

Put 16,000 Authors On Your Reference Shelves Today

... and let Contemporary Authors be the authority for complete and current bio-bibliographic details concerning them

Contemporary Authors now includes 16,000 writers, 12,000 of whom are in no other standard biographical reference. Therefore, personal and career information about the majority of today's writers can be found only in CA.

Contemporary Authors includes the writers of novels, poetry, plays, juvenile books, young adult books, and textbooks, as well as nonfiction writers in the fields of biography, history, social science, religion, sociology, psychology, popular science, and current events. Only writers on highly-technical subjects are excluded.

Contemporary Authors covers not only well-known writers but also those who are lesser-known, since today's unknown writer is very often tomorrow's headline maker. A case in point is William Manchester who appears in CA's very first volume, published in 1962.

Contemporary Authors is unique in its first-hand reporting of how a writer feels about his own work, the work of others, and the contemporary scene. In the SIDELIGHTS segment of the entry these observations more often than not reveal facets of character or personality that are exclusive to CA.

Contemporary Authors carries a complete bibliography of each author's published books. When information on new work is available, an entry on WORK IN PROGRESS gives the subject of the project, working title, publisher, and probable date of publication.

Sketches cover personal data such as pseudonyms, date of birth, birthplace, family background, education, politics, religion, present address, jobs held, military service, association memberships, awards, and honors, plus the unique material in Sidelights, Work in Progress, and Writings.

Recommended for all libraries by every major library review medium. Unanimously praised by librarians, authors, publishers, and researchers as the pacesetter in biographical reference books.

More juvenile and young adult authors in CA than in all other biographical reference works combined.

Published semiannually with 4,000 new, unduplicated author sketches added each year.

Cumulative author indexes appear in the final volume each year. The index in Volume 15-16, for instance, cumulates all entries from Volume 1.

Annual subscription price is $25.00, with substantially reduced rates on two-year, three-year, and four-year subscriptions.
