

Oxford

◆Named an Outstanding
Academic Book of 1989-
1990 by Choice

Sport and the British

A Modern History

RICHARD HOLT,
University of Stirling

"Holt's lively and erudite book provides for both specialists and generalists an invaluable discussion of the heart of this empire....His timely synthesis of the most up-to-date research in the social history of sport is enhanced by his grasp of the varied and often-combative theoretical discussions about sport and society over the past decade."—American Historical Review

Paper 1990 424 pp.

paper $14.95 cloth $39.95

English History, 1815-1906

NORMAN McCORD, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Emeritus

This book is a study of the political, social, and economic history of England during the transformation of Britain from a predominantly rural society into the world's first industrial nation, 1815 to 1906.

1991 544 pp. paper $19.95 cloth $95.00

Gentlemen and Tarpaulins

J.D. DAVIES, Bedford Modern School

The first scholarly study of the Royal Navy during the reigns of Charles II and James II, this book assesses the traditional picture of the Restoration Navy in the light of recent scholarship, using the evidence not only of Samuel Pepys, but also that of his contemporaries.

1991 310 pp. $69.00

Parliament Under the Tudors

JENNIFER LOACH, Oxford University

This book is a study of the role and development of parliament throughout the Tudor period. Loach examines the constitutional position, political activities, and relationships of the two houses of parliament from the late middle ages until the accession of the Stuarts.

1991 184 pp. paper $17.95 cloth $49.95

◆New in paperback!

Hexaëmeron

ROBERT GROSSETESTE

Edited by RICHARD C. DALES, University of Southern California, and SERVUS GIEBEN O.F.M. CAP., Istituto Storico Cappuccini, Rome

"This critical edition marks the first time that the Hexaëmeron has been printed in its entirety, and it makes available the text of a work that is crucial for the understanding of philosophy and theology in the thirteenth century."—Church History
Paper 1991 408 pp. paper $39.95

The Revolutions of 1688

The Andrew Browning Lectures 1988

Edited by ROBERT BEDDARD, Oxford University
Studying the events and issues which dethroned the Catholic James II and enthroned the Protestant William and Mary, this volume makes an important contribution to the historiographical assessment of the revolutions of 1688 and their profound impact on subsequent history.

1991 320 pp. $69.00

◆New in paperback!

Ireland in the Age of Imperialism and Revolution, 1760-1801

R. B. McDOWELL, Trinity College, Dublin, Emeritus

"One cannot deny McDowell his due. As a classical historian he is a master of his craft, probably one of the best living Irish historians. He is thorough; he is intense...in many ways it is an original contribution."—Journal of Modern History

Paper 1991 750 pp. paper $39.95

Lancashire on the Scrapheap

The Cotton Industry, 1945-1970

JOHN SINGLETON, University of York

The first major study of the final phase in the history of the Lancashire cotton industry, from 1945 until the industry's absorption by the man-made fiber producers during the 1960s, Singleton concludes that the industry's collapse was inevitable in the absence of protectionist policies.

1991 272 pp. $89.00

Prices are subject to change and apply only in the U.S.

To order, send check or money order to: Social Sciences Marketing, Dept. KLH
To order by phone using major credit cards please call (212)679-7300, ext.7106

Oxford University Press

200 Madison Avenue ♦ New York, NY 10016

British History From St. Martin's Press

Henry VIII and the Invasion of France

Charles Cruickshank

In 1513, at the beginning of his reign, Henry VIII invaded France with his 'army royal.' The result of Henry's offensive was the occupation of Tournai. This book describes all the events related to this venture. Cruickshank draws on contemporary sources to examine the causes and results of the campaign, as well as to describe the Battle of the Spurs and the structure of the English army of the sixteenth century.

1990/224 pp./ISBN 0-312-05196-4 $35.00

The English Civil War

Maurice Ashley

Ashley has revised his classic study of one of the most exciting periods of English history. The mid-seventeenth century was a time of unique struggle between King and Parliament, High Church and Puritans, splitting aristocracy and gentry, family and friends. With these events came the rise to power of Oliver Cromwell and a complete reassessment of the English political system. After analyzing both the long-term and immediate causes of the war, Ashley traces the course of the war's military campaigns, examines the resources of both sides in the conflict, and in conclusion explains the political consequences of the war at home and overseas. This beautiful edition of one of the major histories of the period 1640-51 is illustrated with contemporary paintings, broadsheets and engravings.

1990/207 pp./ISBN 0-312-05198-0 $29.95

Culture, Politics and Society in Britain, 1660-1800

Edited by Jeremy Black and Jeremy Gregory

"The contributors are all concerned to develop historically sophisticated ways of analysing late 17th and 18th-century British culture in [a] social and political context . . . they explore the multiplicity of influences which shaped both the content and the form of such diverse artefacts as Caroline courtly satire, Anglican church music, Scottish Jacobite poetry, genteel family portraits, and hack historiography."

—Times Higher Education Supplement
1991/ISBN 0-7190-3435-3 $59.95
A Manchester University Press Book

British History in Perspective

The Restoration, 1660-1688

Paul Seaward

Seaward shows how the deep conflicts in English government, religion and society following the Restoration of the Monarchy led to a remarkable political revolution.

1991/180 pp./ISBN 0-312-04929-3 $45.00

The Causes of the English Civil War

Ann Hughes

This book is intended as a guide and introduction to the controversy over the causes of the English Civil War, including discussion of Revisionist and Post-Revisionist work.

1991/180 pp./ISBN 0-312-05226-X $39.95

St. Martin's Press

Scholarly and Reference Division
175 Fifth Ave., New York, NY 10010
1-800-221-7945

Manchester University Press Books are exclusively distributed by St. Martin's Press