American Given Names

Their Origin and History in the Context of the English Language

George R. Stewart

George Stewart, a leading authority on place names, has now compiled a dictionary in which he explains the origin and usage of over 800 American 'given' or first names. A wide selection of first names is presented in the main dictionary. The author places each name in its historical and linguistic context, discussing its etymology, usage through history, emergence in America, associated nicknames, and frequency of use today. £7.50

The Interpretation of Ordinary Landscapes

Edited by D. W. Meinig

The study of the cultural meaning of landscapes is of increasing interest in several fields, notably geography, architecture and planning, environmental studies, and American studies. The book is the result of a programme organized by the author to open up the subject to a wider audience, and is the first to deal with the basic principles of 'reading and landscape'.

American Vistas

Volume I: 1607-1877

Volume II: 1877 to the Present

Edited by Leonard Dinnerstein and Kenneth T. Jackson

The third edition of this two-volume anthology of essays surveys the history of the United States from the colonial period to the present day. The essays have been selected for their scholarship, readability, and balanced coverage of each historical period. The new edition emphasizes social history, especially women's history, minority groups, immigration, the family, and population movements. Third edition paper covers Volume I, £3.50
Volume II, £3.75

Natives and Strangers

Leonard Dinnerstein, David M. Reimers, and Roger L. Nichols

In surveying American history from the colonial period to the present day this book provides an account of the history of minority groups. It discusses the role of the Indians, Blacks, the immigrant minorities in the building of modern America, and the emphasis is on economic growth – how the nation developed from a colonial society into a modern industrial, urban one, and the part played by the minorities in this development. Paper covers £3.25

The Oxford Book of American Light Verse

Edited by William Harmon

In this book the editor's aim has been 'to furnish a handy collection of enjoyable verses, which, as a mass, might remind the reader of certain durable features of the American people'. Included in the book are humourists like Ogden Nash, Mark Twain, Dorothy Parker, and Cole Porter; well-known poets, among them Emerson, Longfellow, Dickinson, Updike, Pound, and Ginsberg; and a selection of work of other famous writers such as Hemingway, Barth, Lardner and Gertude Stein. £7.50

Franklin D. Roosevelt and American Foreign Policy, 1932-1945

Robert Dallek

'Robert Dallek has written a well-organised and well-documented account of President Roosevelt's impact upon American foreign policy, making full use of much material, particularly American and British, recently made available.' Max Beloff in The Daily Telegraph. 'This book is an able and even exhilarating vindication of Roosevelt's policy.' The Economist. £11.50

American Negro Slavery

Edited by Allen Weinstein, Frank Otto Gatell, and David Sarasohn

Since the second edition of this reader was published in 1973 a whole new body of significant and at times highly controversial literature has appeared. The third edition includes selections from the most important of these works, providing an up-to-date historiographical collection for use by students of slavery, Black or ethnic history, Southern history, and the US Survey. Third edition paper covers £3.75

The Puritan Way of Death

David E. Stannard

This book discusses the problem of mortality for America's earliest New England settlers. Insights into philosophy, religion, art, and modern psychology support the author's research into tomb sculpture, personal diaries, religious tracts, and legislative decisions. He examines not only the place of death ritual in Puritan culture, but also the death of that culture itself as America moved into the Industrial Revolution and expanded westwards. Illustrated paper covers £2.25 Galaxy Books

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

- 1 All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia, Norwich NR4 7TJ, England.
- 2 Articles should generally contain about 5,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
- 3 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
- 4 Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing (including footnotes), preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
- 5 Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
- 6 Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
- 7 For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to the MLA Style Sheet (2nd ed.), or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
- 8 Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
- 9 Notes intended for the Editors or printer should be on a separate sheet.
- 10 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
- 11 Corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
- 12 Contributors of articles and review essays receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
- 13 Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
- 14 Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
