brooklyn College, attended congresses of the non-governmental organizations which he represents at the United Nations: the International Federation for Housing and Town Planning in Vienna in July, and the International Institute of Administrative Sciences in Madrid in September. He also attended the first Congress of the International Association of Legal Science in Barcelona.

William B. Ballis, of the University of Washington, was visiting professor at the University of Michigan in the 1956 summer session.

Willard F. Barber is now counsellor of Embassy in Warsaw, Poland.

Erwin W. Bard, of Brooklyn College, will spend a sabbatical year in Europe in 1956-57, based largely at the College of Europe in Bruges.

Loren P. Beth, of the University of Florida, taught at the summer session at Boston University.

Hugh A. Bone, of the University of Washington, directed the national workshop of the Citizenship Clearing House at Bedford, Pennsylvania in September.

Bernard Brown, of Michigan State University, has been awarded a post-doctoral Fulbright Research Scholarship for 1956-57 to Study in France.

Ben G. Burnett, of Whittier College, has received a Haynes Foundation grant for research in Latin America.

John C. Bollens, University of California (Los Angeles), is executive officer and research director of the Metropolitan St. Louis Survey, for 1956-57.

Herbert W. Briggs, of Cornell University, was elected Associe de l'Institut de Droit International at its meeting in Granada, Spain in April.

Henry L. Bretton, of the University of Michigan, spent the summer in the Gold Coast under a Rackham grant. He will spend the academic year, 1956-57, in Austria at the University of Innsbruck under a Fulbright Fellowship.

Philip W. Buck resumes his teaching duties at Stanford after a year's leave in England.

Robert K. Carr, of Dartmouth College has been elected to membership in the American Academies of Arts and Sciences.

William S. Carpenter, of Princeton University, is consultant to the Law Revision and Legislative Services Commission in New Jersey and has served as acting director of its Division of Legislative Services and Research.

James C. Charlesworth has had his leave of absence from the University of Pennsylvania extended in order to permit him to continue as Secretary of Administration in the cabinet of Governor George M. Leader.

Edward K. T. Chen, of the University of Houston, is on a year's leave of absence engaged in research in Washington.

James Coleman, University of California at Los Angeles, is spending the year 1956-57 on leave in Africa.

Cornelius P. Cotter has been elected president of the Bay Area chapter of the American Society for Public Administration.

Hoyt Crider is returning to the United States this summer after a two year hitch with the Tehran group of the University of Southern California. He will serve as lecturer in the Civic Center division of the University and will be employed with the Office of the Administrative Officer of Los Angeles County.

Royden Dangerfield, of the University of Illinois, was a visiting lecturer at the summer school of Utah State Agricultural College.

Robert B. Dishman, of the University of New Hampshire, has been appointed by Governor Dwinell to serve a three-year appointment on the Legislative Council.

John Dorsey has returned to Michigan State University after a year with the University Technical Assistance Mission to the Vietnamese government.

Alex N. Dragnich, of Vanderbilt University, lectured at the Army War College February 5-10, 1956, on the future of United States policy toward Yugoslavia, and served as consultant to the Study Group on South-eastern Europe.

David Easton of the University of Chicago, will deliver a paper entitled "An Approach to the Analysis of Political Systems" at the International Political Science Association Conference in Geneva, Switzerland.

William Ebenstein, of Princeton University, was a visiting lecturer at the University of Wisconsin during the summer of 1956.

John H. Ferguson, of The Pennsylvania State University, has been granted a second year's leave of absence to continue his work as Director of Program Evaluation in the Office of Administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

LeRoy Ferguson, of Michigan State University, is the recipient of a grant from the Social Science Research Council for 1956-57.

Houston I. Fournoy, who recently received his Ph.D. degree from Princeton, is now serving as legislative assistant to United States Senator H. Alexander Smith.

Russell H. Fifield, of the University of Michigan, spent the summer in Southeast Asia under a Horace H. Rackham grant.

Russell Fitzgibbon, University of California at Los Angeles, has been elected president of the Western Political Science Association, 1956-57.

Harry J. Friedman, of the University of Pittsburgh, will spend next year doing research in India and Pakistan.

William J. Gore served as a project director for one of the seven research teams working for the Federal Civil Defense Agency during the summer of 1956.

George A. Graham, of Princeton University, will be on a leave of absence during the academic year 1956-57 to serve as director of the public affairs program for the Ford Foundation.

J. A. C. Grant, of the University of California at Los Angeles, has accepted an invitation of the Republic of Vietnam to spend the summer in Saigon as advisor on constitutional law and judicial and legal reform. He recently returned from a year's leave in Spain and will resume his duties at Los Angeles in mid-September.

Elmer D. Graper, former head of the department of political science of the University of Pittsburgh, has been appointed chairman of the Civil Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Andrew Gyorgy, of Boston University, delivered the last of the 1956 Marshall Woods lectures at Brown University.

John H. Hallowell will return to Duke University in September, 1956 after a year's sabbatical leave in Germany.

Ferrel Heady, of the University of Michigan, attended the International Congress of Administrative Sciences in Madrid September 2-8, 1956.

Dell G. Hitchner, University of Washington, has received a U. S. Specialists grant from the State Department.

Edward W. Hughes, lecturer in politics at Kings College, New Castle, England, will spend 1956-57 as visiting lecturer at the University of Michigan under a Fulbright grant.

Harry V. Jaffa will be on leave of absence from Ohio State University for the year 1956-57, doing research under a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation.

Thomas Jenkins of the University of California at Los Angeles, will be on leave for the academic year 1956-57.

Raymond A. Jolly returns from a two and a half year appointment with the Tehran unit of the University of Southern California. He will continue as a lecturer with the School of Public Administration.

John H. Kautsky, of Washington University, taught at the summer session of the University of Rochester.

William J. Keefe, of Chatham College, has been appointed to the Pennsylvania Commission on Governmental Reorganization which will report to the 1957 session of the legislature.

Richard J. Koziicki, research fellow at the University of Pennsylvania, has received a Ford Foundation fellowship for 1956-57.

Robert S. Lancaster is returning to the University of the South after a year spent as Fulbright exchange professor at the University of Bagdad.

George A. Lanyi returns to Oberlin College in September after spending a year in London on a Ford Faculty Fellowship.

Donald R. Larson, of the University of Miami, is on leave of absence working with the Public Administration Service on various projects throughout the United States and Alaska.

Walter H. C. Laves, of Indiana University, attended a UNESCO Conference on Evaluation of Technical Assistance projects at McGill University, May 29-June 1, 1956. He has been appointed a member of a Special Joint Committee of the American Council on Education Commission on Education and International Affairs and the Committee on Institutional Projects Abroad.

Leo Lott, of Ohio State University, was a visiting lecturer in the summer session at the University of Wisconsin.

Harry A. Marlow, formerly Director, the Civic Center Division, School of Public Administration, University of Southern California, and for the past two years Chief of Party of the faculty at the Institute for Administrative Affairs, University of Tehran, is on home leave this summer prior to his return to Tehran for another two year hitch as Chief of Party.

Hubert Marshall, of Stanford University, is serving as associate director of the Stanford Committee on Undergraduate Education.

Albert B. Martin of The Pennsylvania State University has been engaged as a consultant to the Reorganization Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Charles E. Martin, of the University of Washington, has been appointed director of the World Affairs Symposium to be held at Riverside, California in December.

M. Nelson McGeary, of The Pennsylvania State University, served during the summer as research consultant to the Commission on Government Reorganization of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Peter Odegard will be on leave from the University of California for the 1956-57 academic year.

Daniel M. Ogden, Jr., of the State College of Washington, will be on sabbatical leave in 1956-57 and will spend the year in Washington, D. C.

Felix Oppenheim, of the University of Delaware, has been awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship for the academic year 1956-57.

Vincent Ostrom will return to the University of Oregon after occupying a fellowship at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences. He will serve as director of research for the Northwest Cooperative Project in Educational Administration financed by the Kellogg Foundation.

James K. Pollock, president of the International Political Science Association, presided over a meeting of the executive committee of that organization and a round table following immediately afterward. Edward H. Litchfield, the American member of the executive committee and Evron Kirkpatrick, executive director of the American Political Science Association were in attendance. The sessions were held in Montreux, Switzerland, September 10-14.

Rollin B. Posey, of Northwestern University, will be on leave for the year 1956-57.

Constantine Rackauskas will be on leave from Fordham University during the Fall semester of 1956.

Martin R. Ream, of the University of Southern California, is returning to the faculty of the Institute of Administrative Affairs of the University of Tehran.

Emmette S. Redford, of the University of Texas, has been granted a leave of absence for the fall semester 1956-57.

Neal Riemer, of The Pennsylvania State University, taught at the summer School at Cornell University.

Benjamin Rivlin, of Brooklyn College, has been granted a Fulbright fellowship for research in North Africa.

Victor Rosenblum is on semi-sabbatical leave of absence from the University of California for the fall semester.

Ernest E. Rossi, of the University of Pittsburgh, has been granted an Italian Ministry Foreign Affairs fellowship at the Bologna Center of the School of Advanced International Studies of Johns Hopkins University.

Richard F. Schier, of Franklin and Marshall College, was retained for the past summer by the Bureau of Municipal Affairs, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Robert Scott, of the University of Illinois, has returned from a year's sabbatical leave, most of which was spent in Spain.

H. P. Secher, of Western Reserve University, has been awarded a Fulbright Grant for 1956-57 as an Advanced Research Scholar.

Lester G. Seligman, of the University of Oregon, has been awarded a two year grant-in-aid by the Social Science Research Council. He will be on leave during 1956-57.

Chandler Shaw, of Bethany College, taught at the summer school of West Virginia University.

William Shepherd, of Beloit College, has resigned to enter the field of radio communications.

Foster Sherwood, of the University of California at Los Angeles, is on sabbatical leave for the academic year 1956-57 to engage in research under a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation.

H. Gordon Skilling, of Dartmouth College, taught at the summer session of the University of Vermont.

Rhoten A. Smith has returned to the University of Kansas after completing a year's leave of absence to serve as Associate Director of the National Citizenship Clearing House, Law Center, New York University.

Richard Snyder, of Northwestern University, will be on leave during 1956-57.

George Stambuk, of Indiana University, has received a John Hay Whitney Foundation fellowship grant.

Richard W. Sterling, of Dartmouth, has been awarded a Rockefeller Foundation grant for the year 1956-57.

Paul D. Stewart, of Marshall College, has been serving as research director of the All Huntington Association for a City Manager Form of Government and was elected to the Charter Board in the May primary.

Ivan M. Stone, of Beloit College, was recently elected vice president of the North Central Association of Academic Deans.

William Bruce Storm, of the University of Southern California, will be with the Tehran group during 1956-57.

Thor Swanson, of the State College of Washington taught at the Syracuse University summer session. He will be on leave during 1956-57, having been awarded the Staff Fellowship of the National Municipal League.

Eduard Taborsky, of the University of Texas, has returned after holding a visiting professorship at the University of Tennessee.

Hans B. Thorelli has been awarded the annual prize of the Fahlbeck Foundation. He recently resigned as Director of the Industrial Council for Social and Economic Studies, Stockholm, Sweden to become an associate of the new Marketing Research Service of the General Electric Company, New York City.

Wayne Untereiner, of the University of Southern California, will be with the Tehran group during 1956-57.

Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr. of the University of Miami, is spending the summer touring the Middle East and Europe.

John Vanderzell has resumed his duties at Franklin and Marshall College after a one year leave of absence to serve as director of research, Bureau of Municipal Affairs, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

William Verhage, of Boston University, has returned from a Fulbright lectureship at the International Christian University, Tokyo, Japan.

S. Sidney Ulmer has been teaching at the summer session of the University of Houston.

Harvey Walker, of Ohio State University, has started a one year assignment as a member of a technical assistance team for the United Nations, teaching public administration in a United Nations specialized school in San Jose, Costa Rica.

Robert E. Ward, of the University of Michigan, is spending his sabbatical year, 1956-57, in Japan under the auspices of a Fulbright grant and a Rackham Fund grant.

James T. Watkins IV, of Stanford, served during the past year as chairman of the regional committee of the National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program.

Edward Weidner, of Michigan State University, was Public Administration Specialist of a Michigan State University Ford Foundation mission to the government of Pakistan during most of June and July. He also spent several weeks in Saigon in his capacity as coordinator of the Michigan State University Technical Assistance Mission to the government of Vietnam.

Egbert S. Wengert, of the University of Oregon, will spend the major portion of his sabbatical leave during 1956-57 as visiting professor of public administration in the Institute of Public Administration in Manila.

Allen Whiting, of Michigan State University, served as a consultant to the Rand Corporation during the past summer.

York Willbern, of the University of Alabama, taught at the first summer session of Duke University.

Philip Williams, of Jesus College, Oxford, was a visiting lecturer at the University of Wisconsin summer session.

Arthur M. Wilson, of Dartmouth, has been awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship.

The Woodrow Wilson Centennial Commission is anxious to receive information about all 1956 Wilson literature and all Centennial activities and programs. Information about and copies of all addresses, papers and sermons would be appreciated. Readers are asked to send in notices about all programs and activities, lecture series, discussion forums, library and school exhibits, TV or radio programs, musical or dramatic presentations, and to include the date, place, sponsoring group and participants. Communications should be sent to The Woodrow Wilson Centennial Commission, Interior Building, Washington 25, D.C.

APPOINTMENTS AND STAFF CHANGES

Gilbert Abcarian, of Sacramento State College, has been appointed visiting assistant professor of political science at the University of Tulsa.

Emile B. Ader is on leave of absence from the University of Tulsa to work with the United States Information Agency.

Charles Aiken has been appointed chairman of the political science department at the University of California.