SARDIS

Publications of the American Society for the Excavation of Sardis.

Vol. X: Terra-cottas; Part I: Architectural Terra-cottas.

By T. L. SHEAR.

With 15 colour plates and 22 figures. Royal 4to. £3 3s net.

This study is based on the results of excavations at Sardis made by the author in 1922 and on available records of earlier excavations. The twenty-five tiles described have been arranged in three groups. The first includes three pieces which are archaic in appearance and have a colour scheme consisting chiefly of black on white, with figures outlined in black. The characteristics of the second group are a free use of a dark purplish red in addition to black and white, and the presence of primitive geometrical designs and of early egg and dart patterns. The third group is marked by the appearance of a bright red colour, in addition to black, on the white ground, and by a skilful execution of elaborate designs.
