It lists all the texts published in the annual volumes of the Legislative Series from 1919 to 1975, with the exception of those that are known to have been repealed, in alphabetical order to originating countries or territories.

The book includes a comprehensive review of the question of the ratification of ILO Conventions and its effects, and of the results achieved through the procedures for supervising the application of ILO standards.

International survey of civil liability of workers

This examination of the legislation and practice in the field of civil liability of workers for damage caused in the course of their employment has been prepared in response to the repeated concern about this matter expressed by ILO constituents. It is based on replies to a questionnaire that were received from the governments of 46 member States of the ILO and that also included, in the case of 17 of those States, information obtained by the governments from employers' and workers' organisations which they consulted.
