

SCHOLAR IN RESIDENCE
AT THE ROCKEFELLER ARCHIVE CENTER
1988-89

The Rockefeller Archive Center of The Rockefeller University announces the creation of an annual Scholar in Residence Program in the field of the history of philanthropy. The purpose of the program is to foster research in the holdings of the Center, which include the records and papers of The Rockefeller Foundation, The Rockefeller University, the Rockefeller family, Rockefeller Brothers Fund, and the Commonwealth Fund, as well as other individuals and organizations.

The 1988-89 Resident Scholar will receive a stipend of up to $30,000 for nine months of study and research at the Rockefeller Archive Center, beginning on September 1, 1988; will be provided opportunities for extensive research at the Center; and will participate in the intellectual life of the Center, which includes scholarly conferences.

Applications are encouraged from established researchers and scholars in fields generally related to the history of philanthropy who will substantially benefit from an extended period of research at the Center. The application should include a curriculum vita, a letter detailing the candidate's research interests and demonstrating familiarity with the Center's holdings, and letters of reference from three persons familiar with the candidate's research and scholarship. The application deadline is April 1, 1988.

Address inquiries and applications to:

Darwin H. Stapleton, Director,
Rockefeller Archive Center
Pocantico Hills
North Tarrytown, New York 10591.

Call for Archival Materials: Research in the History of Economic Thought and Methodology, published annually by JAI Press, will inaugurate in 1988 a series of archival supplements. The archival volumes will contain hitherto unpublished materials of varying description. The first volume will comprise sets of lectures notes on moral and political philosophy from a course given by John Dewey; the second volume will include papers by Frank A. Fetter and Frank H. Knight. Suggestions and contributions may be sent to:

Warren J. Samuels
Department of Economics
Michigan State University
East Lansing, MI 48824 USA

THE SOCIETY FOR THE HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THOUGHT OF JAPAN.

Annual Meeting 1987 and the Regional Activities.

by

Toshihiro Tanaka, Kwansai Gakuin University

The annual meeting for 1987 was held at Kansai University on 14-15 November. No common theme for the meeting this time, and the following 22 papers in all were presented. About 320 members attended.

1. Understanding of Economic Circulation in James Steuart's Principles (Toshiaki Ohtomo).
2. Money and Social Labour (Hironori Toyama).
3. Adam Smith and the Method of Natural Science: On understanding Newton in 'The History of Astronomy' (Shinichi Nagao).
4. Karl Grün and Marx (Shunsuke Murakami).
5. David Hume on Government (Yoshie Funahashi).
6. International Workingmen's Association and the Land Problem (Shigeru Arakawa).
7. The Present-day Significance of C. Fourier's Thought (Keiichi Sakamoto).
8. The Historical Position of the Mainz Revolution (Masami Jufuku).
9. Michel Chevalier on Money: The Characteristics and Limitations of the French Free Traders (Takashi Ueno).
10. Economic and Social Analysis in Vablen's Theory of Leisure Class (Tetsuo Taka).
11. The Critique of the Corn Laws and A. Smith's Theory of Rent (Keiichi Watanabe).
12. Reconsideration of H.C. Carey's Doctrine of 'Association' (Kazuo Takahashi).
13. Ricardo's Theory of Value (Ken Mizuta).
14. Gossen as a Precursor of the Marginal Revolution (Kaneo Ando).
15. Re-examination of Ricardo's Theory of Machinery (Takuya Hatori).
16. Jevons as a Man of Science and the Formation of Modern Economics (Takutoshi Inoue).
17. The first edition of Malthus' Principle of Population viewed from its last two chapters (Hitoshi Hashimoto).
18. Friedrich Wieser and Austrian Liberalism (Kiichiro Yagi).
19. The Purposes and Composition of J.S. Mill's Principles (Shoken Mawatari).
20. Hayek's Criticism of A. Smith's Dogma (Hideo Dio).

21. The Smithian and Socialistic Aspects in J.S. Mill's Thought (Shigeji Wada).
22. Subjectivism in J.M. Keynes: On his 'Early Beliefs' (Hiroyuki Yamazaki).

The next annual meeting will be held at Senshu University, Tokyo early in November 1988. Its common theme will be 'The Formation of Political Economy.'

Regional Meetings:

The following regional meetings were held since the meetings previously reported.

The Kanto Branch:

On 17 October, 1987 at Nihon University were two papers were read:

1. Marx and Sraffa in the European and American studies of value theory (Ryoji Ishizuka)
2. Schumpeterian system and the problem of dualism (Motoi Zanazashi).

The Kansai Branch:

On 26 September at Osaka College of Industry where two papers were presented:

1. The formation process of investment function in General Theory (Haruo Hayashida)
2. Rodbertus on the formation of modern society (Takeshi Mizobata).

Announcing A New Title From EDWARD ELGAR PUBLISHING COMPANY

In the endless parade of books about Keynes and Keynesianism, this collection of essays stands out for its consistently high quality. The book covers virtually the entire spectrum of interpretations of Keynes.

Mark Blaug, Emeritus Professor of the Economics of Education, University of London, Consultant Professor of Economics, University of Buckingham.

J. M. KEYNES IN RETROSPECT The Legacy of the Keynesian Revolution Edited by John Hillard

J. M. Keynes in Retrospect emphasizes the continuing importance of Keynes to the study of the economic problem. The orthodox counter-revolution in economic theory has sought to undermine the enduring significance of his work. These original essays demonstrate the vigor and continuity of the contribution to economic theory, method and practice in spite of criticisms advanced by the New Classical School. The essays range across the Keynesian spectrum and represent different generations of the Keynesian era.

1 85278 012 6 $37.50 256pp. Available April, 1988 from

Edward Elgar Publishing Company
Old Post Road
Brookfield, VT 05036 USA
(802) 276-3162

NEW SUBMISSIONS

Edward Elgar Publishing Company is now actively commissioning new titles. We will be happy to consider and advise on ideas and proposals. If you would like to discuss your work, please write to our editorial offices in England. We will reply promptly. We look forward to hearing from you and to working with you.

Please write to: Edward Elgar, Managing Director
Edward Elgar Publishing Company
Middleton House
Upleadon, Gloucestershire GL18 1EQ
ENGLAND