

Forthcoming Articles

Julian Emmanuel Zelizer (State University of New York, Albany) “‘Where Is the Money Coming From?’ The Reconstruction of Social Security Finance, 1939–1950”

Gareth Davies (Lancaster University), “Understanding the War on Poverty: The Advantages of a Canadian Perspective”

Martha J. Bianco, “The Decline of Transit: A Corporate Conspiracy or Failure of Public Policy? The Case of Portland Oregon”

Robert H. Zieger (University of Florida), “Historians and the U.S. Industrial Relations Regime”

Dean Kotlowski (Indiana University), “Nixon’s Southern Strategy Revisited”

Landon R.Y. Storrs (University of Houston), “‘A Subtle Program Come Down from the North’? The Controversy over Restriction Women’s Night Work in the Depression-Era South”

Special Issues

David Brian Robertson (University of Missouri, St. Louis), “Loss of Confidence: Politics and Policy in the 1970s” (Winter, 1998)

Otis Graham (University of North Carolina, Wilmington), “Environmental Policy” (Winter, 2000).

Hugh Hecló (George Mason University), “Religion, Politics, and Policy” (Winter, 2001)

PENN STATE PRESS

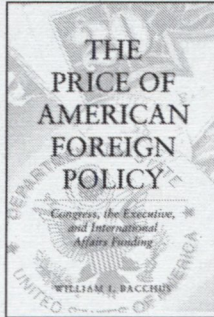

The Price of American Foreign Policy

Congress, the Executive, and International Affairs Funding

WILLIAM I. BACCHUS

"This book provides the first analytic framework for understanding the relation between Congress and the Executive branch on foreign affairs budgeting and offers examples which bring its points to light. It is must reading for anyone interested in understanding or influencing the course of American foreign policy."—Morton H. Halperin, Council on Foreign Relations

368 pages $18.95 paper

Health Care Policy in Contemporary America

EDITED BY ALAN I MARCUS AND HAMILTON CRAVENS

Essays that provide historical perspective on the development of U.S. health care policy over the last fifty years. Contributors are Amy Sue Bix, Hamilton Cravens, Gerald N. Grob, Alan I Marcus, Diane Paul, David Rosner and Gerald Markowitz, and James Harvey Young.

164 pages $15.95 paper
Issues in Policy History #7

Available in bookstores, or from
Penn State University Press
University Support Bldg. 1, Suite C
University Park, PA 16802-1003
Orders: 1-800-326-9180

Civil Rights and Social Wrongs

Black-White Relations Since World War II

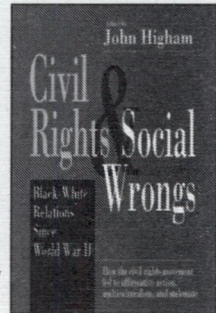

EDITED BY JOHN HIGHAM

"This balanced and judicious book addresses some of the burning questions of the late twentieth century. Skillfully orchestrated, it has the power to move the discussion along and sharpen the issues under debate in both the academy and in larger society."

—Melvin G. Holli

224 pages $28.50

Published in Association with the Balch Institute for Ethnic Studies

(Dis)Entitling the Poor

The Warren Court, Welfare Rights, and the American Political Tradition

ELIZABETH BUSSIÈRE

"(Dis)Entitling the Poor offers a novel historical and theoretical perspective regarding the restricted rights of poor citizens in our constitutional tradition. Bussière's analysis is subtle, compelling, and timely. It will make a significant contribution to ongoing debates about law, judicial politics, and social welfare policy in the United States."

—Michael McCann, University of Washington

222 pages $26.50

