Looking for papers from an APSA Annual Meeting?

Download them from APSA's PROceedings websites. All APSA Annual Meeting presenters are asked to post their work online as part of the meeting proceedings. APSA makes these papers available online through a database that allows you to search for papers using a keyword, panel title, or author name. Continue the conversations started at the conference—download papers at your convenience and continue the debate! PROceedings is open to all individuals—not just meeting attendees or APSA members.

2010 Annual Meeting Papers on SSRN

For a second year, APSA will partner with the Social Science Research Network (SSRN) to advance the development of its online paper systems.

SSRN provides a solution that will improve the user experience dramatically and increase accessibility to materials produced at APSA conferences and by politicalscience.org collaboration partners. SSRN already hosts a large number of political science working papers and more than 200,000 papers across multiple disciplines. APSA is excited to work with SSRN. APSA meeting papers from 2009 are also available on SSRN. For more information on SSRN, visit www.ssrn.com.

Looking for Papers from Other Conferences?

Have you tried PROL? APSA, in partnership with a consortium of political science and related associations, makes over 30,000 conference papers available to you in one online resource called Political Science Research Online (PROL).

Political science conference papers from each partner are made available in a searchable format covering previous years. In the future, PROL will be the central resource for all political science preprints.

Find papers from many other conferences at

Philosophy for Perspectives on Politics

Perspectives seeks to nurture a political science public sphere, publicizing important scholarly topics, ideas, and innovations, linking scholarly authors and readers, and promoting broad reflexive discussion among political scientists about the work that we do and why this work matters.

A full-length copy of the editorial philosophy appears in Perspectives on Politics 8(1): 7–10 and also on the web at http://www.apsanet.org/content_44375.cfm.

Submission and Review

For submission guidelines, please see http://www.apsanet.org/content_44360.cfm.

Our editorial team discusses all submissions. Those that seem promising are evaluated by several external reviewers—with full confidentiality on both sides—and then accepted, returned for further revisions, or declined with suggestions of more appropriate venues for publication.

About APSA

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 15,000 members in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to expand awareness and understanding of politics.

The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities. We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing three distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, and PS: Political Science and Politics.
