Igor Stravinsky

On the occasion of Stravinsky's eightieth birthday Boosey & Hawkes have published new study scores of two outstanding operas.

Le Rossignol, first performed in Paris on 26 May 1914, was composed between 1909 and 1914 and is here presented in a revised version.

The Rake's Progress, the first performance of which took place on 11 September 1951 in Venice, was composed between 1949 and 1951.
