

A comprehensive and richly illustrated history of one of the most important athletic, religious, and political sites in the ancient Greek and Roman world

“Well researched, well illustrated, well written, and often provocative, this is the first synoptic cultural history of Olympia in English. It’s an indispensable resource for anyone interested in the greatest and most famous of ancient Greek sanctuaries.”

—Andrew Stewart, University of California, Berkeley

An intellectual history of the late Roman Republic—and the senators who fought both scholarly debates and a civil war

“An impressively broad-ranging and novel take on the many intellectual currents of the late Roman Republic. . . . Volk magisterially elucidates the extent to which Roman elites coupled intellectual curiosity and civic tradition amidst the insurmountable political crisis of the Republic’s final years.”

—Christopher van den Berg, Amherst College

THE CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION

The Classical Association (based in the UK) has a worldwide membership and is open to all who value the study of the history, civilisations, languages, art, material culture and legacy of ancient Greece and Rome and the broader ancient Mediterranean. It creates opportunities for friendly exchange and co-operation among classicists, encourages scholarship through its journals and other publications, and supports Classics in schools and universities. Every year it holds an annual conference, and it sponsors branches all over the country, which put on programmes of lectures and other activities.

Classical Association members receive two issues of Omnibus magazine and the Presidential Address each year. They may also subscribe at substantially reduced cost to the Classical Association journals The Classical Quarterly, The Classical Review and Greece & Rome. The Journal of Classics Teaching is freely available online.

For more information about membership please see the Classical Association's website: <https://classicalassociation.org/> or contact the Secretary, The Classical Association, Cardinal Point, Park Road, Rickmansworth, WD3 1RE, UK +44(0)7926 632598, e-mail: office@classicalassociation.org. The Secretary can also give information about the reduced journal subscription rates and about the Association's other occasional publications.

THE CLASSICAL REVIEW

The Classical Review publishes informative reviews from leading scholars on new work covering the languages, literature, history, archaeology, philosophy and reception of ancient Greece and Rome and Asia Minor. Producing hundreds of high-quality reviews every year, The Classical Review is an indispensable reference tool, essential for keeping abreast with current classical scholarship.
