

Political Analysis

www.pan.oxfordjournals.org

Volume 13 Number 4

Autumn 2005

Contents

Special Issue on Multilevel Modeling for Large Clusters

Introduction to the Special Issue Orit Kedar and W. Phillips Shively	297
EDA for HLM: Visualization when Probabilistic Inference Fails Jake Bowers and Katherine W. Drake	301
Applying a Two-Step Strategy to the Analysis of Cross-National Public Opinion Data Karen Long Jusko and W. Phillips Shively	327
Estimating Regression Models in Which the Dependent Variable Is Based on Estimates Jeffrey B. Lewis and Drew A. Linzer	345
Institutional Context, Cognitive Resources and Party Attachments Across Democracies John D. Huber, Georgia Kernell, and Eduardo L. Leoni	365
Context and the Economic Vote: A Multilevel Analysis Raymond M. Duch and Randy Stevenson	387
How Diffusion of Power in Parliaments Affects Voter Choice Orit Kedar	410
Empirical Strategies for Various Manifestations of Multilevel Data Robert J. Franzese, Jr.	430
Two-Step Hierarchical Estimation: Beyond Regression Analysis Christopher H. Achen	447
COMMENTS
Multilevel Analyses of Comparative Data: A Comment Nathaniel Beck	457
Two-Stage Regression and Multilevel Modeling: A Commentary Andrew Gelman	459