

JOURNAL OF THE Royal Musical Association

VOLUME 133 PART 2 2008

CONTENTS

The Articulation of Virginity in the Medieval Chanson de nonne Lisa Colton	159
Opera for Sale: Folksong, Sentimentality and the Market Benjamin Goose	189
On Ballet at the Opéra, 1909–14, and La fête chez Thérèse Davinia Caddy	220
'Parisomania'? Jack Hylton and the French Connection Deborah Mawer	270
Review Articles
Representing Sonatas James Hepokoski and Warren Darcy, Elements of Sonata Theory Arnold Whittall	318
When did German Music Lose its Innocence? Stephen Rumph, Beethoven after Napoleon ; Jeffrey S. Sposato, The Price of Assimilation ; Celia Applegate, Bach in Berlin Ryan Minor	334

From 1st January 2009, the Journal of the Royal Musical Association will no longer be published by Oxford Journals. To ensure your continuous access to the journal please visit <http://www.informaworld.com/0269-0403> for further information.