Hamid Ghodse, CBE, 1938–2012

With great sadness, we announce the sudden death of Professor Hamid Ghodse, who was Professor of Psychiatry and of International Drug Policy at the University of London. He held many other official positions on the national and international stage, and had been Editor of International Psychiatry since its inception. We will miss his wise counsel in the editing of this journal, which represents a legacy that will inspire future generations of psychiatrists.

International Psychiatry was originally published as (and subtitled) the Bulletin of the Board of International Affairs of the Royal College of Psychiatrists. Printed in the UK by Henry Ling Limited at the Dorset Press, Dorchester DT1 1HD.

The paper used in this publication meets the minimum requirements for the American National Standard for Information Sciences – Permanence of Paper for Printed Library Materials, ANSI Z39.48-1984.

Notice to contributors

International Psychiatry publishes original research, country profiles, mental health law profiles and thematic overviews, dealing with mental health policy, promotion and legislation, the administration and management of mental health services, and training in psychiatry around the world. Correspondence as well as items for the news and notes column will also be considered for publication. The journal aims to be a platform for work that is generally underrepresented in the literature, especially psychiatry research and opinion from low- and middle-income countries.

Manuscripts for publication must be submitted electronically to the Editor (ip@sghms.ac.uk).

Research papers and special articles printed in the journal may be no longer than 1500 words; at the Editor's discretion, longer versions of papers that have been successfully peer reviewed may be linked to the online version of the journal in manuscript form. Correspondence should be no longer than 500 words. The Harvard system of referencing should be used.

Manuscripts accepted for publication are copy-edited to improve readability and to ensure conformity with house style. Authors whose first language is not English are encouraged to contribute; our copy-editor will make any necessary corrections, in consultation with the authors.

Contributions are accepted for publication on the condition that their substance has not been published or submitted elsewhere. Once a paper is accepted for publication, all its authors are required to disclose any potential conflict of interest. Completion of the form developed by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors for this purpose (http://www.icmje.org/coi_disclosure.pdf) is mandatory.

About our peer-review process

All articles submitted will be peer-reviewed to ensure that their content, length and structure are appropriate for the journal. Research papers and special papers are reviewed by a minimum of two peers. Not all papers will be accepted for publication, but our peer-review process is intended to assist our authors in producing articles for worldwide dissemination. Wherever possible, our expert panel of assessors will help authors to improve their papers to maximise their impact when published.
