GOVERNMENTS, MARKETS, AND GROWTH

Financial Systems and the Politics of Industrial Change

By JOHN ZYSMAN. The author makes a significant contribution to our understanding of critical international issues by demonstrating that there is a direct relationship between a nation's financial system and its government's ability to restart the growth engine. "Zysman has done a remarkable job analyzing a very difficult, neglected subject in a way which advances greatly both scholarly and general concerns."—Peter A. Gourevitch, University of California, San Diego. $24.50

AMERICAN INDUSTRY IN INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

Government Policies and Corporate Strategies

Edited by JOHN ZYSMAN and LAURA TYSON. The essays in this book lead to the disturbing observation that the U.S. has had only one policy option in response to international competitive difficulties—protectionist measures. The editors argue that the government should instead arm itself with a variety of policy instruments. Contributors: Laura Tyson, John Zysman, Michael Borrus, James E. Millstein, Vinod K. Aggarwal, Stephen Haggard, David B. Yoffie, David Friedman, Charles Sabel, Michael Piore. $34.95

INTERNATIONAL REGIMES

Edited by STEPHEN D. KRASNER. Fourteen distinguished specialists in international political economy thoroughly explore the concept of international regimes—the implicit and explicit principles, norms, rules, and procedures that guide international behavior. Contributors: Benjamin J. Cohen, Jock A. Finlayson, Ernst B. Haas, Raymond F. Hopkins, Robert Jervis, Robert O. Keohane, Stephen D. Krasner, Charles Lipson, Donald J. Puchala, John Gerard Ruggie, Arthur A. Lectures on International Trade

Jagdish N. Bhagwati and T. N. Srinivasan

This textbook by two eminent theorists of international trade presents the most integrated and ambitious treatment of the subject available to date. Its thirty-four chapters focus on pure rather than monetary theory. Grouped in four parts, they address: alternative models and theories explaining the trade pattern; tariffs, quotas, and transfers; the theory of trade and welfare; trade and growth, two-ness and duality, cost benefit analysis and uncertainty.

Third World Multinationals

The Rise of Foreign Investment from Developing Countries

Louis T. Wells, Jr.

Third-World Multinationals explores the question of why firms based in developing countries have chosen to invest in branches, joint ventures, and wholly-owned subsidiaries overseas rather than simply export goods or enter into licensing arrangements abroad. The author is Herbert F. Johnson Professor of International Management at the Harvard Business School.

Banking on the Poor

The World Bank and World Poverty

Robert L. Ayres

“Tails are not allowed to wag dogs in Robert Ayres’ book. He stands squarely in the middle ground, adopting ‘a realist’s defense of the Bank as a reformist institution.’ . . . Under [his] microscope, the World Bank emerges with a kind of low-key credit that a cautious reformist intends as high praise. His book is thorough, his approach measured: there are no conspiracies, no monoliths, no big failures (and no big successes either). It sounds quite plausible, and it is.”

Economic Interdependence and Flexible Exchange Rates

edited by Jagdeep S. Bhandari and

Bluford H. Putnam, with Jay H. Levin

The eighteen essays (all but two are original) in this book explore what the shift from fixed to flexible exchange rates has meant for world economic interdependence and seek to clarify what has become an extremely complex system.

JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

— One step ahead of the latest headlines —

Summer 1982

Volume 36/1

The Rights of Indigenous Peoples

The Journal specializes in exploring topics often ignored in standard geo-political or third world paradigms. With verve and insight, the authors in this volume delineate one of the world's most pressing issues: what are the rights of indigenous peoples in an international system that has largely forgotten them? Written with compassion, but avoiding rhetoric, these articles present constructive policy suggestions that show how this problem can be solved.

- The Self-Determination of Indigenous Peoples Within the International Legal Process GUDMUNDOR ALFREDSSON
- Canada's New Constitution and the Indians of Saskatchewan ELLEN ANDERSON
- Ethnic Minorities and the Sandinist Government JOHN N. BURSTEIN
- The Indians and the Brazilian Frontier DANIEL GROSS
- International Autonomy or Independence?
- New Caledonia's Melanesians JEAN GUIART
- Venezuelan Indian Policy NELLY ARUELA JIMENEZ
- The Yanomamis: Portrait of a People in Crisis SHELLY KELLMAN
- The Andean Contrast FRANK SALOMON
- Peruvian Indian Policy RICHARD CHASE SMITH
