Europe-Asia Studies

EDITOR

Roger Clarke, University of Glasgow, UK

Supported by a Board of Management, National Advisory Board and International Editorial Consultants

Following the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991, the Editors took the decision to change the title of the long-established Soviet Studies (published since 1949) to Europe-Asia Studies.

Europe-Asia Studies has maintained its reputation as the principal academic journal in the world devoted to the political, economic and social affairs of what were once the Soviet bloc countries, including their history during the Soviet period. At the same time the focus of the journal has diversified to reflect the way in which the transformation of the former Soviet countries' political and economic systems is affecting their relationship with the rest of Europe, and the growing links between what was Soviet Central Asia and other countries in both Europe and Asia. The comparison with the similar transformation taking place in China is a further addition to the general broadening of the field once known as Soviet Studies.

Sibirica

EDITORS

Cathryn Brennan, University of Aberdeen, UK

Alan Wood, University of Lancaster, UK

This journal is devoted to Russia in the Asia-Pacific region: the vast territories of Russia itself in the region, including Siberia and the Russian Far East, and also Russia's relations with other countries in the region, including Japan, China, Korea, and the United States, where Alaska was Russian territory for many decades. The region is of growing global importance, in economic terms, especially as a source of raw materials, and in strategic terms, with many unresolved disputes, including those between Russia and Japan over the Kurile Islands, and continuing Russian-Chinese rivalry. The many, varied aboriginal peoples of the region are of the greatest interest to scholars of anthropology and language; and the changing relationship between European Russia and its huge eastern territories is a key issue for political scientists of the former Soviet Union. Sibirica considers all aspects of the region - it is broadly based and pan-disciplinary, and draws on contributions from a wide range of subjects, including history, politics, international relations, strategic studies, economics, geography and environmental studies, sociology, ethnography, anthropology, language and literature, and cultural studies.

NATIONALITIES PAPERS is the only journal in the world which deals exclusively with all nationalities of the former USSR, and also with national minorities in Eastern and Central European countries. The problems and importance of over 140 million people are treated with the disciplinary and methodological contexts of Post-Soviet and Europe-Asia studies. Nationalities Papers is an international and multidisciplinary journal with contributors and readers throughout North America, Western and Eastern Europe, the Far East, Japan and the People's Republic of China. Included in each general issue are in-depth analyses from the historical view, updates on latest developments, some original documents, and book reviews; some issues concentrate on a region or nationality as a special topic, which exclusive focus allows for more extensive and detailed information.

Submission of manuscripts. Authors should send the final, revised version of their articles in both hard copy paper and electronic disk forms. It is essential that the hard copy (paper) version exactly matches the material on disk. Please print out the hard copy from the disk you are sending. Send as a Word or WordPerfect attachment to sosabol@email.uncc.edu or submit two printed copies of the final version with the disk to Steven Sabol, Nationalities Papers, Department of History, The University of North Carolina at Charlotte, Charlotte, NC 28223, USA. Save all files on a standard 3.5 inch high-density disk. We prefer to receive disks in Microsoft Word for Windows or WordPerfect, but can translate from most other common word-processing programs. Please specify which program you have used. Do not save your files as "text only" or "read only". For further details on Electronic Submission, please visit the Taylor & Francis Website at: <http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals>

Note to authors. Please make sure your contact address information is clearly visible on the outside of all packages you are sending to Editors.

Copyright. It is a condition of publication that authors vest copyright in their articles, including abstracts, in The Association for the Study of Nationalities. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors may, of course, use the article elsewhere after publication provided that prior permission is obtained from Taylor & Francis Ltd. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources.
