A Cool Eye Towards Eden
John WebsterREDUCED
PRICE

"... he uses an intelligent and readable mix of scientific findings, logic and reasoned opinion to discuss the needs of animals and to arrive at a huge range of recommendations for reforms. This is what makes it, in my view, essential reading for the activist or animal advocate whose own focus is on results for animals."

Animals Today

"Altogether the book is likely to become a milestone in the long struggle to gain recognition of animal's rights to consideration and fair treatment by those who exploit them. It should be in the library of every agricultural college and on the shelves of all who express a similar feeling"

Farm and Food News

Concern for animal welfare is widespread and has become a major political issue affecting agriculture and scientific research. This new book discusses the environmental requirements of farm animals, laboratory animals, wild animals and pets; their response to pain, injury and death; behaviour and aggression; and the implications of biotechnology and genetic engineering. The book tries to reconcile reverence for life with the inescapability of killing and reviews the prospects of preserving and enhancing the quality of life for animals with legislation, education and moral incentives.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

1. ANIMAL WELFARE accepts: Original articles, ie first reports of the author's own work. Interpretative articles based largely on the author's own work and ideas, but incorporating at times animal welfare aspects of previously published material. Review articles based largely on other scientists' work. Short communications of less than 2,000 words. These may be original, interpretative or review papers; factual accounts or field workers' practical experiences in dealing with welfare problems; constructive critiques of other papers, etc. Technical contributions from animal keepers, scientists, students, technicians etc, reporting practical methods of improving animal welfare.

Animal Welfare will not include papers based on work which involves unnecessary pain, distress, suffering or lasting harm.

2. Manuscripts should be in English, typewritten, double spaced on single-sided A4, with generous margins and pages numbered consecutively. Four copies plus a computer disk of any Apple Macintosh or IBM compatible package should preferably be submitted to the relevant Section Editor or to the Editor-in-Chief. Articles will be scrutinized by a minimum of two referees before being accepted or rejected.
3. Contents of articles. The title page should give the full title of the paper, the name(s) and address(es) of the author(s) and a short running head title. The full postal address, telephone and facsimile numbers of the correspondent should be given.
4. Text should include an abstract of not more than 250 words plus Keywords; an introduction and as appropriate, sections on methods, results, discussion, conclusion, acknowledgements and references. Animal welfare implications of the paper should be set out at the end of the text as a subdivision of the discussion or conclusion. Tables and figures should all be in Times font and on separate sheets; only their legends should be slotted into the appropriate place in the text.
5. Layout. The general style of articles should follow those in this issue in respect of headings, paragraphs, use of italics, quotation marks etc.
6. Numbers one to nine should be written in words unless they precede units of measurement. Numbers 10 and above should be written as numerals except at the beginning of a sentence. The 24 hour clock should be used for times of day, eg 1400h and if relevant, corrected to standard local time. Measurements should comply with the abbreviations in the International System of Units. Locations should be given as latitude and longitude. Per cent should be used in the main text except when in parentheses or in tables when % should be used.
7. References cited in the text should be carefully checked with those in the reference list and vice versa, particularly to ensure that the spelling of names and the dates match. In the text, references should be with the minimum of punctuation, for example:
 - '... carried out by Smith and Jones (1985) ...';
 - '... (Smith & Jones 1985) ...' ie use ampersand when reference is in parentheses;
 - '... (Smith 1985; Jones 1986)...' ie two or more references should be in chronological order;
 - '... (Smith et al 1985)...' ie use for three or more authors;
 - '... (Smith 1986a,b; 1988)...' ie by same author in the same and in a subsequent year.

Citations of personal communications and unpublished data should be avoided if possible.

References should be listed at the end of the text in alphabetical and chronological order of authors with the minimum of punctuation. Book and journal titles should be quoted in full and italicized or underlined to indicate italics. For example:

Boudreau P L and Tsuchitani C 1973 Sensory Neurophysiology. Van Nostrand Reinhold: New York
Eaton P 1987 Hygiene in the animal house. In Poole T B (ed) The UFAW Handbook on the Care and Management of Laboratory Animals, 6th edition pp 144-158. Longman Scientific & Technical: Harlow
Ross C 1988 The intrinsic rate of natural increase and reproductive effort in primates. Journal of Zoology 214: 199-219

8. Reprints. The author will be supplied with 50 free reprints. Further copies may be ordered at a cost.
9. Copyright. The copyright of each paper published becomes the property of UFAW and permission must be sought to reproduce any part or whole of the paper. However UFAW will not put undue limitations on the author to use the material in other works.
