

The Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies

31-34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PP
President: Professor Eric W. Handley, CBE, FBA, Hon. RA

The Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies was founded in 1879 to advance the study of Greek language, literature, history, art and archaeology. It has done this ever since by various means, chief among them being the annual publication of the Journal of Hellenic Studies and, since the 1950's, its supplement, Archaeological Reports, which are both supplied free of charge to members of the Society. Occasional monographs also appear in the series Supplementary Papers.

The Society also helps to maintain the Joint Library at 31-34 Gordon Square, in conjunction with the Roman Society and the Institute of Classical Studies. Membership of the Hellenic Society allows the reader to borrow (within the UK) up to four books at a time, either in person or by post. Members may also borrow slides from the Joint Library's extensive collection.

The Society also arranges an annual lecture series in London, and helps to arrange other lectures throughout the UK in collaboration with the various local branches of the Classical Association.

The Society aims to help those engaged in Hellenic Studies at all levels, and to this end it makes grants to schools, colleges, universities and individual students.

Membership is open to all, and there is a reduced rate for full-time students. New members of the Society are offered a 20% discount on all Hellenic Society publications apart from the current Journals, during the first year of their membership, and other members are offered a 10% discount at all times.

For current subscription rates and all further information please contact: The Secretary, Hellenic Society, 31-34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PP (tel./fax 0171-387 7495, e-mail helsoc@clus1.ulcc.ac.uk).

The Classical Association

The Classical Association has a worldwide membership and is open to all who value the study of the languages, literature, and civilisations of ancient Greece and Rome. It creates opportunities for friendly exchange and co-operation among classicists, encourages scholarship through its journals and other publications, and supports classics in schools and universities. Every year it holds an annual conference, and it sponsors branches all over the country which put on programmes of lectures and other activities.

The Classical Association has about 4,000 members. The annual subscription is £5; life membership is £105. Members receive Proceedings of the Classical Association once a year and a newsletter, CA News, twice a year. They may also subscribe at substantially reduced cost to the Classical Association journals Classical Quarterly, Classical Review, and Greece and Rome.

Applications for membership and subscriptions (cheques payable to 'The Classical Association') should be sent to the Treasurer, Richard Wallace, Department of Classics, Keele University, Newcastle under Lyme, Staffs. ST5 5BG. The Treasurer can also give information about journal subscription rates, and about the Association's other publications, including the Greece and Rome supplements New Surveys in the Classics.

ROMAN SOCIETY

HUGH LAST AND DONALD ATKINSON FUNDS

Applications for grants are invited for financial assistance towards the undertaking, completion or publication of work that relates to any of the general scholarly purposes of the Roman Society, which are to promote the study of the history, archaeology, literature and art of Italy and the Roman Empire, from the earliest times down to about A.D. 700. Normally this assistance will be given to applicants of post-doctoral status or the equivalent. Grants will not normally be made towards expenses incurred in the preparation of a doctoral or similar thesis. Applications for grants for conferences, colloquia and symposia will be considered only in exceptional circumstances.

Applications, together with two references, should be made before 15 January and sent to the Secretary, Roman Society, 31-34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PP. It is the responsibility of applicants to arrange for their references to reach the Society by the same date. Further particulars may be obtained from the Secretary.

HELLENIC AND ROMAN SOCIETIES

SLIDES COLLECTION

The Slides Collection contains over 6,600 coloured 35 mm slides covering a wide variety of subjects, including sites on the Greek mainland, the Greek islands, Cyprus, Rome, Italy and the Roman Empire, Etruscan tomb paintings, Greek vases, Roman frescoes and mosaics, the Roman army, and Roman Britain. Slides of artefacts form a large part of the collection and include bronzes, jewellery and vases as well as maps, plans, models and reconstructions. A detailed subject index is available. A Greek Slide Catalogue (1993) is available at £8 (posted), £7 (collected); a Roman Slide Catalogue (1994) is available at £7 (posted), £6 (collected) or both for £13 (posted), £11 (collected).

Individual slides, sets and filmstrips with notes may be hired by members. Filmstrips are also available for sale to members and non-members. Details of current charges may be obtained from the Keeper of Slides.

WINNINGTON-INGRAM TRAINEE LIBRARIAN POST

The Joint Library of the Hellenic and Roman Societies, run in conjunction with the library of the Institute of Classical Studies, is recognised as a premier international research library in Classics. Since its inception in 1953, the use of the Library has grown massively. This has sparked the need for a mission to raise £250,000 to secure the annual Library Traineeship in perpetuity. This post helps to keep the Library open six days a week, including Saturdays and evenings, thus catering particularly for readers outside London and its university.

A fund has been established in memory of Professor R. P. Winnington-Ingram, formerly Director of the Institute and Professor of Greek at King's College London, and has already attracted donations of over £146,000. If you would like to contribute to the fund, please send your contribution to The Director, Institute of Classical Studies (Winnington-Ingram Appeal), 31-34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PY.

Art and the Roman Viewer

The Transformation of Art from the Pagan World to Christianity

Jas Elsner

This book presents a fresh analysis of a major intellectual problem in the history of art: why did the arts of Late Antiquity move away from classical naturalism towards spiritual abstraction? By addressing the subtleties inherent in ancient viewing, this study enriches our understanding of an era of profound artistic change.

BARBARIANS WITHIN THE GATES OF ROME

A Study of Roman Military Policy and the Barbarians, ca.375–425 A.D.

Thomas S. Burns

A Selection of the History Book Club

A major work on Roman policy toward the barbarians during one of the most exciting and challenging periods in the history of the Roman Empire, when barbarian soldiers became part of the forces defending the Roman frontier and gradually its rulers. By the close of these five decades, the Western Empire—hence Western Civilization—had changed forever.

Making Men

Sophists and Self-Presentation in Ancient Rome

MAUD W. GLEASON

The careers of two popular second-century rhetorical virtuosos offer Maud Gleason fascinating insights into the ways ancient Romans constructed masculinity during a time marked by anxiety over manly deportment. In treating rhetoric as a process of self-presentation in a face-to-face society, Gleason analyzes the deportment and writings of the two Sophists—Favorinus, a eunuch, and Polemo, a man who met conventional gender expectations—to suggest the ways character and gender were perceived.

"Making Men is a delightful and illuminating book, and full of surprises for anyone who imagined that the Romans were hard men who knew exactly what manhood was all about."

The Sorrows of the Ancient Romans

The Gladiator and the Monster

This inquiry into the collective psychology of the ancient Romans speaks not about military conquest, sober law, and practical politics, but about extremes of despair, desire, and envy. Carlin Barton makes us uncomfortably familiar with a society struggling at or beyond the limits of human endurance.

"The main achievement of the author is a wealth of documentation of some rather odd-looking aspects of Roman culture. . . . [Barton] is especially stimulating on the subject of the gaze in the Roman context, on the dynamics of watching."—James Davidson, Journal of Roman Studies

Egypt in Late Antiquity

ROGER S. BAGNALL

This book brings together a vast amount of information pertaining to the society, economy, and culture of a province important to understanding the entire eastern part of the later Roman Empire. Focusing on Egypt from the accession of Diocletian in 284 to the middle of the fifth century, Roger Bagnall draws his evidence mainly from documentary and archaeological sources, including the papyri that have been published over the last thirty years.

"The most expansive study of Egyptian society in transition yet produced, . . . A tremendous contribution to our understanding of social, economic, and administrative activity in early Byzantine Egypt—and therefore to our knowledge of the late Roman Empire as a whole."—David Frankfurter, Bryn Mawr Classical Review

"This is an immensely authoritative and detailed work that for many years will be the standard scholarly book on Egypt in the fourth and fifth centuries."—Alan K. Bowman, Christ Church, University of Oxford

Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies

The Society is the leading organisation in the United Kingdom for those interested in the study of Rome and the Roman Empire. Its scope is wide, covering Roman history, archaeology, literature and art down to about A.D. 700. It has a broadly based membership, drawn from over twenty-five countries and from all ages and walks of life.

The Society supports

- an extensive programme of publication:
 - two annual publications—the Journal of Roman Studies, which contains articles and book reviews dealing with the Roman world in general, and Britannia, which has articles and reviews specifically on Roman Britain
 - two monograph series—the JRS and Britannia monographs (for further details see back page)
- a library of over 90,000 volumes and over 520 current periodicals, maintained jointly with the Hellenic Society and in conjunction with the University of London's Institute of Classical Studies. It has an international reputation as one of the world's foremost Classics lending libraries. It also houses a lending collection of over 6,600 slides
- summer schools, etc. by the annual award of grants
- archaeology, through grants for excavations and by organising a biennial conference
- schools, by the award of grants to help the teaching of all aspects of the Roman world
- a programme of public lectures in London, and others outside London arranged with local branches of the Classical Association

Membership is open to all; no entrance fee or professional qualification is required. Members are entitled to:

- receive annually either the JRS or Britannia or both
- receive advance notice of forthcoming monographs at special offer prices
- use the library and borrow the Society's books and slides, either in person or by post, while living or resident in the UK
- attend the Society's lectures, of which a programme is circulated in September
- purchase back issues of the journals at favourable rates (see back page)
