Fellowships in the Arts and Sciences 1967-1968

The new tenth edition of Fellowships in the Arts and Sciences 1967-68, edited by Robert Quick for the American Council on Education, appeared in October 1966. It has sections devoted to both graduate and postdoctoral fellowships, which may be of use to Latin Americanists seeking research support. It is available for $2.25 from the ACE, 1785 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

NAS-NRC Fellowship Pamphlets

Two pamphlets appeared in July 1966 that are of value to graduate and postgraduate scholars seeking research support. One is called Call for Graduate Fellowships

Latin American Research Review

Major Fellowship Opportunities and Aids to Advanced Education for United States Citizens. The other carries identical wording in its title except . . . for Foreign Nationals. The booklets also contain a small bibliography. They may be obtained from Fellowship Office, Office of Scientific Personnel, National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Ave., Washington, D.C. 20418.

The University of the Americas Scholarships for Librarians

The University of the Americas offers two special summer scholarships to graduate librarians. Scholarship holders receive full tuition and fees plus a modest living allowance. One scholarship is for the first summer session (June 15–July 22, 1967), and the other is for the second session (July 20–August 26). The scholarship holders are expected to assist in the University library 15 hours per week. Preference will be given to librarians with college library experience. Applications must be filed before April 1, 1967. For further information and forms, write to Librarian, University of the Americas, Km. 16 Carretera México-Toluca, México 10, D.F.

Fletcher School Offers Latin American Teaching Fellowships

For a full description of these fellowships, see LARR II: 1, p. 178. All applications for the 1967–68 year must be received by March 30, 1967, with notification of selection to be given by April 15, 1967. Please direct inquiries to William S. Barnes, Director, Latin American Teaching Fellowships, The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Medford, Mass. 02155.

Fulbright-Hays Lectureships and Research Awards

A preliminary announcement of the 1968–69 Fulbright program with Latin America was to appear in the February 1967 issue of the Bulletin published by the Committee on International Exchange of Persons; the final program will be included in March in the Committee's announcement of awards in all participating countries for 1968–69. May 1 probably will again be the date on which screening for lectureships will begin, and June 1 the final deadline for applying for research grants.

OAS-CIESPAL Fellowships for Newspapermen

Each year the Department of Technical Cooperation of the OAS grants 20 fellowships to professional newspapermen with facility in Spanish for a specialized course of two months duration at the Centro Internacional de Estudios Superiores de Periodismo para América Latina (CIESPAL) in Quito, Ecuador. The two-month course begins in the middle of August each year and lasts until mid-October. The fellowships provide round trip air transportation, economy class, from the residence of the grantee to Quito; $200 per month for room and board; and $50 for registration and textbooks. Application forms may be obtained in Latin America from the Directors of the Pan American Union offices in each country and, in the United States, from the Department of Technical Cooperation, OAS, Washington, D.C. 20006. Deadline for completed applications is May 1.

MAJOR ART EXHIBITS

Artists from 8th São Paulo Bienal Exhibit Works in United States

At the 8th São Paulo Bienal in November 1965, a jury appointed by the Inter-American Foundation for the Arts selected 41 works by 17 Latin American artists to appear in exhibitions throughout the United States. The show opened on June 7, 1966, in the gallery of the Time-Life building in New York City. Painters represented are Eduardo Mac Entyre, Fernando Maza, Rogelio Polesello, and Carlos Silva of Argentina; Hércules Barsotti, Arnaldo Ferrari, Fernando Lemos, Montez Magno, Yolando Mohalyi, Abraham Palatnik, Ernest Sérgio Quissak Jr., and Tomie Othake of Brazil; Ramón Vergara Grez of Chile; Emilio Hernández Saavedra of Perú; and Jacobo Borges, Francisco Hung, and Gerd Leufert of Venezuela. The exhibit is supported by Varig Airline, other Brazilian and North American companies, and for its time in Washington, D.C., by the IDB. In addition to the showing in New York City, the exhibit is appearing at museums and galleries in La Jolla, Calif.; New Orleans, La.; Miami, Fla.; Dartmouth College in Hanover, N.H.; and Washington, D.C.

Yale-Texas Exhibition of Latin American Art Goes to Mexico

The Yale-Texas Exhibition of Latin American art from 1800–1965 (see LARR I: 3, pp. 91–104) was on exhibit at the University of Arizona at Tucson during November and December 1966. Its last showing will be at the Palace of Fine Arts in Mexico City from February 9–April 9, 1967. The Mexican army will convey the pictures from Arizona to Mexico.

RECENT DEATHS

Stella R. Clemence, former specialist in Hispanic manuscripts, Library of Congress, died on April 16, 1966. During her 23 years as a member of the Library of Congress Manuscript Division, she compiled and edited the two volumes of the Harkness Collection on the conquest and colonization of Perú and México.

Francisco Antonio Encina, a Chilean historian, died in Santiago in September 1965.

He was the author of Historia de Chile desde la prehistoria hasta 1891 (1940–1952) in 20 volumes, of which Leopoldo Castedo made a Resumen. Among Encina's earlier works is his pioneering essay in socioeconomics, Nuestra inferioridad económica (1912). In 1961–1962 he published the last two volumes of a series of four on Bolívar y la independencia de la América Española.—L.G.C.
