

ASPECTS OF AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

A symposium edited by Sydney D. Bailey. Foreword by Commander Stephen King-Hall. Contributors include D. W. Brogan, Henry Steele Commager, Thomas K. Finletter, Felix Frankfurter, Harold J. Laski, Allan Nevins, and Frederic A. Ogg. Crown 8vo, 207 pp. 85 cents.

"Sydney D. Bailey has assembled a galaxy of talent including some of the most distinguished names in American and British political science. . . . The entire volume is of great professional competence. . . ."—J. B. SHANNON, American Political Science Review.

"The list of contributors includes a very distinguished group of Englishmen and Americans. . . . A more realistic and authoritative discussion of American government and politics than many college texts in history or government. One can but wonder at the talents of an editor who was able to enlist such star performers."—American Historical Review.

"Well qualified writers cover almost every aspect of the subject. . . . An adequate, up-to-date introduction to the working of American government. . . . Gives an admirable discussion of this immensely important problem. . . . Can be warmly recommended to all who prefer their political science in bedside form."—The Times Educational Supplement.

"It is an excellent study. It is thorough, informed, and realistic. It calls on the insight of the best English and American political students."—Christian Science Monitor.

"This is a valuable compilation."—The Economist.

"Another contribution to trans-Atlantic understanding. . . . An admirable volume, which deserves a wide circulation."—New Statesman and Nation.

"Nothing hitherto published by the Society has more clearly fulfilled the aim of its founders. . . . The Society has assembled a brilliant team of writers."—Birmingham Post.

"An extremely useful symposium."—United Nations News.

"Anyone who reads this . . . would find the news from Washington less exasperatingly puzzling to read."—Manchester Guardian.

THE HANSARD SOCIETY

39 MILLBANK, LONDON. S. W. I.

WORLD POLITICS

A Quarterly Journal of International Relations

- Published under the auspices of the Yale Institute of International Studies . . .
- Devoted to the development of international relations as an integrated field of study . . .
- Designed especially to interest professional students of world affairs . . .

Price $5.00 per year $1.50 per copy

Address subscriptions to WORLD POLITICS
202 Hall of Graduate Studies, Yale University,
New Haven, Connecticut

JOURNAL of CENTRAL EUROPEAN AFFAIRS

Forthcoming Articles

- Sociology and Ethnography in Poland.....Theodore Bienenstok
Central Europe and the Middle East.....Joseph de Somogyi
The Case of an Eastern European Intelligentsia.....Alexander Hertz
Titoism: An Evaluation*Joseph Korbel*
Trotzky of the Nazi Party.....Alfred Werner
A Century of a Phantom: Panslavism and the Western Slavs*S. H. Thompson*

Published Quarterly at the University of Colorado
Boulder, Colorado

Yearly Subscription, until April 1, 1951, $4.50 Single copies, $1.25
after April 1, 1951, $5.00 Single copies, $1.50

THE SOVIET UNION

Background, Ideology, Reality

Published by the Committee on International Relations of the University of Notre Dame, Indiana

Waldemar Gurian, chairman of the committee and editor of the REVIEW OF POLITICS, has written the introductory article, From Lenin to Stalin. Other articles are: Historical Background of Soviet Thought Control by Michael Karpovich of Harvard; Methods of Soviet Penetration in Eastern Europe by Stephen Kertesz of Notre Dame; Soviet Exploitation of National Conflicts in Eastern Europe by Philip E. Mosely of Columbia; Aims and Methods of Soviet Terrorism by Vladimir Petrov of Yale; Economics of the Soviet Union by Naum Jasny of Stanford; Church and State in the Soviet Union by Nicholas Timasheff of Fordham; Church and State in Central Europe by Francis Dvornik of Harvard.

Price: $3.50

Address your order to:

University of Notre Dame Press

Notre Dame, Indiana