Whether EZER WEIZMAN is a dove or just a hawk with a chemistry that makes him tolerable to opponents is much debated. URI AVENERI offers an in-depth portrait of this controversial Israeli leader.... JACQUES CHIRAC, it is agreed, is the most potent leader of the "Right" in France. But JEFFREY ROBINSON makes clear that the French "Right" is an intriguingly slippery creature.... MICHAEL NOVAK assesses the American conservative tradition that suddenly finds itself center stage.... WOLFHART PANNENBERG offers a troubled and troubling report on a recent meeting of the WORLD COUNCIL OF CHURCHES in Bangalore, India.... THOMAS ROBBINS asks whether, given recent and successful psychiatric defenses, "murder" is still an operative concept in American jurisprudence.... Economist JEREMIAH NOVAK explores the "geopolitics of the dollar" and argues that a restructuring of the international balance of power is not impending—it has already happened.... RICHARD JOHN NEUHAUS explains why the Jonestown disaster puts political utopianism, not religion, on the defensive.... And much, much more, suggesting that this is the month to enter a gift subscription for someone open to the serious exploration of ethics and social change.
