DURHAM PRIORY 1400-1450

D. B. DOBSON

Making extensive use of the Durham monastic archives, Dr. Dobson provides a detailed impression of life within one of medieval England's greatest institutions. He analyzes all aspects of the community's life from the financial, administrative and political factors to the personal backgrounds of the monks themselves and the quality of monastic learning.

HERESY AND OBEDIENCE IN TRIDENTINE ITALY: CARDINAL POLE AND THE COUNTER REFORMATION

DERMOT FENLON

In studying Cardinal Pole's career in Italy, his involvement in the Council of Trent and his share in the vain attempt to obtain reunification with the Protestants, Dr. Fenlon examines the crisis faced by the Catholic Church and its adherents in the Reformation—the conflict exemplified in Pole's personal experience, and that of the groups among which he moved, between obedience to the established ecclesiastical order and sympathy with Luther's tenets.

THE SCOTTISH REFORMATION

GORDON DONALDSON

A history of the Scottish Reformation from its origins at the end of the Middle Ages through the establishment of Presbyterianism in the latter part of the sixteenth century. Professor Donaldson gives particular attention to church government—the parish ministry, the problems of episcopacy, the General Assembly and relations with England.
