IN THE WAKE OF CONTACT

BIOLOGICAL RESPONSES TO CONQUEST

Editors: Clark Spencer Larsen and George R. Milner

This volume offers an authoritative overview of recent bioanthropological investigations of the demographic and epidemiologic consequences of the European influx into the Americas and the Pacific Islands. This fascinating work addresses in detail such areas as disease transmission, dietary changes, and cultural impact.

Each chapter in the book focuses on either a specific geographic region or ethnic population. Assembling data from archaeological and skeletal remains, the text provides a detailed account of the complex changes experienced by a population over time.
