design and applied arts index on CD-ROM

We challenge anyone to find a more user-friendly arts journal index!

Sample entry:

The screenshot shows the 'designandappliedartsindex on CD-ROM' interface. At the top, there is a menu bar with icons for 'Start Menu', 'Run the Tutorial', 'Search for Articles', 'View as Card', 'Print', 'Save to disk', and 'Exit daai'. Below the menu bar, there is a checkbox labeled 'Click in box:' and a note: 'to choose those articles you wish to Print or Save to disk'. The main content area displays an article entry for Philippe Starck, including the author's name, title, reference information, and language(s). A scrollable text box provides a detailed profile of the designer and his work. At the bottom, there are navigation controls, including a 'Field Search' button and a search bar with 'B' and '10' entered.

Long recognised as the principal source on current trends in design and the applied arts worldwide, design and applied arts index is now also available on CD-ROM, making it an indispensable resource not only for students, historians and librarians, but also for working designers and craftspeople.

daai on CD-ROM contains over 100,000 annotated references from more than 400 design and craft journals published between 1973-1997, making it the largest database of its kind in the world. It also includes data on nearly 40,000 designers, craftspeople, studios, workshops, firms etc.

At least 10,000-12,000 new references are added annually.
