FOLK MEDICINE, MAGIC AND WITCHCRAFT

The Department of Arts and Humanities, University of California Extension, Los Angeles, in co-operation with the Center for the Study of Comparative Folklore and Mythology, recently organized a new course. Entitled 'Folk Medicine, Magic and Witchcraft', it comprised a unique series of lectures given by experts from representative universities and colleges in Southern California. The programme was co-ordinated by Wayland D. Hand, Director of U.C.L.A.'s well-known Center for the Study of Comparative Folklore and Mythology. Dr. Hand is soon to spend three months in the Wellcome Historical Medical Museum in London, where he will work on the Museum's large collection of folk-lore materials.

The course included lectures on the following topics: 'Temple Healing in Antiquity' by Professor C. D. O'Malley; 'Chaucer and Alchemy' by Albert Friedman; 'Magical Transfer and Divestment of Disease' by Wayland D. Hand; 'Astrology' by Gibson Reaves; and 'Medical Traditions in the Indo-European World' by Jaan Puhvel.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF THE HISTORY OF PHARMACY

The Edward Kremers Award for distinguished pharmaco-historical writing by an American will be conferred upon Dr. Sami K. Hamarneh, Curator, Division of Medical Sciences, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C. The President of the American Institute of the History of Pharmacy, William H. Helfand of Philadelphia, will present the award to Hamarneh during the Institute's 25th Anniversary Luncheon at the annual meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Association at Dallas, Texas.

Hamarneh receives the award 'for his meticulous scholarship and important revisionary interpretations concerning the history of pharmacy in Islamic culture.' As exemplifying this contribution, the Institute's Committee on Awards cited 'The Rise of Professional Pharmacy in Islam,' published in Medical History, 1962, 6; 59-66. The Committee also pointed to Hamarneh's steadily growing contribution to the history of pharmacy in the form of numerous bibliographical and historical articles of high merit relating to Islamic pharmacy, including his book (with Glenn Sonnedecker as co-author) A Pharmaceutical View of Abulcasis al-Zahrawi in Moorish Spain (Leiden, 1963).

An American born in Jordan, Hamarneh earned his B.S. degree in pharmacy at the Syrian University at Damascus. He subsequently received his M.S. degree from the School of Pharmacy at North Dakota Agricultural College, and his Ph.D. (with a joint major in the history of pharmacy and the history of science) at the University of Wisconsin. He joined the Smithsonian Institution in 1959.

Given for the first time in 1962, the Edward Kremers Award honours the memory of Edward Kremers (1865–1941), pioneer of American pharmaceutical education, distinguished American historian of pharmacy, and one of the founders of the American Institute of the History of Pharmacy. The award is made by the Institute, upon recommendation of a committee of professional historians, for a specific original publication or a series of related articles (including manuscripts) pertaining primarily to historical or historico-social aspects of pharmacy.

CLIO MEDICA

ACTA ACADEMIAE INTERNATIONALIS HISTORIAE MEDICINAE

The first issue of this new quarterly international journal devoted to the history of medicine and biology was published in January 1966. It is the official journal of the International Academy of the History of Medicine, whose President, Professor Marcel Florin, is the Honorary Editor. He is assisted by Professor Erna Lesky, Director of the Institute of the History of Medicine in Vienna, and the following editorial board: Professor L. Belloni (Milan), Professor J. Granjel (Salamanca), Professor P. Huard (Rennes), Professor C. D. O'Malley (Los Angeles), Professor B. Petrov (Moscow), Dr. F. N. L. Poynter (London), and Dr. Jean Théodoridès (Paris). The official languages of Clio Medica are English, French, German, Italian, Russian, and Spanish.

All enquiries regarding subscriptions should be addressed to the publishers (The Pergamon Press, Oxford).

The Editor would be grateful for advance notices and programmes of any symposia, lectures, or society meetings on the history of medicine for annotation in these pages.
