ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

All students of early hexameter are very deeply indebted to Alberto Bernabé, Malcolm Davies, and the late M. L. West; their editions of early hexameter poetry have made the material far more accessible than it has ever been before. I am very happy to acknowledge more personal debts to Jonathan Burgess, Pat Easterling, Adrian Kelly, Simon Perris, Art Pomeroy, Christian Schäfer, Tatjana Schaefer, Michael Sharp, John Taylor, Stefano Vecchiato, and Alex Wilson, for a variety of help, pointers, and kind words of encouragement. Unfortunately, I was unable to make full use of Fantuzzi and Tsagalis' superb companion to The Greek Epic Cycle and Its Ancient Reception (2015) before finalizing the manuscript of the present book; I am grateful to Professor Tsagalis for kindly allowing me to read part of the introduction in advance of publication.

I also thank the endlessly helpful staff of the Interloans Department at Victoria University of Wellington library: without their professionalism and assistance I should never have been able to dream of obtaining all the material I have used.

Greek texts and translations of the Hesiodic corpus, Homeric Hymns and Lives, and most fragments of heroic and genealogical poems follow those in the Loeb editions of M. L. West (2003a, 2003b) and Most (2006, 2007) unless otherwise stated. Other translations are my own.
