Eighteenth-Century Music

Editors

Nicholas Mathew, University of Auckland, New Zealand

W. Dean Sutcliffe, University of California, Berkeley, USA

Eighteenth-Century Music addresses a conspicuous gap in its field and serves as a prestigious forum for all eighteenth-century music research. The aims of this dedicated journal are: to draw together disparate areas of research, challenge accepted historical assumptions and adopt a broad and interdisciplinary approach which will serve the whole eighteenth-century music community.

Organised Sound

Editor

Leigh Landy, De Montfort University, Leicester, UK

Organised Sound is an international peer-reviewed journal which focuses on the rapidly developing methods and issues arising from the use of technology in music today. It concentrates upon the impact which the application of technology is having upon music in a variety of genres, including multimedia, performance art, sound sculpture and music ranging from popular idioms to experimental electroacoustic composition. It provides a unique forum for anyone interested in electroacoustic music studies, its creation and related developments to share the results of their research as they affect musical issues. An accompanying DVD is sent to subscribers annually.

Popular Music

Co-ordinating Editors

Nicola Dibben, University of Sheffield, UK

Keith Negus, University of London, UK

Popular Music is an international multi-disciplinary journal covering all aspects of the subject - from the formation of social group identities through popular music, to the workings of the global music industry, to how particular pieces of music are put together. The journal includes all kinds of popular music, whether rap or rai, jazz or rock, from any historical era and any geographical location. Popular Music carries articles by scholars from a large variety of disciplines and theoretical perspectives. Each issue contains substantial, authoritative and influential articles, shorter topical pieces, and reviews of a wide range of books.

BRITISH JOURNAL OF MUSIC EDUCATION

BJME is a fully refereed international journal which aims to provide clear, stimulating and readable accounts of contemporary research in music education worldwide, together with a section containing extended book reviews which further current debates. In particular, the journal strives to strengthen connections between research and practice, so enhancing professional development and improving practice within the field of music education. The range of subjects covers music teaching and learning in formal and informal contexts including classroom, individual, group and whole class instrumental and vocal teaching, music in higher education, international comparative music education, music in community settings, and teacher education. Contributors include researchers and practitioners from schools, colleges and universities. Where appropriate, we encourage authors to include supplementary sound files and other multimedia material. These accompany articles in electronic format on Cambridge Journals Online.

Peer review policy: Each manuscript is reviewed by at least two referees, and an editorial decision is generally reached within 8 to 12 weeks of submission.

BJME has been accepted for inclusion in the Thomson Reuters Arts & Humanities Citation Index and the Social Science Citation Index.

Instructions for authors

Detailed instructions for authors can be found on the BJME website <journals.cambridge.org/bjme> and are also available on request from the Journal Administrator.

Contacting the Editorial Office

Contributions and subsequent correspondence should be sent to the Journal Administrator:

ALISON BUCKLER Email: A.S.Buckler@open.ac.uk

Questions regarding potential submissions or special issues should be addressed to the Editors:

PAMELA BURNARD Email: pab61@cam.ac.uk

GARY SPRUCE Email: g.j.spruce@open.ac.uk

Books for review should be sent to the Book Reviews Editor:

KAREN BURLAND Email: k.burland@leeds.ac.uk

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and has not been submitted for publication elsewhere. Contributors are responsible for obtaining and acknowledging copyright permissions where necessary. Authors of articles published in the journal assign copyright to Cambridge University Press.

Submission of articles by email is preferred. If submission is made by post, four copies of articles and one of reviews should be sent and one retained for proof-reading.

Manuscript preparation

Articles should usually be around 5,000 words long, but shorter research notes or more substantial pieces will be considered where the subject matter warrants it. Authors should provide a word count at the end of each article. The author's name should be given on a separate sheet (see note below) to facilitate the anonymous refereeing process.

An abstract of about 100 words summarising the content of the article should be given immediately below the title and before the main text. A note giving details of any acknowledgements may also be included.

A biography of around 75 words giving the author's name, affiliation, principal publications, etc. should be submitted on a separate cover sheet. Full contact details should also be included on this sheet.

Please consult the detailed instructions for authors (see above) for more information on style and file formatting.

This journal issue has been printed on FSC-certified paper and cover board. FSC is an independent, non-governmental, not-for-profit organization established to promote the responsible management of the world's forests. Please see www.fsc.org for information.
