

NEW BOOKS ON SPIRIT AND WORK

NOW AVAILABLE

ANCIENT WISDOM FOR MODERN MINDS: A thinking heart – a feeling mind – words of insight into ourselves
by James Carlopio

ISBN 978-0-9775742-1-6; x + 118 pages; subject index; bibliography; softcover

James Carlopio's breadth of experience in academic and corporate circles is rare. This is a book to be dipped into and savoured over time.. a comprehensive and deeply humane collection of wisdom from the ancients with accompanying daily affirmations for the road. John Hale – Corporate Alchemist

These ancient quotes illuminate modern-day socio-cognitive constructs and techniques used in coaching psychology – James Carlopio shows us that coaching for personal improvement has occurred since time-immemorial.

Tom Crvenkovic – The Coaching Psychologist

FORTHCOMING

CONNECTIONS: SPIRIT - WORK - CAREER Classic readings for counsellors and coaches

Edited by Deborah Bloch and Lee Richmond

ISBN 978-1-921348-12-9; xii + 244 pages; subject index; bibliography; softcover

Building on the success of 'Connections between Spirit & Work in Career Development' (Bloch & Richmond 1997), the editors interpret and expand upon the commissioned articles for the first edition in two sections: Revealing the Meaning of Work and Connecting Spirit and Career. The editors extract and highlight gems of wisdom from the readings through their experiences in leadership and career counselling, seminars and research, demonstrating their application in connecting spirituality with work for career counsellors and coaches.

22ND ANZAM CONFERENCE 2008 – MANAGING IN THE PACIFIC CENTURY 2 – 5 December 2008, University of Auckland, New Zealand

The pattern and pace of economic transformation in the Pacific Rim is unprecedented and presents new challenges and new opportunities for organisations throughout the world.

The role of managers, management and leadership will be fundamental to this transformation. Irrespective of the sector, the industry or the form of the organisation, the ability to respond and adapt in a world increasingly dominated by Asia-Pacific alliances, innovations and enterprise will be essential to an organisation's competitive success.

These issues create an excellent thematic background for the scientific program which will be supported by a social program in a city that has everything to make a delegate's stay enjoyable. I look forward to seeing you in New Zealand.

Professor Marie Wilson

Conference Convener
The University of Auckland Business School

Call for papers and workshops – Closing date: 20 June 2008

6TH ANZAM OPERATIONS, SUPPLY CHAIN AND SERVICES MANAGEMENT SYMPOSIUM 2008

THE CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES OF OPERATING IN COMPLEX SUPPLY CHAINS

Gold Coast, Queensland, 8–10 June 2008 – www.buseco.monash.edu.au/mgt/research/anzam

Organisations are increasingly realising that in order to be successful, they not only need to have in place sound internal systems, but also ensure that they effectively engage with their supply chain partners. This applies to not only to goods producers but also to service providers, across public and private sectors. Supply chain management involves organisations engaging in complex network transactions exchanging tangible and intangible resources at an increasing pace and with fewer boundaries. This environment is markedly different to what most organisations have been used to in the past, and, as a consequence, presents significant challenges and opportunities. Many interesting ideas have been proposed to overcome the challenges and exploit the opportunities. At the heart of most these ideas are new ways to view the broad area of Operations Management, which increasingly is addressing supply chain and services management (and in so doing is articulating with services marketing as manufacturing and services become more integrated).

The aim of this symposium is to share research findings and practitioner experiences on how manufacturing and service organisations can deal with the challenges and exploit opportunities resulting from operating in complex supply chains.

The focus of the symposium will be on the issues associated with managing operations (i.e. the production and distribution of goods and services) in the context of complex supply chains. Relevant topic areas include: Logistics, Service Operations Management, Supply Chain Management, E-Business Operations, Productivity and Process Improvement, Project Management, Value Chain Management, Quality Management (including Six Sigma, TQM, ISO9000, Service Quality, etc.), Technology Management, Innovation Management (including the development of new goods and services), Production and Manufacturing Management, Operations Research (OR), Operations Strategy.

Copies of papers presented are available from: Lyn Vinton, Department of Management/Monash University, Caulfield, Victoria
Email: Lyn.Vinton@Buseco.monash.edu.au

Hosted by Griffith Business School Tourism, Sport and Service Innovation Research Centre; jointly organised by Griffith Business School and the Melbourne Operations Management Society (a consortium of Melbourne, Monash, Deakin, Victoria, RMIT, La Trobe and Swinburne Universities).
