The Czechoslovak Political Trials, 1950-1954

THE SUPPRESSED REPORT OF THE DUBCEK
GOVERNMENT'S COMMISSION OF INQUIRY, 1968

Edited by Jiri Pelikan. Suppressed after the Soviet invasion and subsequently smuggled out of the country, this report is a frank account of the staging and conduct of the show trials. It culminates in the trial leading to the execution of Party Secretary Slansky, and examines the failure of previous investigative commissions to reveal the truth or to rehabilitate the victims of the trials. Included is a section that pins responsibility for the trials on individual Communist leaders and party organs and a chapter proposing reforms to prevent future recurrences. $10.95

Labor and Society in Tsarist Russia

THE FACTORY WORKERS OF
ST. PETERSBURG, 1855-1870

Reginald E. Zelnik. This is the first of two volumes dealing with the rise of industrial labor in Russia during the reign of Alexander II. The author examines such topics as the debate on the "labor question" in educated society, the workers' living conditions, police attitudes, labor unrest, the role of industrialists and technicians, and official and unofficial attempts to improve the workers' lot. He concludes with a detailed account of St. Petersburg's first major strike. $15.00
