Claude Schumacher

ISBN 0 947584 18 8

£15.00

This substantial volume collects together the papers which were delivered to the 10th World Congress of the International Federation for Theatre Research held at the University of Glasgow in September 1985. Thirty-two papers are presented here by contributors from as far apart as New York, Copenhagen, Missouri-Kansas City and Abo. The volume also includes fifty-four photographic illustrations to accompany the text. This is a major collection of contemporary thinking about the theatre and theatrical production by leading international scholars and theatre practitioners.

CHOOSING PLAYS - THE CONDITIONS OF ARTISTIC CHOICE AT THE CITIZENS' THEATRE, GLASGOW 1969-1985 THE JAMES ARNOTT MEMORIAL LECTURE

By Giles Havergal

ISBN 0 047584 20 X

£1.45

This is a revised version of Giles Havergal's address to the 10th World Congress of the International Federation for Theatre Research. Written by one of the co-directors of the world famous Citizens' Theatre, this lecture gives a unique insight into the development of the theatre to a position of international acclaim. Giles Havergal candidly reveals the kind of pressures under which the theatre has had to operate including financial restrictions, the limits determined by the physical shape of the building, its location, the audience, the business structure of the theatre as well as its constitutional structure. As he discusses these issues Giles Havergal also makes illuminating remarks about specific productions and works.

Dangerous Matter

English Drama and Politics in 1623-4

JERZY LIMON

This book investigates the relationship between literature, politics and censorship, with special reference to five plays which appeared in London during the 1623-4 season. Dr Limon shows how the plays can be treated as part of a propaganda campaign supporting Prince Charles's opposition to certain policies of James I.

Shakespeare and the Victorian Stage

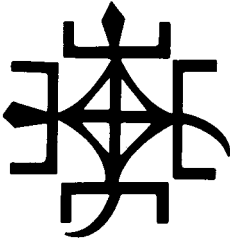

RICHARD FOULKES

This is the first full account of the importance of Shakespeare in the theatre and cultural life of the Victorian period, during which his plays attracted new audiences both in England and abroad. This book explores the changing styles of acting and staging used in productions of Shakespeare's plays, and the influence of Shakespeare on Victorian dramatists, painters and composers.

The new Oxford Shakespeare

William Shakespeare: The Complete Works

General Editors: Stanley Wells and Gary Taylor

This major new edition of Shakespeare's complete works is the result of the most fundamental rethinking of the text and presentation of the works ever undertaken. The nature and authority of the early documents have been thoroughly re-examined, and the canon and chronological order of composition freshly established. Spelling and punctuation are modernized, and there is a brief introduction to each work as well as an illuminating and informative General Introduction.

Elegantly designed and handsomely bound, the new Oxford Shakespeare combines superb presentation with first-class scholarship in an edition which will be used and referred to by students, scholars, general readers, actors, and directors, for many years to come.

THEATRE RESEARCH / RECHERCHES THEATRALES

The International Federation published the journal Theatre Research/Recherches Théâtrales from 1959 to 1975 when it was succeeded by Theatre Research International. During these years many important articles of original research were published covering the whole field of theatre history from the earliest times, and particularly Shakespeare and the Elizabethan period, to more recent figures such as Strindberg, Craig and Beckett. There have been special issues on the themes of Opera, the Playwright as Director, and Reinhardt; a check-list of world theatre on records; and reports on International Conferences and Symposia of the I.F.T.R.

In all 14 volumes were published in 36 issues including a complete index. Most back issues are still available.

University and institutional libraries, and especially those who have subscribed to the new journal Theatre Research International, are recommended to take this opportunity of completing their holding of the earlier issues of this publication, while copies last.

Price: per issue £2 ($3); per volume £4 ($6) plus postage

A few complete runs of the 14 volumes (with two issues in facsimile) are available at £50 ($75). Postage extra.
