EDINBURGH
THE GOLDEN AGE
MICHAEL JOYCE

A fascinating picture of the social life and personalities of Edinburgh in the days of such men as Hume, Adam Smith, Mackenzie, Burns, Jeffrey, Sydney Smith, Raeburn and Scott—a time when it was said, if one stood for a few minutes at the Cross, one might take fifty men of genius by the hand.

The book is a fitting record of the distinguished part which the Scottish capital played in the history of European culture.

THE MAHDIYA
A HISTORY OF THE
ANGLO-EGYPTIAN SUDAN, 1881-1899

A. B. THEOBALD

To-day, when Britain's relationship with the Middle East is in a state of change and development, it is particularly timely that a book should be published which tells how she came to be responsible for the administration of one of the largest countries of that area, the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

'Mr Theobald approaches his subject with the double, and unusual, advantages of a thorough knowledge and sympathetic understanding of the Sudan and the techniques and background of a trained academic historian.'—Times Literary Supplement.

HUSKISSON AND HIS AGE

Volume One

C. R. FAY

'The volume, with its numerous extracts from family letters and papers, has the fascination and the amusing quality of a first-rate book of memoirs. No one who is interested in the politics and the social background of that age, when this country was gathering to herself the leadership of Europe, can afford to miss it.'

—Prof. W. H. B. Court in Birmingham Post.
